TWICE PROVEN.

If you suffer backache, sleepless nights, tired, dull days and distressing urinary disorders, don't experiment. Read this twice-told testimony. It's convincing evidence—doubly proven.

E. J. Viele, retired farmer, St. Paul, Neb., says: "For years I was subjected to sharp, shooting pains over my kidneys and often my back was so weak and lame I could scarcely stoop over or lift anything. My kidneys were disordered and caused me much annoyance. Doan's Kidney Pills took away all the pains and aches and made my back strong and well. I was relieved of the trouble with my kidneys and again could work in comfort." (State ment given May 4, 1916.)

On April 10, 1916 Mr. Viele said: "Sometimes when I have caught cold I have noticed a slight return of the old trouble. I have always used Doan's Kidney Pills and have never failed to receive prompt relief."

CHOLERA MORBUS.

This is a very painful and dangerous disease. In almost every neighborhood someone has died from it before medicine could be obtained or a physician summoned. The right way is to have a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house so as to be prepared for it. Mrs. Charles Eneyart, Huntington, Ind., writes: "During the summer of 1911 two of my children were taken sick with cholera morbus. I used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy and it gave them immediate relief."

Everybody likes to see an exciting show and that is the kind West Bros. Big Show, "A Texas Ranger," will be when it is shown here next week in their big water-proof tent, which seats more than 2,000 people. This show is on the spectacular order and shows the dash of dare-devil braves, the cunning of the redskin and the treachery of the Mexican; the many startling surprises of the Texas Rangers and the Cowboys and the scenes in the camp of the Indians and the big battles during the attack, defense and rescue of the stockade fort. As this show comes well recommended from other towns where they have recently played, they will doubtless have a big crowd here. Their Cowboy Band is to play two concerts on the day of the show.

TOO THIN-SKINNED.

Some mollycoddles and a few dyed-in-the-wool democrats are over-fearful that something may be said that may be construed to be opposition to the administration war policy, and there is the intimation that such action and such criticism may be sinisterly partisan on the part of republican editors and speakers.

There is no ground for such fears, no cause for such intimations.

Man for man, newspaper for newspaper, congressman for congressman, the support of Woodrow Wilson has been proportionately larger, and undeniably stronger, from republicans than from democrats. While the latter, many of them with an eye single to the loaves and fishes, were yelling their heads off to "stand by the president" during the late campaign, because "he kept us out of war," and were in great wrath when it was truthfully stated by the opposition press that a little more vim and vigor at the very outset of the Mexican troubles would have ended them speedily, and at the same time would doubtless have been such an object lesson to Germany as would have prevented her numerous aggressions and insults that have led up to present war conditions between Germany and the United States, it is mainly democratic congressmen and democratic editors who have been leaders in the opposition to the administration war plans.

It is ill-timed as well as untruthful for anybody at this period to make the charge of unfair politics. There is nothing unfair in just and honest criticism. If an injection of partisan politics is introduced in management of war affairs with an evident design to create a bureaucracy; to make additional places and jobs for "deserving democrats;" to reject the proffered services of a distinguished and patriotic citizen, an ex-president on account of political prejudices; to ask unlimited public money to be used without specified congressional authority and without any adequate board or commission on the conduct of the war to prevent the possible inefficiency, leaks, wastefulness, extravagance and perhaps dishonesty that have not been unknown in former years—the calling attention to these matters constitutes no element of opposition to the administration, no exploiting of mean partisanship and no disloyalty to government.

Directing attention to any inefficiency, any narrow partisanship, any apparent disposition to make the horrors and cost of war contributory to partisan advantage, or any evident attempt of anybody to profit dishonestly through war contracts, is so far from being dishonorable or disloyal that it is patriotic duty and a "standing by the president" that is worth while. —Mansfield (Ohio) News.
