HURRAH FOR MIKE MCNAMARA.

Washington, June 20.—There's a little spot in Ireland that Michael McNamara had in his "mind's eye" for a long time—thirty years, in fact. All that time Michael was obeying orders, drilling, campaigning, and doing the hundred-and-one things that fall to the lot of the American marine. Michael finished his time, retiring with the rank of "Sarjint major, no less," and went back to that little spot in County Mayo. Then came our participation in the war. Did Michael stay retired? He did not! He came right back on the S. S. St. Louis, paying his own fare, and went directly to the U. S. Marine Corps Headquarters to volunteer his services.

McNamara could have signed up with some Irish regiment for, despite his fifty-odd years, he is still a "foine broth ar a boy." Instead, he braved the submarines to fight under the flag that for thirty years he had called his own. Michael has a bit of the stuff of which loyal Americans and heroes are made.

She says: "I think Doan's Kidney Pills are well worthy of praise. I used them only on two occasions and they brought the best results. I used to be troubled by my kidneys and at times my feet and ankles swelled. I also had occasional attacks of backache. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Swanson's Drug store, and I have had no need of a kidney medicine of late." Price 50 cents at all dealers. Why We Must Pay Reasonable Dividends

We aim to extend our system of local and long distance lines and add to our equipment from time to time to meet the requirements of the public for telephone service.

To make these extensions, we must obtain each year a considerable sum of money from the investing public. We do not make extensions out of profits as it is usually done in a private business.

Unless we paid a reasonable return on the money now invested in our property, we could not get the new money needed each year for additions to our plant.

The investing public must feel confident that their money placed in our securities will bring them a reasonable return regularly or they will not buy more of our stock or bonds, through the sale of which we get money for extensions.

Springfield, Nebraska, to Get Fine New High School. Building Designed by Firm of Omaha Architects.

At a recent election, held at Springfield, Neb., $25,000 worth of bonds were voted for the erection of a high school building, and from the offices of the Bankers Realty Investment Company, the big firm of architects and builders which is making the architectural plans and under whose supervision this building is to be erected, comes the announcement that work is to be commenced as quickly as bids can be taken and the contract let.

The Bankers Realty Investment Company, the firm of architects and builders which is at the present time handling the design and construction of hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of buildings in Nebraska and Iowa, including apartment, bank and modern hotel buildings, devotes considerable attention in its architectural department to school architecture. In fact, Mr. P. W. Fitzpatrick, this company's supervising architect whose fame as an architect is international, is considered an authority on educational matters, having devoted many years not only to school architecture, but to a careful analysis of educational systems as they exist in many of the world's foremost countries.

Among other school buildings designed by this company are those at Ewing, Sidney, Yutan, and Red Cloud, Neb., and all are noted for their model arrangements, especially designed for efficiency in the conduct of school work amid pleasant and healthful surroundings.

CHURCH NOTES.

Methodist.
President Wilson has approved the plan for the Sunday schools of America to observe Sunday July 1st as Patriotic Sunday when an offering is to be taken for the American Red Cross society. Methodist Sunday schools will be asked to raise $100,000. We want to do our share. Let us be prepared that day. "What's your opinion of those plans to rule the world under a system of 'Kultur'?" I'm not expressing my opinion just now" was the reply. "My boy has enlisted, mother and the girls are busy with the Red Cross work, and I'm due to coax this old field into the biggest crop it ever turned out. I don't feel there is no such luxury as an opinion comin' me." Help the Red Cross. Help our Sunday School make a nice showing.

Sunday was a big day with us. The church was well occupied to hear the fine message of Dr. Gettys and packed at night to hear the patriotic address by Dr. Isham. Next Sunday at 10:30 Mrs. Beebe will occupy the pulpit. You want to hear her message and everyone is cordially invited. They always say they would like for the pastor to take another layoff if the pastor's wife will preach. The pastor will be attending campmeeting at Epworth Park, Lincoln, and will be home for services on July 1. Mrs. Beebe will also speak at Wiggle Creek at 3:30 Sunday afternoon. Union young people's meeting led by Miss Emma Rowe at the Presbyterian church at 8:00 o'clock Sunday evening. Everybody is invited. Dr. Isham conducted the last quarterly conference for the year Sunday evening. Good reports were handed in by the different officials. Their faithfulness made it possible.

THE SLACKER.

It's most unpleasant to be shot or slashed up with a sword; when bat- tles rages, loud and hot, the tinhorn man is bored. His neighbors gallop to enlist, all eager for the fray. "I'll stay at home," he says. "I wish I have no wish to slay." And while the war is going on, and brave men sternly fight, he loaf's at ease upon his lawn, and sleeps in bed at night. He's thankful that the stress and strife are far removed from him, that he can lead a peaceful life in times that are so grim. But when the battles all are done, and peace is here again, and from the scenes of triumph won return the fighting men, when to their homes the heroes jog, with laurels on each brow, oh, happier a yellow dog than is the slacker now! "From danger's path I was exempt," the slacker off hath said, "but now men view me with contempt—I would that I were dead! I would that I had sought the scrap, and sailed in, hit or miss; and if they'd shot me off the map, 'twere better far than this!" Ere you succumb to craven fears, to dread of strife and pain, think of all the future years and of the world's disdain.—Walt Mason.

On chicks. These parasites sap the very life blood out of them. Dust the hen at night with B. A. Thomas' Louse Killer and your troubles are ended. It also kills bugs on cucumber, tomato, and squash vines. We sell it to you and if it does not make good, we will.—J. J. Slominski, Loup City, Neb.

Sells for less and pays the freight

To Our Friends And Customers

In order that you may know the reasons why lumber is costing more today than it did one year ago, we offer for your consideration the following facts:

Everything which goes into the manufacture of lumber has doubled and trebled in value, machinery, saws, tools, chains, and everything made of iron or steel are costing more than was ever known before. Feed for teams is at prices nearly prohibitive. Harness, belting and everything else made of leather is likewise and the sawmills are paying higher wages. The demand for lumber has grown by leaps and bounds. For some time buyers from the northern and eastern states remained out of the market, thinking it would weaken, but on the contrary, it steadily advanced and when actual conditions became known they bought in large quantities and paid fancy prices for quick shipments.

The United States and Allied Governments are using millions of feet for war purposes. Work has begun on one thousand merchant vessels to be built entirely out of wood.

The above are some of the reasons why lumber costs more than it did one year ago, but have you stopped to think that a bushel of wheat, oats or corn will buy more lumber and building material than it would last year.

We do not look for a decline in prices any time soon. If you expect to build, do it NOW while our stocks are in shape to supply your requirements.

Yours very truly,

Hansen Lumber Co.
