IT CONCERNS ALL

The man, woman or minor who is not concerned as to the outcome of the present struggle is to be pitied and enlightened. He or she is really unconcerned through ignorance. They have failed entirely to grasp the true inwardness of the situation confronting us as a people.

Let us suppose that the history of our country were to end with the present generation. Does any one imagine that our statement would be material to those interested in the settlement of the questions in dispute. Hardly.

Naturally, then, it is mainly the future of the country that is to be considered. What that future is to be will depend upon our action now.

It is to the credit of the American people that they have always had a clear vision of the duty of the present generation to posterity. That vision was responsible for the Revolutionary war. It was the stimulus in the war of 1812. And when the Mexican question assumed grave proportions the same thought was at the fore in the national mind.

What can be said then, of the young man or woman who is not concerned over the outcome of this struggle? That they have no concern for the best interests of their own. Present ease and comfort weighs more with them than the future of their children, or of the race in general.

No nation of people can ever come into their own until present can be subordinated to future. No present is ever entirely what it should or could be. By the sacrifice of the present we stand a chance of realizing on the future. If all else is to be subordinated to the present, there is every possibility of there being no future worthy of the name.

It is plain enough how we were forced into the war. The extraordinary insults and aggressions of the Imperial German Government left us no self-respecting choice but to take up arms in defense of our rights as a free people and of our honor as a sovereign government. The military nation of Germany denied us the right to be neutral. They filled our unsuspecting communities with vicious spies and conspirators and sought to corrupt the opinion of our people in their own behalf. "Much as we had desired peace, it was denied us, and not of our own choice. This flag under which we serve would have been dishonored had we withheld our hand." Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Under a recent ruling by the Provost Marshal General designated as ruling No. 7, the Selective Draft Service Act exempts no person from military service on the ground of dependency.

Sec. 2. Provides: "Section 2 of the Selective Service Law exempts no person from military service on the ground of dependency. It only authorizes the President to exclude or discharge from draft, those in a status with respect to person dependent upon them for support which renders their exclusion of discharge advisable. It is to disturb dependents as little as the raising of an army will permit.

Sec. 27 of the law provides that the Provost Marshal General acting through any person generally of specially authorized to act may appeal from the decision of any local board. It shall be the duty of the Provost Marshal General to authorize an appeal in all cases where certificates of discharge has been granted under the provisions of subdivision (h) of section 20 of rules and regulations.

"(h) Those in a status with respect to persons dependent upon them for support which renders their exclusion or discharge desirable." All who are interested will notice that under General Rule No. 7 by the Provost Marshal General of August 11th, 1917, there are no exemptions on the ground of dependency except such as may be provided in the discretion of the President.

I am the unfortunate through whom the Provost Marshal General takes appeals and he rules that appeal be taken in all cases.

REGISTRATION DAY FOR WOMEN.

We are engaged in the greatest war of all time. The outcome virtually depends upon the effectiveness of the participation of our country and upon the effectiveness of that participation rests our future as a nation.

It will not suffice that we merely send an army to fight side by side with the armies of our allies. We must mobilize the millions of our people who remain behind, for such service as they can best render. Nebraska has set an enviable example in effective co-operation with the federal government in all things calculated to further our country's interest in the great struggle and no class of people is sacrificing more unselfishly than the noble women of the state. In a brief period of time thousands of the finest and most stalwart young men to be found in any nation will represent Nebraska in the army of our country. Nothing must be left undone that will promote their comfort or conserve their lives and energies.

In order that this end may be accomplished and the efforts of the thousands of women (many of them mothers and sisters of our soldiers) be effectively co-ordinated, I, Keith Neville, governor of Nebraska, at the solicitation of the patriotic women of Nebraska, designate Wednesday, September 12, as registration day for women, and upon which day and date they may register for such service as they are willing and able to render throughout the present emergency.

The foregoing proclamation of the governor makes September 12 the day for all women of the state to present themselves at the polling places for registration for war service. Every woman is able to give some small portion of time to relief work, either at home or abroad. If she is a busy woman she can promise one hour a week at she can be used in caring for children, visiting the sick, making for children whose mother has added responsibility during the war period. An office girl can promise one hour's assistance each week in typing. The time spent in home gardening can be regarded as war service if it adds to the food conservation. The registration cards will be kept in the counties where they have been signed and when the United States government has calls for women physicians, nurses, clerks, stenographer, a glance at the tabulated list will show what assistance can be secured from Nebraska. Two hundred thousand registration cards are being shipped to Nebraska for September 12. Mrs. A. E. Margaret E. Thompson Sheldon, chairman department of registration, woman's committee, Nebraska state council of national defense.

CHURCH NOTES.

Baptist Sunday morning services as usual. Sunday school following. U. Y. P. U. at 7 o'clock sharp.

B. Union services in the evening in the court house square. Rev. Steen will speak. Let everybody come out and hear him give another one of his good sermons.

Presbyterian.

We will have our regular service Sunday morning; but we have decided to have another union service in the court house lawn in the evening. The crowds have been splendid and so many have requested more of these services, that we decided to continue one more Sunday and maybe more.

We wish all those who have been taking a vacation from church services would begin next Sabbath to form the habit again. It is very easy to get out of the habit of going to church. It is not only easy but dangerous.

The subject for Christian Endeavor Sunday evening will be "My Favorite Hymn, Tell Why." Miss Gladys Hosier will be the leader.

Beginning the first Thursday in September we are going to make a special study of the second coming of Christ in prayer meeting. This is a subject which ought to be of vital interest to every Christian. And we cordially invite all who are interested to come and join with us in this study. Bring your bibles, note books and pencils.

Methodist.

Only two more Sundays until annual conference. All subscriptions to all funds are needed and should be paid at once so the reports can be sent in to the district superintendent. The pastor will preach next Sunday morning and evening. At 10:30 "The Indwelling of Christ," at eight o'clock "Three Facts About Sin." Everybody welcome. Miss Mabel Daddow favored us with a fine solo last Sunday morning and we will have special music next Sunday. Song service by L. N. Smith in the evening. Sunday school at 11:45. Epworth League at 7 o'clock led by H. R. H. Williams, and the topic "Has Summer" Let us all close the year in the best possible way, as Christ would have us.

The pastor will preach at Wiggle Creek Sunday afternoon at 3:30. This will be the last service of the year and we will be glad to see everybody out.

HER DYING DEED

Brings reconciliation with the daughter she has never known and pardon from the man who wants to marry her. She has lived a social outcast; she dies with the smile of a great sacrifice on her lips. This is the part played by Gladys Brockwell in the new Wm. Fox photoplay, "Sins of Her Parent." A moral lesson that every mother should see. At the opera house Saturday.

THE LIBERTY LOAN CYCLE.

Through the sale of Liberty Loan Bonds the United States is borrowing large sums of money from its citizens, its business men, farmers, bankers, wage earners, merchants manufacturers. The government collects this money and disburses it in two ways. Part it expends itself and part it loans our allies. The United States and these other governments spend it for American products and American labor and it goes back directly into the hands of the people, the American business man, farmer, banker, wage earner, merchant and manufacturer.

This is the cycle. John Smith the farmer and Thomas Brown the wage earner each has purchased a Liberty Loan Bond paying down the initial payment of 2 per cent. On June 28th they made the 18 per cent payment, depositing the amount in their banks and sending checks to the Federal Reserve Bank of their district. The Federal Reserve Bank collects the check and redeposits the money with the local banks. Later the Treasury Department draws against it and the money is again lodged with the Federal Reserve Bank. It is almost immediately withdrawn from the Federal Reserve Bank either by the United States or by some foreign government engaged in war with Germany to which the United States has advanced money and is paid out for American products or labor. Some of it is spent for farm products and raw material, and some of it for manufactured products, thus going back into the hands of American citizens.

Therefore the money paid in by the above mentioned John Smith and Thomas Brown on June 28th in part payment of their Liberty Loan Bonds may have gotten back into their hands in time to make up part of their payments made July 30th.

THE TWO GLASSES

There stood two glasses filled to the brim. On a rich man's table rim to rim. One was ruddy and red as blood. And one was as clear as a crystal flood. Said the glass of wine to his paler brother, "Let me tell tales of the past to each other."

I can tell of revels and banquets and mirth, For I was king and ruled the earth. For the purest and greatest souls on earth. Stood under my spell as though struck with blyth.

From the heads of kings I have torn their crowns. From the heights of fame I have hurled men down. I have blasted many an honored name. Taken virtue and given shame. I have tempted youth with sip and taste. That has made his future bare and waste.

For greater than any king am I. Or any armor beneath the sky. I have made the arm of the driver fall. And driven his train from the iron rail. I have made good ships go down at sea. And the shrieks of the lost were sweet to me.

Fame, strength, genius, wealth, before me fall. For my power is great and over all. Ho! Ho, pale brother, said the wine, "Can you quote of deeds as great as mine?" Said the glass of water, "I cannot boast."

Of a king dethroned or a murdered host. But I can tell of hearts that were sad. By my crystal sparks made bright and glad. Of heads I have cooled, of brows I have laved. Of hands I have cooled and souls I saved.

I have leaped through the valley, dashed down the mountain. Slept in the sunshine, dripped from the fountain. I have eased the hot forehead of fever and pain. And made the parched meadows look fertile with grain.

You have heard of the powerful wheel of the mill, That ground out the flour, and turned at my will. I can tell of manhood crowned by you. That I have uplifted and crowned anew. I cheer, I strengthen and help and aid. And gladden the heart of man and maid.

I set the wine chained captive free, And all are better for knowing me. These are the tales they told each other. The glass of wine and his paler brother. As they stood together filled to the brim. On a rich man's table rim to rim. —Selected.

If your neighbor is prosperous, let him prosper. Don't growl, grunt or grumble. Say a good word to him and let him go at that. Don't be a kicker, your time will come. No one is the whole show. If you see that the town is moving along rapidly, feel good about it. Help things along. Show a little push. Try to get a little benefit yourself. Don't stand around like a chilly cadaver and waste your time feeling sore because someone else has more success and sense than you have. Do a little helping yourself, and if you can say a good word for your town or people, say it like a prince. If you are full of bile and disposed to say something mean put a padlock on your mouth and keep it there. Don't be a kicker.—Ord Journal.

SUMMER COMPLAINT.

During the hot weather of the summer months some member of almost every family is likely to be troubled with an unnatural looseness of the bowels, and it is of the greatest importance that he be treated promptly, which can only be done when the medicine is kept at hand. Mrs. F. F. Scott, Scottsville, N. Y., states, "I first used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy as much as five years ago. At that time I had a severe attack of summer complaint and was suffering intense pain. One dose relieved me. Other members of my family have since used it with like results.
