2,000 bushels of Amber Durm wheat for sale at the Woten granaries at $2.10 per bushel. In order that this may be distributed over the community this wheat may be purchased at $2.10 per bushel, but no farmer may purchase more than fifty bushels. This wheat has yielded twenty-five bushels to the acre, can be sown in the spring and in this way there is no danger of its winter killing and a crop is assured.

George Woten and other Rockville parties attended a stockholders meeting of the Austin Canal Company, asking the company to extend the Austin canal for the irrigation of their lands near Rockville. Engineer Wolfe was ordered to estimate the cost of such extension. Mr. Woten who owns a large valuable tract under the extension of this canal, is one of the successful pioneers of irrigation in the western part of the state, being a stockholder and ably assisting in the construction and operation of one of the first important irrigation canals of the Scotts Bluff country. If Sherman county had only been favored with just a few more men of Mr Woten's ability, ambition and aspiration as to the development and operation of irrigation and power plants, the valley of the Loup would be annually producing maximum crops, with cities and towns two or three times their present size containing sugar beet factories and other factories and hydro electric power plants and a courthouse in keeping with such evidence of civilization.

Mankind is prone to regard a good memory as a possession beyond price. This it certainly is—within limitations. Yet there are conditions under which a short memory would be much more valuable. We would benefit by forgetting the petty slights and insults; by ceasing to envy those more fortunate; by wiping from our mind all traces of bitterness over wrongs and injustice. Such a faculty for forgetting would leave in the human heart memories the antithesis of these, that would bless and sweeten our lives and the lives of those about us.

Put your wheat in the corn, and the corn in the wheat fields, with the five disc Van Brunt one horse drill.
I do not claim to be clever but I do claim to know a good thing when I see it and that is why I bought 25 Van Brunt one-horse disc drills, to help you to get this wheat in the corn. I felt sure the proposition would appeal to you. Of course you know full well that extra effort must be employed to get more wheat sowed this fall than ever, sitting down and waiting won't even catch fish, unless you throw out a properly bated hook on the end of a line.
Do not wait for rain to plow. Put your wheat in the corn field and take advantage of my buy. Come in and get one of these drills.
GENERAL CONSTRUCTION.
Like all other Van Brunt drills, this is light draft because it is light weight, well balance, frame is heavy steel, well braced, has the famous Van Brunt adjustable gate force feed which compels an even flow of seed from hopper. Drill is provided with fenders so constructed as to prevent cornstalk or trash from lodging or clogging. The disc bearing is practically indestructible, as hard as flint and runs constantly in a bed of oil meeting with minimum friction. We replace free of charge all bearings that wear out. One oiling per season is generally enough. Close fitting scrapers keep disc absolutely clean.
