REPUBLICAN TICKET, NATIONAL TICKET.

For President,
BENJAMIN HARRISON.
—of Indiana.
For Vice-President, WHITELAW REID.
—of New York.

Col. Polk, president of the Farmer's Alliance, died June 11th.

Ravenna is making great preparations for a grand celebration on the Fourth of July.

Chicago was visited on the 13th inst. by a terrible tornado, and death and destruction was left in its path.

Whitelaw Reid, of the New York Tribune, and minister to France, was nominated by acclamation for vice president of the United States. Mr. Reid is a power in politics and one of the ablest writers this country affords. He will materially strengthen the republican ticket.

The supervisors will at this sitting again consider the proposition to construct a bridge across the Middle Loup. We learn that they are very much divided on the proposition. We hope, however, that they will see the necessity of a bridge and vote to build it. Arcadia and other points out of the county are getting a large portion of the trade of the northwest part that rightfully belongs to our own county. Let us have a bridge.

C. Fisher, manager of the Loup City Roller Mills has been absent for a week visiting a brother in Manitoba. He reports crops there about as far advanced as they are here. He brought a sample of the first grade wheat, which is much nicer than the wheat raised in this country, and which, he says, is being sold in the markets of that country for 35 cents per bushel. This is a great difference from the price realized in this country for even third grade wheat, for which the people here are realizing 55 cents, and yet the farmers of this country are not satisfied. If the bars were let down and Manitoba with her millions of bushels of wheat which she has stored up was allowed to flood the country with this surplus, the third grade wheat which we produce here would not be worth more than 25 cents per bushel. In this instance the protective system has more than doubled the price of wheat, as it costs the producer of that country 35 cents per bushel to land their wheat in our markets and consequently they are unable to compete with the producer of our country. Can the farmer see anything wrong with Bill McKintley or the McKintley bill? Doubt all speak at once.

Many Blaine men are sorely disappointed because he did not get the nomination, and equally as many Blaine men are glad that under the existing circumstances Harrison was successful. Had Blaine come out for the position months ago, instead of positively refusing to become a candidate, all would have gone well with him, and doubtless, Harrison would not have been in the race. Nebraska has always been for Blaine, and it is quite likely her delegation would not have gone to the convention instructed for Harrison had they known that Blaine was a candidate. The blame however rests more heavily on the Blaine boomers than it does on the subject himself. The humiliation has fallen on those who would, if possible, have humiliated the president, and the medicine they have to take is simply that compounded and prescribed by themselves. Blaine is undoubtedly the greatest statesman this country has ever had, and we have always maintained that he should be elevated to the highest position in the gift of the people, but this action on the part of his friends who lead him to the slaughter would hardly justify his support at this time, especially as against a man like Harrison, who has for the last four years served the country with honor, and who would doubtless have stepped aside had the secretary made his wants known in time to enable him to do so.

Of all the animals of the farm none need such constant and careful attention as the cleanliness and wholesomeness of the water they drink and the food they eat as the milk cows. It has been demonstrated that the drinking of foul water by cows will quickly taint the butter or cheese product, and the consuming of foul feed will do the same. It is to be avoided above all things. This is one of the things that is to be closely looked out for at the factories and traced to its source for correction, as it is an evil that spreads itself throughout the whole mass of milk or cream with which it comes in contact in the process of manufacture. Give the milk cow the best and purest the farm affords.—Nebraska Farmer.

A late telegraphic report from San Francisco, Cal., states that:

"John Gibson, secretary of the Judson Manufacturing Company, left the city with $17,000 in gold to pay off the employees of the factory between Oakland and Berkeley. Near Berkeley two men boarded the train and covering Gibson with revolvers, compelled him to give up the package containing the coin. The men jumped from the slowly moving train, took a buggy near by and made their escape. Gibson fired five shots from the platform of the train without effect. The passengers were dumfounded at the scenes so rapidly enacted before them. The officials are making every effort to capture the robbers."

The following special to the State Journal tells of the terrible tornado and the damaging results at Doniphan, Nebraska:

DONIPHAN, NEB., June 12.—A terrific hail storm and high wind, which almost amounted to a tornado, struck Doniphan this evening at 6:30 o'clock. All the growing crops in this vicinity were destroyed and every window in town exposed to the storm was broken. The hailstones were of unusual size and were banked up in some places by the wind to a depth of several feet.

If you have any idea of building a silo for winter convenience and necessities now is the time to select and plant a special patch of corn for that purpose. Let it be a large corn with abundant foliage and one that will mature to the glazing stage a little before frost may be expected.—Nebraska Farmer.

It takes the editor of the Loup City Northwestern to give his "vile contemporary" an artistic touching up. He is certainly a master in that line.—Edgar Post.
