The cable letters from London tell how Englishmen are making much of Americans this year. They can afford to on the bond deal alone, to say nothing of the great revival of British manufacturing and trade consequent upon the passage of the Gorman-Wilson bill. Englishmen would be ungrateful dogs not to coddle the innocents they pluck .-Tribune, Salt Lake, Utah, August 18,

Mr. Mowery had taught a term of seven month in the same district the prevides winter and they considered his services worth $10.00 more than that of other teachers, what better recomendation could a man have to inspire the confidence of the people?

- The Times is still trying to leave the impression among the voters that F. W. Fuiler, candidate for county breasurer is not a resident of Sherman county. If he wishes to be honest in the matter he will state in his next issue the facts as we here give them, and as he well knows them to be. Mr. Fuller settled in Sherman county in 1884 and to the fall of 1888 was elected as our representative to ree Nebraska legislature. During last winter he made a visit to his aged parents in Galesborg, Ill., leaving Sherman county just before Christmas and for the sole purpose of only spending a few weeks there during the holidays, but circumstances prolonged his visit to June when he returned to his home. During his stay he was freezy package has the ked 2 engaged by seliciting and sending Zeitin & Co., Philadelphia.

relief to the needy of his (Bristol) township, and many of the people there and elsewhere in the county were thus benefited. This work of Mr. Fuller's was voluntary on his part, and it was this circumstance that prolonged his visit. Mr. Fuller left all of his household goods here and in fact everything that he had necessary to carry on his large farm, and if the Times man will take the trouble to find out, he will see that Mr. Fuller's name is recorded among the voters of Bristel township last fall, and that no one questioned his right to vote.

The fact is that the Times is campaigning it on wind this fall and not being able to trump up anything else against Mr. Fuller is trying to leave the impression that he is not a rest dent. The facts, however, when shown is a slap in Eddie's face that will make him bat his eyes, scratch his head and wonder what has become of its contents.

Nichols bondsmen state that the reason they confessed judgement to the county on the $5,000.00 deposited by Mike Polski in Nichol's bank at Litchfield was on the sacred pledge and promise of Mike Polski our present county treasurer and John W. Long our county attorney that they, Polski and J. W. Long, would at once attach the property of the People's State Bank of Litchfield consisting as stated of 37 head of Conger, Justices of the Peace; W.D. horses, 125 head of cattle and 36,300.00 worth of notes, known to to the bank. This was agreed to be done in order to protect the 12 hondsmen of farmers who were on said bond. None of this was done but instead a suit was brought against Nichol's on the trivial sum of $11.00 received on deposit from one - Miller and trial had, and the farmer bondsmen are left to hold the sack.

The Party Lash The case is getting desperate boss Says Lieutenanant to the chief: Yes, you and me and Kay are lost. Unless we get relief. Money the balm for every ili. And beer that worked so well. We used in that campaign until. T'is not affectual We'll have to use the party lash And coach them into line: All efforts made seem now but trash And I've exhausted mine. And now forthwith the master hand Lays hold the party whip, And says to Mike, call now the band Of "Pops," and let none slip, Come Zink and Snyder, Smith and King In long procession file With Draper, Baker and that thing That tries to put on style: And Jackson, Hendrickson, Kittell. And Albers Cook and Slote. Come each of you your grelvance tell. Before your backs are smote High, Ho! come round there boy! And drive them up this way. Their lazy movements me annoy. They don't have ought to say. He wields the lash about his head. In anger swings it round: Then on each culprits head tis said He makes the whip rebound. Crack goes the whid, fall into line ! To each of them he cries, And applies the lash severe. And each of them denies His his right with to interfere. When Lou informs them that To them he's been a king so great. Though him a democrat. Now Logan township you must bring Back to its "poppy" faith. Nor will I once again the string Of three poor votes he saith Endure, so go to work at once With David Kay your Judge: Now do not fool nor play the dunce. But pay off every grudge. Just talk the irrigation racket. Tell how the taxes grew. And how each one can have no jacket If he don't vote for Lou. Says one of them I've worked that string Ti'll thread bare it has got: I must some other statement bring Until they've that forgot. Why when I told it was a shame To tax them in the bluffs, One says to me some other game That is not quite so tough. You'll have to play at this election. Of this I've had enough When Polski made that bad selection Of bank in which to put our "mun' And lost five thousand dollars cash, Twas then the tax began. And then you were so very rash. And spent in prosecuting "Nick" That we might then not look But cover up a fraud so slick.

Eight hundred more you say you took. Then hiring Green, and suing bond. Of course must raise the tax. Boss cannot lift it by his wond The burdens on our backs. Five thousand lost in People's bank Five thousand levied on to be Makes ten thousand dollars at a clank Thats paid in tav stoon't you see. All comes out of farmers bold, And out of honest toll; They, my good men are facts too cold. And all your speeches spoil. He takes the party lash so keen. And give to Mathew wise Who with the whip in hand is seen. By many wondering eyes With one fell swoop the lash does fall, This way! come! round em up! Drive in the voters to the stall.

And make them anty up. It must be done else we go down. The ship is leaking now you see: Give every man a ballot round. And make him vote for me. Crack goes the whip but all in vain For now the weapons broke. Corruption rots it in the main, And harmless falls the stroke. And Johnny's prohibition whip. Is brought into the field. He swings it round and gives a clip. But still they will not yield. What runs the windmill at the well. Says legislator Zink
