Last Tuesday evening was installation night for the Modern Woodman Camp in this village, and after the camp had been called to order and the regular work of the order had been gone through with and everything put in shape for the installation of the officers of the camp, much to the surprise of most of the members present, the cutter door flew open and in walked the mothers, wives and sweethearts of the member, loaded down with the delicacies of the season, and in less time than it takes to write it, tables were set the full length of the hall and the neighbors invited to be seated and partake of the delicacies spread before them. An editor who died of starvation, says an exchange, was being escorted to heaven by an angel who had been sent out for that purpose. "May I look at the other place before we ascend to eternal happiness?" asked the editor. "Easily," replied the angel. So they went below and skirmished around taking in the sights. After awhile the angel lost track of the editor and hunted all over the hades looking for him. He finally found him sitting by a furnace fanning himself and gazing with rapture on a lot of people in the fire. There was a sign over the furnace which said: "Delinquent Subscribers." "Come," said the angel, "we must be going." "You go on," said the editor, "I'm not going. This is heaven enough for me."

A most disgraceful occurrence which happened last Monday evening and was perpetrated by a young man of this vicinity, and who lives not far from this town, has been reported to this office. It seems that the young man in question was lurking around the stables located on a resident lot here, and as a young lady, who it seems had, before retiring, been told by her mother to go to the barn and close the door to the chicken house, was carrying out her mother's instructions, he made a bold advance towards her. She had just secured the door and started to return to the house when the young man advanced and made an indecent proposal to her. The girl managed to escape and made off to the house without further molestation. The young man was plainly identified by the girl and it was thought at first to have him arrested and brought before a court of justice, but upon considering the embarrassing position it would place the family in, the suit was not pushed. We wish, however, to state in this connection that the citizens of Loup City have their feelings considerably aroused over the matter, and it will not be well for this young man or anyone else to make another such an attempt. The matter is made public this time simply as a word of warning and next time no doubt an example will be made of the guilty person.

King Solomon's Notion.
That "There is nothing new under the sun" does not always convey the truth. Especially is this true as regards the new composite cars now operated daily via the Chicago, Union Pacific and Northwestern Line between Salt Lake City and Chicago. These handsome Buffet Smoking and Library Cars are entirely new throughout of latest design, contain all modern improvements, and are well supplied with writing material, the leading daily papers, illustrated periodicals, magazines, etc. The fact that these cars run daily via "The Overland Limited" and that the Union Pacific was the line west of Chicago to inaugurate this service should commend itself to all. See that your tickets read via "The Overland Route."
