Republican Central Committee for Sherman County. By M. H. MEAD, Chairman.

NOTE.—We also call attention to the fact that where necessary the primaries should elect delegates to their respective Supervisor district convention.

Hon. A. E. Cady was well pleased with his meeting here and at Ash-ton also. At both places his audience paid him the closest attention.

Will some good popocrat tell us why W. L. Greene failed to speak at Ord the other evening. The Ord papers say that he was billed to speak, that he was in the city, but failed to show up at the meeting. Why was it?

Senator Stewart, replying to his own argument in the seventies, when he talked for a gold standard says he ment coin wherever he used the word gold. He does not say, however, that in the mortgages in his favor now made payable in gold that he means coin.

Vermont held her state election last Tuesday and the result was a republican gain of nearly 33,000. Last year she gave a majority for the republican ticket of 17,000 now she rolls up a majority of 30,000. If the election of Vermont is any criterion as to how the country will go this fall Bryan won't know that he has been a candidate.

The silver democrats of California declare that they will restrain by resorting to the courts, the sound money democrats from putting the names of their nominees on the official ballot. To this the sound money democrats say they can do so if they like, but in case it is done, we will vote solid for McKinley. They counsel the state to be in the republican column by a large majority and they seem to be pleased to have an opportunity to get into the McKinley band wagon.

There are a large number of Mexican dollars now in circulation here, but the very sight of them makes the pops sick. Some of them have been heard to say that they don't believe they are Mexican dollars but they are. They were bought by one of our local merchants for 53 cents each of American money which amount covers the express and exchange charges. You can take them to the banks of this country and cash them for 50 cents each or to the store and buy 50 cts worth of goods with each one. This is the kind of money Mexico uses, and it is the kind of money the free silver advocates want in this country. It is the kind of money they want the old soldiers to receive their pensions in, the kind of money they want the beneficiary orders to pay to the widow and orphans, the kind of money they want the farmers to sell their produce for, and the kind of money the savings banks shall pay off their million of poor, hard working depositors. In other words they want those people who have laid up dollars worth 100 cents and which costs 100 cents worth of labor to be paid back in this depreciated currency of only one half its value.

Open The Mills, Not the Mints.

"I do not know what you think about it, but I believe that it is a good deal better to open up the mills of the United States to the labor of America than to open up the mints of the United States to the silver of the world," said Major McKinley in an address at Canton, Ohio, on Wednesday.

This sentiment, uttered as an off-hand observation after an elegant tribute to the bravery of his old comrades in arms, will live longer than any utterance contained in the long and labored effort of Mr. Bryan delivered on the same day in Madison Square Garden. It consists of only forty-nine words, but it contains more sound political sense, more economic science, more unanswerable logic and more patriotism than can be found in the 16,000 of Mr. Bryan's speech of acceptance.

Mr. Bryan used 16,000 words to make a plea for a special class of citizens residing in one small section of the country, who have a product upon which they ask the government to stamp a double value. McKinley in forty-nine matchless words made a plea for the grand army of American toilers in the work shops and on the farm.

The free coinage by this government of all the silver in the world at 16 to 1 would not give employment to a single idle workingman, nor would it increase the wages of those who are now employed. Mr. Bryan's plan will give no dollar to idol labor. Major McKinley's plan provides for a policy that will enable every American workmen to earn an honest dollar by honest toil—the only plan by which a circulating medium, be it large or small, gold, silver or paper, can be of any benefit to the people of any civilized nation.

The mills and not the mints will enable the laboring men of this country to acquire the necessities and many of the luxuries of life, the mills and not the mints will create new markets for the farmers' products. The mills and not the mints will increase wages by creating a larger demand for skilled labor, which like every other commodity on earth, is amenable to the inexorable law of supply and demand. The mills and not the mints can increase the price of the farmers' products, for every new mill built under protection, creates a new market and helps to build up a town, for men who work in mills must eat. Increasing the demand for products must inevitably tend to increase the price of produce.

The mints cannot make a bushel of wheat worth a dollar. Mills which build up new towns and people them with prosperous commu-ities that increase the consumption of bread stuffs will raise the price of wheat quicker than all the free coinage laws that can be enacted. The mints cannot create value. Only the brawny arms of honest toil, directed by genius and intelligence can create value. The mints cannot create prosperity and happiness. The opportunity to earn the best money in the world by legitimate industry is the plan proposed by Major McKinley. No sensible or honest American expects to get money in any other way. Idle workmen want the wages of the mills; the mints can give them nothing.—Chicago Times Herald.

Low Wages and High Prices.—An Engineer's Experience. (Correspondence of Dixie.)

I was amused at the way one of the conductors with whom I talked referred to his salary. I asked him what his position was worth.

"Well," he said, "that is a pretty hard question to answer. When the month is up the paymaster hands me out 150 Mexican dollars, and it depends upon the market price of these dollars happens to be on that particular day as to what amount I have earned during the month. Sometimes the dollars are worth 55 cents each, sometimes 52 cents each, sometimes more or less; but the truth of it is I never know what I have earned until I investigate and learn the market quotations on Mexican dollars."

"Well," I said, "how do your expenses in Mexico compare with expenses that you would have in the United States?"

"My expenses in Mexico are greater," he said. "For a while I was on the upper end of the road and boarded at San Antonio, Tex. There I paid $18 per month board. Now I am boarding in Torreon and pay $40 per month board in Mexican money. But what goes the hardest with me, is that I have to pay so much for wearing apparel. If I could wear what is made here in Mexico I could get it very cheaply, but I have to buy American shirts, American shoes and hats and indeed practically everything I wear comes from the United States. They don't manufacture articles of a character her in Mexico suitable for our use, so when I buy a pair of shoes I have to pay double value and the duty added. That makes this pair of shoes that I am wearing worth $7.50 in Mexican money, and I could buy the same shoes in Texas for $2.50 or $3. The same is true about everything that I wear, and I'll tell you the truth, friend, when I've paid my board and settled for the things that I've been compelled to buy during the month I wouldn't be a well come guest in a poker game."

MCKINLEY EPITHETS.

I do not know what you think about it but I believe it is a good deal better to open the mills of the United States to the labor of America than to open the mints of the United States to the silver of the world.

If I have been associated with any legislation that has given to an American workman a day's more work at American wages, that is honor enough for me.

What we want in this country is a policy that will give to every American workman an American wage a policy that will put enough money into the treasury of the United States to run the government.

The government of the United States must raise enough money to meet both its current expenses and increasing needs.

Our domestic trade must be won back and our idle workingman employed in gainful occupations at American wages.

The American people hold the honor of our government as sacred as our flag.

The money of the United States, and every kind or form of it, whether of paper, of silver or of gold must be as good as the best in the world.

The dollar paid to the farmer, the wage-earner and the pensioner must continue forever equal in purchasing power to the dollar paid to any government creditor.

We want good times, good prizes, good wages, and when we have them we want them paid in good money.

Whether our prices be high, or whether our wages be good, or whether they be bad, they all are better by being paid in an unconditional dollar worth 100 cents.

If we have good wages, they are better for being paid in good dollars; and if we have poor wages, they are better for being paid in a good dollar.

Having injured our industries, a new experiment is now proposed, one that would debase our currency and further weaken, if not wholly destroy, public confidence. Workingmen, have we not had enough of such costly experiments?

We are told that the tariff is not an issue this year. We admit it is not the great controversy it was four years ago, but that is solely because the democratic party is so ashamed of its butchery of the prosperity of the country that you can't get within forty rods of a democrat if he thinks you have a tariff gun with you.—Falls City Journal.

There is a large number of people who now realize that they made a mistake in voting in 1892.
