In almost every speech that Mr. Bryan makes he tells the people to stay by the democratic ticket, and he never refers to the populist party. The populists have noted this fact, but rather than admit that they have been swallowed up, they still insist that he is a populist.

Some of the pops have been heard to say that they believed that Hon. A. E. Cady's speech was the best political speech they had ever heard delivered in Loup City. Now the "man up a tree" must indeed see a great change when he is reminded of the fact that Bill Greene has delivered some six or seven political speeches in Loup City.
The Times said last week that we advised our two sons to keep in the middle of the road. No doubt the advice would have been more fitting had it been given to the Times editor. Last year he professed to be a middle-of-the-road pop. This year he has gone clear off the track and permitted himself to be swallowed by the democrats.

Cady at Loup City.
It was a large crowd that assembled at the opera house in this city last evening to hear the address of Hon. A. E. Cady. Candidate for Congress on the republican ticket. The seating capacity of the opera house was all occupied and a large number were compelled to stand up. In all there was an audience of about 400 people.
The band was out and escorted the speaker and large crowd to the hall. Judge Wall was selected as chairman and introduced the speaker. In the course of his remarks the band outside struck up, and while the music was being rendered the Judge provoked mirth by saying that he had, on some occasions attempted to talk when there was considerable noise and confusion and had succeeded pretty well in making himself heard, but never before had run up against a brass band. In his opening remarks he spoke of the issues to be discussed and paid a fitting tribute to the speaker of the evening.
Mr. Cady made an eloquent address and his argument was clear and convincing. The first half of his speech was devoted to the tariff issue and the reciprocity act. He showed how these two measures when in force furnished employment for the laborer, stimulated the American industries and gave to the American farmer a good market for his products. He also showed how, under these acts we were able to reduce the government debt from two billion six hundred million to nearly eight hundred million. His argument on the money question was most convincing and every point was made clear. He exposed the fallacies of the free silver craze and plainly pointed out the disastrous conditions which would inevitably follow its adoption. The speech was a telling one and people of all political parties were loud in their praise of his splendid effort. Several were heard to say it was the best political speech they ever listened to and his coming will no doubt make many votes for the republican ticket.

Ashton People Well Pleased With the Republican Nominee for Congress.
Ashton, Neb., Sept. 1, 1896.—ED. NORTHWESTERN.—A very enthusiastic republican meeting was held here last Monday afternoon. A good crowd was present and listened attentively to the address delivered by A. E. Cady, upon the political issues of the day. He thoroughly discussed the tariff and money questions and made his points clear and convincing. Men of all political beliefs gave him the closest attention and seemed well pleased with his speech. There is no doubt but what he has made several votes in Ashton township, who will not only support him for Congressman but will vote for the McKinley electors also.
There were several present from Loup City; among them were W. H. Conger, Judge Wall, D. D. G. Row and others. Judge Wall was made chairman of the meeting and made a ringing speech in introducing the subject and speaker.
