DEAL SOON AT END.

WHEAT MANIPULATORS MUST SHOW THEIR HANDS.

Friday is the Day Upon Which Deliveries Are to Be Made—Making the Seller Dictator of Price—Removal of Central Market From Liverpool to Chicago.

The Wheat Deals.

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—Friday, which will witness the close of the great trade, bids fair to prove a memorable day in the trade. No great excitement is expected in the wheat pit, but in oats a squeeze of shorts may occur.

"The wheat deal of my son has brought to the farmers of the United States 10 or 15 cents more for their wheat than if he had not gone into it," L. Z. Leiter said today, in talking of the great battle between Joseph Leiter on the one side and the elevator companies on the other. "My son has been the benefactor of the agricultural industries of the country to that extent. The seller is now dictating the prices of his product, not the purchaser. Chicago makes the market price of wheat, not Liverpool. And the local influences which have been so long for constantly lower prices have ceased to control Chicago markets."

The first purchase of wheat by Joseph Leiter was made in July last at 64 cents. The price for real wheat, such as the farmer sells, has been 99 cents and $1 for several days. This makes a total advance since July of about 35 cents. Leiter, sr., gives the ordinary course of the markets credit for between 20 and 25 cents of the rise. The remainder he attributes to the substantial support given to prices by Leiter, jr., during the last six months.

It is believed that Mr. Leiter has been tiring a trick on the trade in oats while everybody has been watching wheat. For weeks the oats pit has been practically deserted. Last week there was a disagreeable surprise to the men who had sold 6,000,000 bushels of oats for December delivery when they learned that no oats were being delivered. Then they awoke to the fact that in all the Chicago elevators oats measured but 950,000 bushels of the contract grades. It was Wednesday when the discovery was made. The price of December oats was then 29 1/2 cents. On Friday the market closed at 22 1/2 cents. A cent advance in oats is as good as 4 or 5 cents in wheat. It is too late to rush in a supply to meet the calls which will be made for the grain at the close of business on Friday. Those who have not delivered the grain according to contract will be called upon to settle at the closing prices. The situation has all the elements of a squeeze.

The Indian Exhibit.

Senator Allen Calls Upon His Brethren to Help.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Senator Allen has addressed the following letter to all members of the upper branch of congress in relation to his bill asking an appropriation of $50,000 for a congress of Indian tribes at the Omaha exposition next year:

"My Dear Senator: I take the liberty of calling your attention to the bill introduced by me (S. 2,508) to provide for the holding of a congress of the Indian tribes of the United States of the city of Omaha, in the state of Nebraska, in the year, A. D. 1898, and for other purposes. You will greatly oblige me if you will read the bill and the report accompanying it, and if you can, consistently with your sense of public duty, do so. I would be pleased to have you support the measure. I beg to suggest if the bill should become a law, this will be the first and probably the last general exhibition of the savage tribes of America, and will be a source of great interest to many people who have never had an opportunity of observing our Indian tribes, their habits and customs. No doubt the educational features will be of great advantage to thousands. Omaha is geographically well situated to hold such a congress at a minimum expense to the government. I believe the money will be well expended in authorizing this congress.

The auditor for the treasury department, William E. Andrews, has approved the requisition for the issuance of a warrant to George A. Bartlett, disbursing agent of the treasury department, for $25,000, to be used in construction of the government building at the Trans-Mississippi exposition.

This is the first money drawn on behalf of the government board and is understood to be for preliminary work in conjunction with building the building to an early completion.

He was a descendant of the Lermercier who figured in France during the revolution. His father was for many years a member of the chamber. He received the decoration of the Legion of Honor and published several volumes.

EXPOSITION STAMPS.

Third Assistant Postmaster General Asks for Designs.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Third Assistant Postmaster General Merritt, who will have charge of the selection of subjects for the series of Trans-Mississippi exposition stamps, which the postmaster general has officially announced will be issued to commemorate the exposition, has written a number of letters to leading artists of the country asking for suggestions relative to designs. Three divisions are suggested in the letter:

First—That they should contain portraits of distinguished people identified with the country.

Second—Appropriate historical events should be represented as illustrated by existing paintings or engravings.

Third—Unique pictures of national scenery or of other things associated with the progress of the Trans-Mississippi region.

General Merritt said that it would be his aim to give the exposition a series of stamps that would be artistic in character and would appeal to all classes of people and especially typical of the greater west. Incidentally he suggested that possibly one of the stamps might contain the reproduction of the celebrated etching known as "Frontier Hoisting the Flag on the Rocky Mountains."

The well known statue of Thomas H. Benton at St. Louis contains upon one side of the base a quotation from one of Mr. Benton's celebrated speeches, wherein he outlines the possibilities of the country beyond the Mississippi, and it has been thought that the Benton statue would be an appropriate design for one of the stamps. The complex picture which hangs in the west corridor of the capitol, known as "Westward Ho!" emblematical of the hardships attendant upon the pioneer and suggested by Bishop Berkeley's quotation "Westward the course of empire takes its way," was also mentioned by General Merritt. There is a picture in the rotunda of the capitol—De Soto's discovery of the Mississippi river—which might also be used upon one of the denominations. General Merritt said the department would endeavor to select subjects that had been painted or engraved and would not call upon artists to draw new scenes, which would necessitate a great amount of time, but on the contrary, would endeavor to get photographs, reproductions of famous paintings and personages, so that the engraving of dyes might be quickly done.

The stamps will be somewhat of the same shape as the Columbian stamp, twice the size of the present postage stamp. They will be sought, after by collectors, and as there are nearly half a million of these people the government, instead of being philanthropic, expects to realize handsomely upon the issue. Columbian stamps today are selling at prices many times higher than was once paid for them and they are growing more valuable each year. It is the same way with the Centennial stamp, and it will also be true of the Trans-Mississippi stamp. Suggestions of scene on stamps are invited by the postoffice department as it is General Merritt's desire to give the exposition the handsomest set of stamps ever issued to commemorate an exposition.

Klondike Kings Christmas.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—James I. Clements, the "Eldorado king of the Klondike," who is at the Lafayette hotel, displayed one of the costliest if not the costliest Christmas tree which will be seen the world around.

On this richly laden tree were 750 $20 gold pieces and nuggets and presents worth $5,000, which brought the total up to $50,000. Last year the man who fixed up the Christmas tree dined on Christmas day in the Klondike off a piece of caribou meat, with the top of a tin hard bucket for a plate and his fingers serving the purposes of knife and fork. The tree occupies space in the Hotel Lafayette, and those fortunate or unfortunate enough to be allowed to feast their eyes upon this prodigious display of wealth were granted permission by its owner to sift the $20 gold pieces through their fingers, to lift double handfuls of gold nuggets, and guess how much they were worth, and every visitor carried away a little nugget whether "the Eldorado king" had ever seen them before or not.

Demand for Indemnity.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Secretary Sherman was seen tonight regarding a story cabled him from Madrid to the effect that the United States had demanded of Spain $5,000,000 indemnity for American traders for damages sustained through the rebellion in Cuba. The secretary stated that if any such demand had been made he had not heard of it.

Judge Day, assistant secretary of state, said: "So far as I know there is absolutely nothing in the story. Some one may have attempted to foot up all the individual claims that have been filed, but even on that supposition I should not attempt to say their estimate was correct."

At the Spanish legation it was said that no information had been received of any such action. The legation had heretofore been notified of all individual claims, but it was thought improbable that any claim in bulk would be made.

A pension has been granted to the widow of Knud Knudsen, a soldier in the late war, the back pay of which aggregates over $4,000.

The wind was blowing a gale, when a sudden gust caught him and whirled him to the roadside. The fireman backed the train and found him some distance off. He was painfully but not badly hurt.

Several thousand Arabs who have been making a demonstration outside the gates of Tripoli have been surrounded by Turkish troops. The shops of the city are closed and the Arab agitation against the government is increasing. There were disturbances on December 17 at Armus, near here. All the houses inhabited by Hebrews were pillaged. Thirty of the rioters were arrested by the troops.

The police have liberated the princess and the trustee has been arrested.

Gatti, Henry Irving, Charles Wyndham and George Grossmith. The floral tributes were very numerous.

According to a special dispatch from Shanghai the British squadron will make a demonstration at Chee Foo, on the north coast of the Chan Tung promontory, as a warning, it is supposed, that Great Britain intends to oppose the division of China without being consulted. It is reported there that Russia has offered China a loan to pay off the indemnity of the war with Japan, and it is believed, says the dispatch, that Japan and England are acting in concert to prevent China from disintegration, favoring the idea of a protectorate over Central China, with a capital at Nan King.

A German-Chinese commission has been arranged, according to a dispatch from Shanghai to the Daily Mail, to settle the boundaries of the occupied district at Kiao Chau, and it is evident, therefore, that the occupation will be permanent. The same dispatch says it is rumored in Shanghai that the British intend to occupy Tallien, south of Port Arthur, and the Daily Mail's correspondent at Tokio says there is no excitement there over the news and the public indifferent. It is rumored, also, the dispatch alleges, that a large Russian military force is coming over from Siberia.
