The majority of Ashtonites were, to put it mild, surprised to see in The Northwestern of Loup, an article telling of some twenty fights being staged here Saturday afternoon. This is indeed news, but then there is a very true saying that says, "one has always to look away from home to find the news concerning home.—Ashton Herald.

Was there something about yourself or your family that should have been mentioned in this paper last week? The fault of the oversight was more yours than ours. Editorial eyes are popularly supposed to see everything—but they don't—simply because we are human, after all. Next time anything of the kind occurs just tell us about it at once and you will find us thankful to get it. Our business is to tell other people what takes place in this community and we want you to help us every time you have an opportunity. Tell us about it the next time.

"The Perils of Pauline," thirteenth and fourteenth episodes will be given at the opera house on Tuesday evening, October 19th. "The Perils of Pauline" will keep your interest at fever heat through the whole episode. Some spectacular accident occurs in every episode, something which will startle you and something which you would imagine would be almost impossible for human beings to enact and survive. The management would be very much pleased indeed to have you attend the showing of "The Perils of Pauline."

We like to see our dignified "city fathers" work. We like to see them hustle around town looking for an opportunity to improve something, to make this a cleaner and more livable town. It's what we elected them for. There are plenty of opportunities for improvement which have escaped their eagle eyes, which are sadly in need of attention. Of course we can not expect our municipal dads to do everything at once, but we hope they will keep right on scouting around this city until there is not a thing left undone, nothing of which anyone can complain.

The first number of the lecture course was given at the opera house last evening to a large and appreciative audience. The Maupin Musical Quintette, the first number is all that it is claimed to be and starts out the course very auspiciously. The next number will be given on Thursday evening, October 21st, and is a lecture to be given by Henry Clark. His subject will be "Play Ball," an inspirational lecture. A dramatic description of a big league ball game and its unfolding as a parable of the greater game of life. This lecture is entertaining, humorous and inspiring.

"I DON'T FEEL GOOD" That is what a lot of people tell us. Usually their bowels only need cleansing.

Sheriff Williams went to Rockville Tuesday to try to find a clue as to who robbed a store and the saloon there Sunday night. The thieves are still at large and have made good their escape.

Mr. Steen, Standard Oil company manager here, was quite severely burned Saturday. A lighted match too close to an empty gasoline barrel set the barrel afire. In attempting to extinguish the blaze he was burned on the face and hands.

Hal Jenner, who joined the navy several months ago and is stationed at the Naval training station near Chicago is here for a visit with his father and other relatives. Hal says he is well pleased with the navy and does not regret the step that he has made.

The art exhibit at the M. E. Church has been very favorably commented upon and the expression is often heard that it is the best exhibit ever shown in Loup City. A splendid program was given Tuesday evening. The exhibit has been well attended. The proceeds go to purchase pictures for the school.

John Foy met with an accident on Monday evening that some what disfigured him as well as causing him considerable pain. He was going home about eleven o'clock and when at Dally's corner the street lights went out. Temporary blinded by the sudden darkness, he walked right into the iron beam at the corner of the store building, badly cutting his nose and forehead. The doctor patched him up all right and in a week or so he will be as good as new, though the accident probably will leave scars that will stay with him for a long time.

Quincy, (Ill.) Daily Herald.—A large audience gathered last evening at the Y. M. C. A. hall to hear Henry Clark, a successful chautauqua and platform orator, deliver his excellent lecture "Play Ball." Mr. Clark is a speaker of exceptional ability. His audience was captivated and he held the closest attention of all from the moment he stepped on the stage until he made his final bow, and as a result all who were present went home well pleased with the profitable evening they had spent listening to him.—At the Daddow opera house, Loup City, Thursday evening, October 21st.

You are reading this paragraph now because you have learned to look for something of value in these columns. Here's something that is worth much to you. What stores have the best goods and at the most reasonable prices in this town? How can you know what stores they are? Watch the ads in this paper, for they tell the story. The merchant who spends money in advertising his goods invariably has goods that are worth advertising, and his prices must of necessity be right or he could not afford to call special attention to them through the public print. Just glue your eye to the ads and you will save time, trouble and money—especially money.

Mell Gordon, editor of the Arcadia champion, was seriously injured in a motorcycle accident about two weeks ago. The following is what he has to say in regard to it:

"If you have never had the pleasure of getting mixed up with a bucking motorcycle of the two-cylinder type, you have missed one of the most exciting and thrilling experiences that can fall to the lot of a human in a lifetime. We have had the experience and we know. We thought that our machine could run right over a measly little single-cylinder affair, but when we struck it our machine began to buck and we were thrown about ten feet in the air and the blamed thing proceeded to kick us all over—the shins, on the back of the head, and then, not being satisfied with this rough treatment, finally got us underneath and rode us around the race track for a spell. It was exciting, all right, but we were glad to get out of the mixup and still be on earth, though somewhat disfigured and badly bruised up. The bucking motorcycle has the bucking broncho backed clear off the track for genuine action and excitement, believe me."

A Story of the Mountains. The Northwestern has another real treat in store for its readers. It has been our endeavor in the past to run only first-class, clean-cut serial stories, and we believe the next story to be printed in this paper, "The Battle Cry," by that well known author, Charles Neville Buck, is a little better, more beautiful, and more interesting than any we have published heretofore. It is a tale of the Kentucky mountains, and we feel sure you will enjoy it, every line. The first installment will appear in the issue of October 21.
