Quite a few of the Deer Creek youngsters and some married men, attended the show at Ashton on Thanksgiving night and report a fine evening.
Joe Lubash, overseer in Dist. No. 19, still has three days work on the road. It was due to the rain that fell a few weeks ago and made quite a few bad wash outs.
Some of the farmers have sprained their hands this fall and are unable to do the rest of the work with the corn. They are looking for help and can't get it, oh! its too bad.
Deer Creek had snow last Saturday night for about one hour. It created quite an excitement for some farmers of fearing that they would have to shuck corn in the spring. But don't be afraid about snow for it will be fine till about Christmas.

TRACY SCHOOL NOTES.

Park Robbins visited school Friday afternoon.
We have some new pictures up now for this year.
We have only had two cases of tardiness this year.
Paul Bennett is in school again after a weeks' absence.
Loy George and Lewis Danczak are studying in their new books now.
Eva Watts visited from Friday until Saturday with her sister, Neva, in Kearney.
Whenever we play "Fairy" in the primer class, they always wish just what they receive.
Superintendent Currier, Mr. McCord, Edgar Foster and Park Robbins, visited school last week.
The school board built a room in the basement Saturday, to hold our coal. It is a great improvement.
