PENNIES BIGGER THAN DOLLARS.

If you were to travel from Canada to the Gulf, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, we doubt if you could find anywhere traits of character more admirable than those possessed by our own home people.

And yet even we are not free from many of the vagaries that beset human nature, and especially is this the case in determining the relative value of the penny and the dollar.

Not long ago a warm personal friend dropped a penny in a puddle of soft mud. It was only a penny, worth but one cent, yet our friend promptly dived into the ooze and rescued that penny and restored it to the safety of his pocket.

In the back yard of that same friend was a lawn mower of expensive make rusting its life away in the rain when it might just as well have been oiled up and put away in a dry place to await the coming of the green grass of summer.

Another admirable friend, noted for his acute business acumen will walk from one end of town to the other in order to save a penny in the price of a twenty-five cent article. It is good business. But we have noticed valuable machinery and implements belonging to that man standing out in all kinds of weather, thereon accumulating the rust that ends in gradual disintegration and the woodwork rotting from constant exposure.

We know of a certain farmer in this township (a mighty good man, too) who doesn't take his home paper because it costs a few cents a year. He is great on saving the pennies. Yet on his farm, if you take the trouble to drive by, you will find wagons, mowers, rakes, tedders, machinery and implements of every kind still standing without a particle of shelter, some of them actually in the fields. Rust will soon get in its work and push this expensive machinery on toward the junk pile.

The value of a dollar is a hundred times that of a penny, and yet there are times in the lives of us all when we give more heed to the penny that we see than we do to the dollar that we feel.

But then these are just a few of the vagaries of human nature, and we are all intensely human.

Albert H. Gary, Chairman of the U. S. Steel Corporation, January 6, 1916. Immediately prior to the commencement of the present war and afterwards, until war orders, so-called, appeared and influenced a change, business conditions in the United States were very bad. The volume was considerable but the prices were unreasonably low.

A new crop of millionaires was created in Wall street by the late bull movement in the so-called "war-brides" and thousands of persons, perhaps, who never dreamed of their income reaching a sufficient sum to make it necessary for them to pay the government a tax, will submit returns this year.

Although eastern manufacturers and exporters have been the chief beneficiaries of war order business, it is reported that one wheat exporter at Portland, Oregon has made "a cool million" on contracts for shipment of wheat to the warring nations.

You can't get ahead of the small boy. One told us the other day that old men are like angle worms because the "chickens" get them both. And we couldn't do a thing but gulp.

LIVE STOCK PRICES AT SOUTH OMAHA

Fat Cattle In Light Supply and Mostly 10c Higher.

HOGS SELL 5 TO 10c LOWER

Moderate Run of Sheep and Lambs. Demand From Packers Active and Prices Are Generally Steady to Stronger.

Union Stock Yards, South Omaha, Neb., Feb. 15.—Cattle receipts were smaller than usual, while the demand was very brisk. The result was an active market, with prices fully 10c higher and in some cases more, too. This would apply to cows and heifers as well as beef steers. Stockers and feeders were strong to 10c or more higher. The big bulk of the receipts changed hands at an early hour.

Cattle quotations: Good to choice heaves, $7.75@8.25; fair to good heaves, $7.25@7.75; common to fair heaves, $6.25@7.25; good to choice heifers, $6.00@6.75; good to choice cows, $5.85@6.60; fair to good cows, $5.35@5.85; canners and cutters, $4.25@5.25; veal calves, $7.00@9.75; bulls, stags, etc., $4.75@6.50; good to choice feeders, $6.50@7.50; fair to good feeders, $5.50@6.50; stock heifers, $5.75@6.75; stock cows, $4.75@6.25; stock calves, $6.25@7.25.

Hog receipts totaled 10,800 head, of which more than 2,000 were direct to a packer from another point, but while local receipts were moderate, values broke 5@10c and in spots more in sympathy with sharp declines at other points. Close was weak and some hogs failed to sell. Bulk of the sales was made at $7.70@7.80 and the top was $7.90.

Supplies of sheep and lambs were smaller than usual for a Monday, and with one or two exceptions sales of lambs and yearlings were steady to strong with last week's close, while a very scant supply of ewes sold at 15c higher levels. Most of the good lambs were bought at $10.75@10.85, with fed westerns as high as $10.90, and a quotable top of $11.00 on best Mexicans. Ewes set a new high mark for the season, reaching $7.55, while yearlings at $9.50 equalled last week's top. Movement was much more active than on any recent day, and one to the trade much firmer than most of last week's markets.

Quotations on sheep and lambs: Lambs, good to choice, $10.75@11.00; Lambs, fair to good, $10.40@10.75; lambs, clipped, $9.00@9.60; yearlings, good to choice light, $9.25@9.65; yearlings, fair to choice heavy, $8.00@9.25; wethers, fair to choice, $7.25@8.00; ewes, good to choice, $7.25@7.60; ewes, fair to good, $6.50@7.25.

FROM WILLIS FULLITON. Willis Fulliton, who with Mrs. Fulliton, is visiting with relatives at Anaheim, California, sent the following clipping from an Anaheim paper. The little girl mentioned is their granddaughter.

"Nobody would expect to find fish in the Santa Ann river, but many of them are coming down with the current the past few days. In fact quite a number that were stranded in pools have been caught since the water subsided. Seeing some of these, little Viola Johnson, daughter of C. P. J. Johnson, conceived the idea of catching one herself. She pulled on a pair of diminutive rubber boots and waded out into the overflow stream in front of their house, which happened to be one part water and nine parts silt. After wading a short distance she found her feet cemented to the ground. In her effort to extricate herself she fell forward and plunged her arms in the mud up to her shoulders. Her hands also stuck fast to the bottom, and she was in a precarious situation when some member of the family discovered her and sailed in to the rescue."

Under stress of strong emotion a woman can smile, laugh and cry all in the same breath. A man cusses and grunts.
