The Value of Thrift

S. W. Straus, president of the American Society for Thrift, in an address before the International Congress at San Francisco, stated that government statistics tell us that 98 per cent of the American people are living from day to day on their wages, and that they cannot stand to be thrown out of employment.

Government statistics show that in a population of 20,250,000 American families less than six million own their own homes. Two million of these homes are mortgages and eleven million are renters. If we should suddenly be thrown into such a condition as now prevails in Europe, our present prosperity would be turned into calamity.

This extravagance and waste should be changed into the right sort of thrift and economy.

The Hub Clothing store will close its doors Saturday evening and the remainder of the stock will be shipped to Sioux City, Iowa where Mr. Viener has leased a building and will engage in the clothing and gents' furnishings business. Mr. Viener's closing out sale has been running over a month and he is well pleased with the amount of business done. The Hub Clothing store was opened up for business about eight years ago and has always enjoyed a good patronage, the reason for moving to a larger town not being on account of dissatisfaction with the volume of business done here. We believe that Mr. Viener will prosper in his new location and it is with regret we see him and his family leave Loup City.

Lawrence G. Lofholm is in Omaha this week purchasing a new line of clothing and gents' furnishings for his new store which will be opened shortly after the first of the month. Mr. Lofholm will have the advantage of having a new stock, and as he has had several years' experience in that line can be depended upon to carry only the latest and most up-to-date goods.

GRAND VIEW NEWS. Watch out for April fool. Neva Wätts is expected home from Kearney this week.

Mrs. Nicholas is helping Mrs. Biehl a few days this week. The wind blew a window light out for Henry Thode last Tuesday.

Nearly all of the people in this vicinity are attending the revival meetings. Mr. and Mrs. Hatch and the latter's father, visited at the Newcomer home Sunday.

Mr. Tracy and Mr. Hatch treated their barns to a new coat of paint this spring. Charlie Biehl and son Harvey were over to visit William Jung Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Hansen and small children, visited with William Jung last Sunday. We know spring is near for old Sol shines in the east windows now instead of in the south directly.

Hans Johnson, E. E. Tracy and Wm. Jung put a cement culvert in near Mr. Tracy's house last week Tuesday. Mrs. Jung went to Aurora to visit with her sister and family last Saturday. She returned home Monday reporting six or seven inches of snow at that place.

The county surveyor, E. B. Corning, surveyed 80 acres of land for Henry Thode and Robert Dinsdale. William Jung and Arthur McCullough helped the latter part of last week.

Mesdames Jung, Biehl, Tracy, Watts and Thode, and Messrs. Thode, Tracy and George, visited school last Friday morning. Come again and bring your dinner and we'll have a picnic.

The wind sure blew some last Tuesday afternoon. Everybody over here had to have themselves tied to a big tree or post with ropes and chains. Some had big irons tied to their feet to keep them from blowing into the air or away. We had all of our stock and chickens tied up too, to keep them down.

Mr. Teeds, rural inspector of schools, visited us last Friday morning. We were pleased to have our school a "standard" school and will receive a plate to hang over the door stating same. We scored 105 points out of the possible 125 points. If we had organized literary or some social work in the community it would have counted some more. Let us not stop now but better the school in the way he mentioned, and purchase the needed equipment, another year, and try to raise our score. Mr. Currier accompanied him in the work. One thing we feel proud of, our school was the first and only one-roomed rural school that he marked perfect on the water fountain or system. We purchased our cooler with our basket social money. We would like to have some trees planted this spring.

Birthday Party. Tuesday night at a birthday party for Carl, Mrs. C. C. Carlsen entertained friends with cards and at a delightful dinner. It was nearly midnight before the guests were aroused from a peppy good time at 500 to enjoy a carefully arranged several course dinner in the dining room. Assorted roses just out of the bud, furnished the floral decorations and good things to eat personally served by the capable hostess, carried a very happy time into the small hours. Mr. Lewis Schwaner and Mrs. R. E. Campbell captured the major prizes while Dr. O. E. Longacre and Mrs. Lewis Schwaner gracefully accepted the lessor winnings at cards.

Mr. Carlsen was unanimously congratulated for the seeming slight impression time had made during the many (?) years of his active life and when asked the secret enthusiastically answered "golf" and declared it to be his fountain of youth. At home going time every one wished Carl many returns of the day and assured Mrs. Carlsen that they had been most happily entertained. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Schwaner, Dr. and Mrs. O. E. Longacre, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Mathew, Dr. and Mrs. S. A. Allen, and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Carlsen.
