INJURIES PROVE FATAL.

Charles O. Johnson, who was injured by being kicked in the abdomen by a mule on Wednesday evening of last week, died on Friday morning. Mr. Johnson was injured internally and suffered terrible pain up to the time of his death.

Funeral services were held at the farm home three miles southwest of town, on Sunday afternoon. Rev. L. V. Sloumb having charge of the services. The remains were taken to Aurora, Neb., on Monday for interment.

Charles O. Johnson was born in Sweden, July 4th, 1873, and came to this country when ten years of age, with his mother and three sisters. They located at Princeton, Illinois, in 1889 they moved west and located in Hamilton county, Nebraska. Mr. Johnson returned from there to Chicago, remained there three years, when he returned to Aurora, Neb. Four years ago the Johnson family moved to this county, settling on a farm, three miles south of town, where he resided until his death, which occurred on April 23, 1916.

He was 42 years, 9 months and 24 days of age. He leaves to mourn his death a mother 79 years of age, a wife, three daughters, one brother and two sisters. The brother resides at Buxton, Oregon, and the sisters, Mrs. S. W. Anderson, at Aurora, and Mrs. S. A. Johnson at Chesterton, Indiana, with the aged mother.

CLEAN UP NOW.

You have, we presume, been doing a little cleaning up and polishing up around your premises of late. That is good, and very commendable, and we admire you for it. But let us gently whisper in your ear that one lone clean-up is not enough. Things look nice, and clean, and pretty just now, but in a few weeks they will begin to take on a dingy and ragged appearance, and every additional week will but emphasize the depressing and destructive effects of indifference and neglect. Do it again, and keep right on doing it at frequent intervals. It will add cheer to your own life and to those of your family and friends. It's a good thing to do and we hope to compliment you on keeping right on with it.

PULL YOUR OWN NOSE.

The fellow who is always criticizing his own town is like the kid who hankers for a chance to pull the other kid's nose. He forgets that the condition of the town is most likely brought by his own shortcomings and those of others of his kind. He sees only the delinquencies of others and forgets that perchance his own may be even more glaring and destructive. He wears a halo around his precious brow and bespatters that of his neighbor with ooze and slime. He sees evil where good exists, failure where success is assured, and poverty where prosperity is in the ascendant. If he, like the unruly kid, wants to pull anybody's nose he would confer a favor upon suffering humanity by tweaking the bump on his own face. It needs it.

Rev. Father Jarka has moved into his nice, new parsonage and is comfortably located. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell has moved into the house vacated by Rev. Father Jarka.

There are times, however, when men talk big, say little, and do nothing.
