

LOUP CITY NORTHWESTERN

A LIVE NEWSPAPER PUBLISHED IN A LIVE TOWN

VOLUME XXXV.

LOUP CITY, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, MAY 11, 1916

NUMBER 21

EVENTS AT LITCHFIELD

C. E. Achenbach shipped a car of hogs to South Omaha Sunday.

Our mayor has a beautiful yellow garden in front of his pool hall.

Mrs. John Anderson and Mrs. Plants were passengers to Ravenna on No. 40, Wednesday.

D. W. Titus was a passenger on No. 40 east on Wednesday morning, returning in the evening.

Mrs. Anson Fletcher returned on No. 39 Monday after making a protracted visit at Grand Island.

Mrs. George Betz was a passenger east on Monday morning. She returned Tuesday on No. 39.

C. E. Achenbach is fixing his silo at the elevator, putting in a cement foundation that will stay put.

A. D. Jones, our Hampshire hog man, sold his red Poland bull to N. P. Nelson, of Mason, to head his herd.

R. C. Carver came up on No. 43 Wednesday, looking after the company's business and returned on No. 40.

Mrs. Joe Cording and Mrs. Ed. Clancey went to Grand Island on No. 40 Wednesday and returned on No. 39.

Anson L. Fletcher had the misfortune to have a hay knife fall on his hand, making a bad cut on his fingers.

Miss Alice Winklerman returned to Ravenna on No. 40 Monday after a short visit with relatives and friends here.

Grandma Duncan held a reunion of her family a week ago last Sunday. It was the first time they had all been together for fourteen years.

The Gooch Brothers shipped their Heford bull to Merna, Monday. Art Rogus bought him for Thomas Christiansen, paying one hundred dollars.

William Hocking and family have moved into the house he bought of George Lang. Geo. Lang and family have moved into the Thrallkill property.

Mrs. Guy Dimmitt met with a serious accident last week, by being trampled on by a horse, breaking the ankle bone and tearing loose the ligaments.

Mrs. Pete Gade returned to her home in Lincoln Monday morning. She brought her baby here for burial. She has the sympathy of the entire community.

Lars Holdt came up from Aurora Tuesday on No. 43 where he has a fine restaurant, to look after his business interests here, returning on No. 44 in the evening.

L. H. Robinson has been reappointed to fill the position of marshal, street and water commissioner. He has made a good officer all around, attending strictly to business.

A. D. Norling, our old time merchant, had quite a painful accident last week. He stepped on a box to reach something and the box broke, breaking the skin all down the shin bone.

Mrs. Joe Cording left on No. 40 Monday morning for McCook, where she represented our local Eastern Star lodge in the Grand Chapter. Mrs. Cording is the Worthy Matron in this lodge.

Mrs. Charles McCormick is home from the hospital again very much improved and looking quite like herself. She is staying with her daughter, Mrs. George Heapy. Clyde is staying on the farm visiting with his brother.

Harve Nelson has finished his harness and shoe shop, and is now a very busy man. Harve intends to put in a stock of harness and A. L. Fletcher, our hardware man, will sell his harness and repairs to him, so go to Harve.

Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Rydberg and daughter, Lillian, and Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Myers, in the Doctor's car and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Burt in their car, motored to Broken Bow Sunday to attend the evangelistic meetings being held there.

W. D. Fisher is ready for the carpenters. Ray Musselman has his excavation for his house. Charles Potter will build this summer or fall, a modern home north of Dr. Rydberg's.

F. C. Purcell, I understand contemplates building, and there are some rumors that our Banker, D. W. Titus, intends to build this summer, and there are others bent on improving their properties and incidentally the town. Of course every one knows we are building a new school house and so let the good work go on.

There are some very substantial improvements going on in Litchfield. George Slote is putting some good and lasting work around his residence, a cement block walk on the north side of his lot high enough to protect it from the road, a cement curb on the front some distance from the walk, that he will fill in with mounds and so blue grass and a cement driveway from main street to his double garage.

Owen Slote has his bungalow well under way. It is 26x34 with a cement block basement the same size, with modern arrangements.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

John B. Hymer, in five reels. This is the story of a girl who went right and the play pleased New York audiences for a year. The book, which was one of the "best sellers," is an absorbing story of the gay New York set. There is hardly a town in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri or the Dakotas where Miss Handworth has not played and those who have not seen her on the stage may be familiar with her on the screen as leading lady in "The Nation's Peril," and "The Great Rub." "The Path Forbidden" will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18.

WHAT'S WORSE THAN A SQUALLING KID ON YOUR HANDS?

OTHER PEOPLE'S CHILDREN - UNCLE FINDS THEM HARD TO LOOSE - WHILE TRYING TO GET RID OF ONE

NOTICE TO AUTOMOBILE OWNERS.

Notice is hereby given, that City Ordinance No. 105 provides that the marshal has authority over the parking or placing of automobiles in the city streets. As the placing of automobiles at the sides of streets interferes with the sprinkling wagon, and also interferes with business coming to the merchants in front of whom such automobiles are placed, automobiles hereafter are to be placed and parked in the center of the business streets as directed by the marshal.

By Order of the City Council and Mayor of Loup City, Nebraska.

A BIG DRAWING CARD.

One of the largest crowds that has been in Loup City, except on some special occasion, assembled here last Saturday. The principal cause of the crowd was James Bartunek, who gave away a fine set of heavy team harness and a washing machine.

At 1:30 o'clock Mr. Bartunek assisted by M. C. Mullick and Dar Grow, started a foot race for these mail boys, with a coaster wagon as the prize for the winner, the same being won by Max Grow. The time was not given out.

Shortly before the drawing took place an auction sale of summer lap robes was held at the store. Earl Keeler was the auctioneer in charge of the sale and disposed of a goodly number of dusters. The drawing was held on the street in front of the store. Claus Plambeck, of Ashton, held the lucky number and got the harness. Charles Placek held the number that won the washing machine.

This is the second lot of premiums to be given away by Mr. Bartunek and the success of the plan is no longer in doubt, as the size of the crowd on Saturday was evidence of the interest taken in them. Mr. Bartunek has an enviable reputation as a harness maker and the fame of his team harnesses extends beyond the borders of our state. It is highly probable that he will make another offering in the near future.

THE BURLINGTON

Leaves 7:05 A. M.
Aurora	10:20 A. M.
Lincoln	12:50 Noon
Hastings	3:10 A. M.
Omaha	3:30 P. M.
St. Joe	6:25 P. M.
Sioux City	7:00 P. M.
Atchison	7:39 A. M.
Des Moines	8:35 P. M.
Kansas City	8:40 P. M.
Red Oak	6:07 P. M.
Creston	7:45 P. M.
Topeka	10:15 P. M.
Burlington	1:26 Next A. M.
Davenport	2:05 Next A. M.
Chicago	7:00 Next A. M.
St. Louis	7:19 Next A. M.
St. Paul	7:30 Next A. M.

Call or phone for rates, time of trains anywhere, when interested. Usual summer excursion tickets will be on sale.

J. A. DANIELSON,

Ticket Agent.

TO THE PATRONS OF MY STUDIO

Owing to the fact that I am at all times swamped with the cheap post card work, (on which the customers expect as good a photo as if he were paying $4 or $5 per dozen), I have decided to quit making post cards unless the patrons are willing to pay me for them in proportion to the other work. The continued advance in the price of photo materials, makes it necessary for me to advance my prices accordingly.—Eisner Studio, Loup City, Neb.

PLAN A BIG DAY.

On Thursday, June 8, will be the eighteenth annual opening day of Jenner's park and we feel confident in saying that little by little and with many ups and downs it is now conceded to be the most original, unique and best kept park between Omaha and Denver. The park always proves a great surprise to the many visitors and is a revelation that such a beautiful park can be found in so small a town.

It is useless to try to explain the many interesting features, for every few feet one goes something of interest is to be seen.

The zoological features this year are greater than before and many new improvements and attractions have been added.

Let us all work together and make the eighteenth annual opening of Jenner's park a grand success. Loup City is justly proud of owning one of the best parks in the state and wishes the surrounding towns to help celebrate the success of this great enterprise.

ANOTHER AUTO ACCIDENT.

While traveling in an auto on the new road south of the Schneiderette place last Sunday afternoon the grade slipped and carried the auto with it down into a ditch, a distance of about ten feet upsetting the machine. Joe Eurick was driving the car, being accompanied by Joe Lewandowski and Frank Janulewicz. Mr. Lewandowski was the only one injured, having several ribs broken and being badly bruised. The machine was being driven slowly at the time, or the accident might have resulted more seriously.

FRESHMEN ENTERTAIN JUNIORS.

The Freshman class of the Loup City High school entertained the Juniors to a May supper, Friday night at the home of Mrs. Dieterich. The supper was served in three courses, as follows: First, rice potatoes, creamed chicken, pickles, hot rolls, and tomato jelly; second, pineapple, cabbage, olives and marguerites and the third, blackberry mousse and cake. At each place was a small May basket, with salted peanuts in them, the baskets being trimmed in the class colors. The evening was spent in numerous games and all enjoyed themselves very much.

A. B. Outhouse has returned from St. Louis, where he attended to important business matters.

Act Quickly

Delay has been dangerous in Loup City.

Do the right thing at the right time. Act quickly in time of danger.

In time of kidney danger Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective.

Plenty of Loup City evidence of their worth.

Mrs. D. L. Adamson, Loup City, says: "For the past ten years, we have used Doan's Kidney Pills in our home and they have always done just as represented. I have been a sufferer from my kidneys for a long time and many weeks was laid up so that I couldn't do a thing. My feet and ankles were swollen and my sight became affected. Backache made me nervous, stiff and lame. After using Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at the Rexall Pharmacy, I received relief."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Adamson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props. Buffalo, N. Y.

NEWS OF ROCKVILLE

Miss Emma Jung was a Loup City visitor Monday between trains.

S. C. Fletcher sold a car-load of hogs to Gray & Olson last Monday.

Niels Jensen, of Boelus, was a Rockville visitor Friday afternoon of last week.

Gray & Olson shipped a car-load of hogs to the South Omaha market last week.

P. K. Petersen, of Ashton, was a Rockville visitor Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Dwehus and children were visitors at Dannebrog last Sunday.

Rudolph Kosch purchased a new Ford car from Kozel & Sorensen last Monday.

The Misses Elida Lund and Alice Tangerman were Loup City visitors on Saturday.

Andrew Hetzel purchased a new Ford runabout from Kozel & Sorensen last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Berndt, of Dannebrog, were Rockville visitors Monday afternoon.

Sheriff Williams, of Loup City, was in town between trains Friday afternoon of last week.

Eugene Stein, G. W. Brammer, and Leo Celmer, autoed to Loup City Saturday on business.