Are You Efficient?

In these days of fierce competition, to succeed requires all our talents. Many earnest, ambitious persons fall short of complete success because of something that holds him back. Very often the cause is eye strain. You can be a better stenographer, salesman, mechanic, baker, housewife—if you will remove the handicap of eye strain. Eye strain can be removed—remember that. So that puts the matter squarely up to you, doesn't it?

We are eye strain experts. Let us examine your eyes and supply glasses that will give you an equal chance with others. We have installed the dark room, which is an absolute necessity to do this fitting. We invite you to inspect our optical parlor. Eyes examined free of charge.

Guaranteed glasses at reasonable prices—$3.00 up.

Kryptok—The efficient bi-focal. Everloct—The screwless mounting. Toric—The modern lens.

D. C. Grow had three fingers on his right hand badly cut and smashed on last Thursday in an accident with an electric fan. The fan was on a stove and going at full speed when it started to fall off. Mr. Grow took hold of the fan to prevent it from falling, without thinking about it being in motion and as a result the fingers were cut and bruised, making some very painful wounds.

If there are any old bachelors in this countryside who are unable to annex a wife they should take heart and buck up. There is still hope even for them. During the next few years Europe will be almost destitute of suitable material for husbands, and fair damsels will be pining their lives away for the mates that never come. Just keep up heart for a time, fellows, and if nothing better turns up you can take that trip abroad and annex a dozen or two.

The national campaign is well under way, but because of the universal interest in the border situation many people are giving the respective candidates scarcely a passing thought. Newspapers are relegating them and the full force of the limelight is focused upon Mexico and the troops on our own side of the border. It is hard lines for the politicians, but the people, no doubt, will live through the distressing ordeal without loss of sleep or flesh.

Those from here who attended the ball game at Rockville last Thursday between the Rockville team and a team of Indians from Genoa were: James Gilbert, Fritz Leschinsky, Chris Johnson, Ernest Rowe, G. W. Colli-priest, O. Benschoter, W. J. Thompson, J. H. Burwell, Robert Jenner, L. Spahr, James Depew, I. C. Smith and son, Carl, Albert Johnson, William Dolling, L. H. Currier and son, E. W. Thompson and Carl and Ted Gasteyer, and O. L. Tockey.

It is surprising how quickly a person can lose interest in a subject that has been uppermost in their minds for a year or more. Since the European war commenced it has been the one great topic of conversation and speculation the world over. Now, so far as we of the United States are concerned, it is a back number, shoved off the map, practically forgotten. Our own little clothes line fair with Mexico is the all absorbing object before the public eye and in the public mind, and just at this time a sick mule on the border is of more importance to us than the outcome of any of the innumerable clashes across the water. Patriotism should and does begin at home.

Patriotism is in the air these days, and it extends from one end of the country to the other, and embraces all classes of citizens from the millionaire to the pauper. That is patriotism to one's flag and country. But there is still another kind of patriotism that is of quite as great importance but is not so generally observed. That is patriotism to the home town, to the schools, the churches, the lodges, the business men, in fact, to everything that pertains to the home life. The more prosperous the home communities of the country, the greater is the power of the country as a single unit. The man who exerts his influence in behalf of his home town uses as great a brand of patriotism as the one who mounts a platform and starts the eagle to screaming.

Some two thousand years ago there was born at Nazareth, He whose teachings have enlightened the world. The events of Jesus' life, from the manger to the ascension, make the most stirring story of all times to all the races of mankind. The Pathe Company, to fill a long-felt want, organized a company of the best actors and produced “The Life of Our Savior,” an accurate, superbly acted, dramatic visualization of Jesus' journey on earth. The compilation of this chronology of Jesus is truly an achievement worthy of the highest praise as it truthfully and geographically portrays with grace and dignity His sufferings and final achievement. This work represents a lifetime of careful study and an immense financial outlay, and because of its tremendous subject is the world's greatest drama. The picture is colored and exquisitely arranged so as to bring to the vision a graphic realization of the infinite simplicity, yet monumental strength of Jesus. At the opera house, Friday, July 21, 19 and 20 cents.
