WORLD'S TITLE AT STAKE.

Wrestling has become a popular sport in Nebraska largely because of the success of Joe Stecker, phenomenal young heavyweight of Dodge county, and Owen Daily, the Kearney county boy who has grasped his way into the lightweight championship of the world. Perhaps the chief factor in the popularity of the sport is the current belief that Stecker and Daily are "on the square;" that these two Nebraska athletes always go "on the level" by giving the public their best efforts on all occasions to "bring home the bacon." In fact, it is a source of pride to many thousands that Stecker and Daily stand out as two conspicuous exponents of square and honest sport.

Daily, the lightweight champion, and Joe Maurell, champion lightweight of Illinois, have been matched to compete in a finish contest Wednesday night, September 6, at the livestock coliseum on the State Fair grounds in Lincoln. The contract, drawn up by "Co." Sherman, in charge of the bout as promoter and stakeholder, provides that unless there is a winner and a loser of the Daily-Maurell match and a referee's decision to that effect, the wrestlers shall not receive a penny of the receipts and that their share shall be divided between the state or thropic hospital and the Catholic orphanage, both of Lincoln. This provision of the agreement forbids any such thing as a stalling contest, tactics which were resorted to by Strangler Lewis in his bout with Stecker last July—and it means that they must "rassle" or not get a copper.

Another factor which gives assurance that the wrestling fans of Nebraska are destined to inspect a thrilling match is that a purse of $1,000 is to go to the victor, in addition to which amount the wrestlers have agreed that they are to collide on the basis of winner take all the receipts. Raye Page, of Friend, Nebraska, manager of Daily, stands ready to back the champion against any challenger in the world for a stake of $5,000 a side or any part thereof. Maurell, the challenger, and Daily both will be in Lincoln a week in advance of the match of September—6 the big day of the State Fair—to round out their training.

HOW HIGH DO YOU AIM IN LIFE?

In this age of great attainments in the arts and sciences, in the trades and professions, we hear much said of the duty of "aiming high" meaning, thereby, to excel in some particular line.

The farmer is urged to develop his soil to the maximum of fertility, the stockman to develop his live stock to the highest point. The manufacturer is not satisfied with an inferior product. The lawyer aspires to be a leader in his profession, while the doctor would be a final authority on the ills of the flesh.

This is all commendable and as it should be, for it is just such an universal ambition to excel that has made of these United States the great nation she is today. But there is one industry in which, without careful thought, we as a nation are in grave danger of retrogression of disintegration. That is in the building of character, in the making of good citizens.

Too many of us appear content to live just within the law, to keep just within the lines, giving scarcely a thought to the higher duties of life that lie before us.

Should we not give more attention to the creation of a high grade of manhood, as well as a perfect horse or hog? Should we not strive to produce men who will raise the standard of citizenship to a higher plane than that to which we, their fathers, have attained? The old adage, "like father, like son," has long ago been exploded in the brute creation. It can be so in the realm of human affairs, is so in innumerable instances.

While it may not be possible for us to scale earth's loftiest mountain peak, yet does that give us license to grovel at the base of the meanest hill?

WANTED A CURE.

With the announcement that he was a dipsomaniac, a roaring rum hound, and that an enlistment would probably cure him of the drink habit, a well-dressed young man applied for entry into the United States marine corps at its local recruiting station.

"I read in the newspapers that they broke up or auctioned off all the wine glasses and I believe an enlistment in your sober, respectable service would do more for me than a course at an inebriate's school. I was thinking of matriculating at Keeley institute this fall but—"

"Belay the chatter," said Marine Sergeant Austin Fredericks, in charge of the recruiting station, "and stow your ideas about the marine corps of forcing a course in sobriety. We want men but we want them sober. There's no room in our service for the man who drinks to excess. Sorry old chap, but we can't take you."

The drink afflicted applicant left the recruiting station vowing to enlist in some military organization even though it were the salvation army.

The wisdom of the fool often puts the wise man to shame.

The "SILENT SMITH"

—Model 8 shows what should now be expected of a typewriter.

Ball Bearing, Long Wearing

The success of the L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriters has been due to the fact that the wants of the user have dictated its construction. The user has decided in favor of certain improvements now incorporated in Model 8. Among them are:

- Silence of Operation—The most silent running efficient typewriter ever placed on the market. Absolute silence has been very nearly attained.
- Decimal Tabulator—A help in billing and tabulating. There is no extra charge for this convenience.
- Variable Line Spacer—Enables the operator to start on a given line and space from point of starting; also to write on ruled lines whose spacing varies from typewriter spacing. A great help in card work.
- Faster Ribbon Feed—Insures new place of impact for each typeface.
- Choice of Carriage Return—Upon special order the new left hand carriage return will be furnished in place of the right hand return.

All the important features of previous models have been retained—ball bearing carriage, typebars and capital shift, back spacer, key-controlled ribbon, removable platen, protected type, flexible paper feed and automatic ribbon reverse.

Write for New Catalog of Model 8. It will explain why the L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter is a synonym for superior service.
