Jess Manchester has purchased a new Maxwell car from his brother Ira of North Loup, who is agent for them. They brought the new car home the first of the week. It is a 1917 Model and a dandy one.

The bills are out announcing the Mike Pruss sale for Tuesday, December 19. He expects to move to Loup City and be among the city birds. He is sure was a good farmer and a good neighbor and we regret to lose this family.

Si Brown and son are shelling corn on the Creek. While shelling for George Barnett and son they had the misfortune to get one of the cog wheels broken, and they have been having a little rest until they get it fixed up.

We have been informed that Lawrence Spotanski has been losing his hogs. This sure sounds bad. He has been feeding high priced corn so long, then have them die on him. There has been several others on the creek who lost a few head.

IT HAPPENS ABOUT THIS TIME OF YEAR

School Dist. No. 66 is planning for a program and pie social Dec. 23. Everybody is invited to come. Ladies bring your nice pies and gents do not leave your pocketbooks at home, but bring them, as these pies will be fat ones and will require fat pocketbooks to buy one.

This world is a great big world, full of curiosities and all kinds of people, but if one will stop to look and think the matter over, they will learn that it takes money to make the world and if one has plenty they have friends, and if you haven't any you haven't very many friends. We will leave it to this beautiful world if it is not so.

There will be a fine entertainment and box social given in Dist. 24, next Tuesday night, December 19th. Ladies are requested to bring their pretty boxes well filled and gents come prepared to buy them. Everybody come and enjoy a winter's evening of fun.

Without a populous community all men are at a disadvantage in its accumulation, and as the community grows in population the opportunities for accumulating wealth increases.

This by the way of reminding you that however "self-made" you may boast yourself, you are in reality "community-made," and you owe a debt to your community. And the size of that debt is in exact proportion to the amount of your holdings in the community.

Now if you owe this debt—and we do not think you will dispute it—isn't it up to you to discharge it when called upon to do so?

How many times has your community called upon you in vain when plans for its betterment were being made? A road was to be built for which funds were not available. Did you contribute? A school house was to be repaired and the grounds beautified. How much did you help? Your church was old and out of date, and the membership wanted to rebuild. Did you chip in?

In short, you are paying your debt to the world and to your community in the only logical way—assisting to the extent of your ability to make it a better community for your children and your children's children to live in.

Now you will admit that you owe to your parents a debt you can never repay—to them. The only way you can possibly pay is to pass it on to another generation. That is nature's eternal plan.

Just so you can pass on to the community of the future what the community of the past has done for you. Will you pay the debt?

It makes not a bit of difference who you are or what you are, this town has done more for you than you have done for it. You may be rich, or you may be poor, or just in moderate circumstances, but in either case your home town has done much for you that you have never recognized or repaid. This statement is worthy of serious consideration by every citizen who believes in giving as he receives. If you give it the consideration it deserves you will get busy right away and do our full share towards making this a bigger and better and more prosperous town in every way.
