CHING RULER A "SUICIDE"

The Convenient Death of the Emperor Is Announced.

IS OFFICIALLY MADE PUBLIC.

Assassination Believed to Have Been Resorted To by the Dowager Empress—How the Public Was Prepared—A Minister's Banishment.

LOAN, Oct. 3.—A dispatch from Shanghai says telegrams furnished by the Ta'ai, or local governor, to a Chinese paper there, allege that the emperor of China committed suicide September 21, after signing the decrees which placed the dowager empress as head of affairs in China. This, its added, is understood to mean that the emperor was assassinated.

All the English-speaking secretaries and the principal members of the Chinese foreign office, is further announced have been seized and banished.

At the time the resignation of the emperor Kuang Hsu was announced a dispatch from Shanghai announced his death, his report was dealt from Peking, as the emperor is rarely seen except by a few immediate attendants the matter has been in doubt. It was announced in the decree that in view of the complications of the situation in the empire the dowager empress, the emperor's aunt, had, at his earnest request, assumed control of the government. At the same time guarded statements were given out that the emperor was in poor health and that he could not live long. These, it was generally believed, were to prepare the public for the news of his sudden death.

Among the reforms advocated by the emperor that led to his downfall were his determination to allow a free press and to introduce European dress. He had ordered all newspapers brought to him so that he might find as directly as possible the condition of public opinion. He had also appeared in public in European costume. It was suspected that he had designs against the sacred queue.

Two or three days before the dowager empress came into power, it is said the emperor informed Kang Yuwei, one of his chief advisers, of the plot, and urged him to escape, telling him that he himself would be assassinated.

According to a dispatch to the London Times from its Peking correspondent, the imperial decree issued yesterday dismissing from office and banishing to the Chinese Turkistan, Chang Yin Houan, Li Hung Chang's opponent in the foreign office, and former minister at Washington, "acquits the dismissed official of complicity with Kang Yuwei, the Cantonese reformer, but convicts him vaguely as crafty and treacherous."

The true reason for his dismissal and banishment, the Times correspondent asserts, is that Chang Yin Houan was a powerful supporter of the emperor's party.

Kuang Hsu, the emperor, was born twenty-seven years ago, and ascended the throne in 1875. His aunt, the dowager empress, was regent until he was proclaimed emperor. Since that time she has been the power behind the throne. The empress is 65 years old. She was sold as a slave by her parents and was bought by a viceroi, who sent her to the emperor as a present. At that time she had the reputation as the most beautiful woman in the empire. The emperor fell in love with her and made her queen of his harem. Their son he proclaimed heir to the throne.

As the emperor grew old he allowed his young wife to control the affairs of the empire. His ministers despised her as only a woman, but when they expressed their dislike they lost their heads. It became unpopular to criticize. After the emperor's death her son came to the throne, but died in a few years. For sixteen years she was the real ruler of China.

The present emperor never succeeded in escaping his aunt's control. When he selected his wives his aunt vetoed his choice and made him marry an ugly niece of her own. It is said she feared the women of his choice would deprive her of her influence.

The assumption of power by the dowager empress is believed, in spite of official Chinese denials, to mean the restoration of the reactionary party to the ascendancy and the domination of Russian instead of British influence.

MINERS HOLD UP A TRAIN.

Pana, Ill., Strikers Resort to Desperate Methods—Negroes Are Sent Home.

TOWER HILL, Ill., Oct. 3.—Three hundred striking union miners from Pana held up a special Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern train conveying fifty-five Washington, Ind., negro miners to Pana to take the place of union miners. The negroes were taken from the cars and compelled to walk back to Tower Hill, where they were locked up in the depot until 10 o'clock last night. At that hour the negroes were placed on board an east-bound train and taken back to Indiana, at the expense of the Miners' union.

The holdup of the train was perfectly executed and was a bold stroke on the part of the union miners. Engineer George Warsham of Pana was in charge of the train, and on being flagged brought the train to a stop. The engine was uncoupled from the coaches and run a short distance, the engineer being kept under guard of guns. Masked men then entered the front doors of the train, while their associates surrounded the coaches. The negroes were then marched out back doors and walked down the track to Tower Hill.

News of the capture of the blacks having reached Sheriff Coburn at Pana, he sent an armed posse of deputies, including negroes from Springfield camp, toward this town to intercept the miners on their return. Sheriff Coburn's forces had not arrived at a late hour. In case they fail to appear the miners will remain here over night and take a roundabout way home. It is believed that a battle will be precipitated if the Coburn forces show up in this vicinity. The sheriff of this county refused to interfere with the union men.

HUGE FOREST FIRE LOSS.

The Flames Did Millions of Dollars Damage in Wisconsin.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 3.—The forest fires which have been burning in various places throughout Western Wisconsin for the past few days were fanned into furious storms of flame by yesterday's winds, and did great damage through Chippewa, Barron, Dunn, St. Croix and Peak counties.

A very general destruction of telegraph wires makes the reports very incomplete, but it seems the villages of Clayton, Almena and Poskin have been wholly or partly destroyed; that Cumberland has suffered heavy losses, and that Glenwood, Barron, Prentice, Phillips and Turtle Lake were saved only by great efforts. Reports of loss of life are coming in, but have not been verified, except in one instance.

A railroad bridge and trestle over 700 feet long, on the Soo line, west of Barron, was burned last night, and trains are running by another route.

Fires have been checked in places by rains, and the subsidence of the winds. A rough estimate places the aggregate loss at $3,000,000 to $5,000,000.

TRAIN ROBBER ARRESTED.

W. W. Lowe, a Railroad Man, in Custody at Kansas City.

IS JESSE JAMES, JR., IN IT?

A Letter From the Famous Bandit's Son and Another From John Kennedy Found on the Suspect—Police Will Not Divulge the Contents.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 3.—The police have in custody William W. Lowe, a railroad switchman, who, they declare, is one of the men who held up and robbed the Missouri Pacific train near Leeds the night of September 23. The officers claim that between statements made by Lowe and his wife they have enough evidence to convict him of the robbery and to warrant the arrest of several other men.

Sensational developments will doubtless follow the arrest of Lowe. The police assert that he had letters in his pocket from Jesse James, jr., son of the notorious bandit, and John Kennedy, the man who is believed to have been implicated in half a dozen train robberies around Kansas City.

Lowe has been under the surveillance of the detectives since the time Kennedy was arrested for the murder of Miss Schumacher. He and young James were almost constantly at Kennedy's trial and are known to have been on terms of friendship with him.

Young Jesse James has borne a good reputation. Chief Hayes admits finding the letters from Jesse James, jr., and John Kennedy in Lowe's possession, but he will not divulge their contents. However, he acknowledges that the letters will form very important evidence when the gang has all been captured and brought to trial.

The police proceeded on the train robber case on the theory that Kennedy's friends had planned and executed the job. Lowe was among the number who testified for Kennedy at his trial. He is a railroad man and was reared in Cracker-Neck. So there was no surprise among the police when a woman who lives near the Loves in West Sixteenth street gave information that Lowe had told his wife that he had a hand in the last Missouri Pacific robbery. Detectives Harbaugh, Sanderson, Bryant and Keshlar were at once sent to arrest Lowe. He was taken to the Savoy hotel and "sweated." Mrs. Lowe was also examined by the police and she gave sufficient evidence to warrant holding her husband.

The officers tried to keep Lowe under cover until they could forge a solid chain of evidence about him, but they decided this morning that it was useless to keep the arrest a secret any longer.

There are not fewer than twenty-five detectives working on the train robbery case now. This morning six new detectives came in from St. Louis.

WELL EQUIPPED IN MANILA.

The 10,000 Spanish Troops Gave Up 25,000 New Mousers.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 3.—Colonel Samuel Sturgis, United States army, has arrived in St. Paul from Manila, which place he left in company with General Babcock August 30. Colonel Sturgis has been the assistant adjutant general of the army corps at Manila and the Department of Manila under General Merritt.

Of the volunteer troops he says that they endured constant hardships without a murmur or complaint of any kind. Their patience and endurance were remarkable and proved that they were a high class of men. Speaking of the land battle at Manila he said:

"Our first count of the Spanish made out 10,000 men of them, all well armed and equipped, and all in good physical condition. We were surprised at the completeness of their equipment, which, as I noticed, was almost perfect. The 25,000 Mousers surrendered were new and in good condition. From the condition of the Spaniards it was apparent that they were by no means starving, although food was scarce in the city. Their ammunition was abundant and their service pieces were in good order. Many of the Spaniards had money and their entire force was remarkably effective."

"The insurgents are rather decent fellows, considering that all they know of the world they have learned from the Spaniards. They believe that all other people are like the Spaniards, who have abused them, taxed and retarded them, kept them down and oppressed them and have not allowed them to do anything for themselves. They could not for a moment comprehend our motives, our quiet and orderly work of restoration. It was not the Spanish method. They are bright, anxious to learn and intelligent."

"Several of the leaders called on General Merritt for a conference. They were well mannered and intelligent, and when General Merritt explained to them that he had not come to interfere with their rights and explained other features of the situation, they went away satisfied. The interview was entirely satisfactory."

"We had little sickness, and I think our immunity was due mainly to the fact the men did not sleep on the ground, but on the beds of bamboo, raised above the ground."

HOBSON'S CHOICE SPAIN'S.

Senator Hanna Discusses Outlook in Peace Negotiations.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 3.—The Leader has from its Washington correspondent an interview with Senator Hanna concerning the Philippine question, which is believed to represent the views of President McKinley.

"I do not know what the instructions given to our peace commissioners are," said the senator, "but so far as concerns the negotiations which will be instituted in Paris I can see no other result than that Spain will have to relinquish her sovereignty over, not only Luzon island, but the entire Philippine archipelago. Spain has no reason to expect to be able to retain any portion of the group. She went into the war and lost, and now ought to be prepared to suffer all the consequences which such a defeat implies."

"It is well understood that Spain must abide by the verdict of our peace commissioners, whatever that may prove to be, for she is in no fit condition to renew the conflict which has resulted so disastrously to her."

Regarding the reports which come from Paris that one of Spain's propositions to our commissioners will be that the United States pay her $400,000,000 for the relinquishment of the Philippines, Senator Hanna said significantly:

"We are not paying money for or buying territory which we now control."

THE LONE WOMAN TRAVELER.

The "new woman" doesn't propose to miss the delights of travel simply for lack of a protector. She knows how to take care of herself, and when she starts off on a little journey nowadays it isn't with the nervous dread that something's going to happen before she reaches her destination—if ever she does, but she proceeds at once to make herself comfortable and to thoroughly enjoy her little rub up against the outside world.

But although she rests secure in a delightful feeling of safety, it has never occurred to the general woman that "making her to travel in safety" is a business all in itself.

She may have heard, for example, that the great New York Central Railroad is the only route in the United States that is completely equipped with the world-famous lock and block system of signals, but that doesn't mean anything to her until you explain that by this system every foot over which she travels is carefully and unceasingly watched and signaled day and night, and that collision is practically impossible, because a train cannot enter a given block or section until the train ahead has passed out, and that even if there should be another train following on the same track the engineer knows all about it through the electric telegraph, which is part of the system, thus making assurance doubly sure.

If the lone woman happens to be going to New York City she need have no dread of landing alone in the confusion of a big, strange place if she travels by the New York Central. All she has to do is to speak to one of the red-capped attendants—free service—who will carry her bag, answer her questions and show her to cab, car or elevated train.

Another thing, she lands right in the heart of the city within a step of a dozen or more of its leading hotels—and she should bear in mind that this is the only railroad depot in all New York City.
