The first bill presented in the senate after organizing was by Prout, of Gage, and provides that our Australian ballot law be so remodeled that no candidates name shall appear more than once. This seems to have been the original law as passed by the populists in 1891. The bill was dret introduced by the present Secretary of State. But in its original purity it did not meet the demands of averacious fusionists, so in 1897 the law was so amended that a voter only escaped voting the pop ticket by voting the republican ticket, as the other columns, were filled with populist names by the shrowd manipulations of pop nominies. It is still fresh in the memo-Ty of our citizens how the pop nomluce for senator of this district worked the clandestine democratic semyention held in this town in Oct. last so as to have his name appear in their ed ama It is to be haped that a une law will be passed making it impose the for this wholesale steal ing of a ballot to be vargied on by
