MANILA, P. I. Nov. 26, 1898.
DEAR MOTHER—I take my pen to answer your ever kind and well-come letter which came to hand today. I got another letter from you a few days ago and will answer them both at once. The mail comes very irregular. We are having very nice weather here now but it rains pretty nearly every day yet, it is not very muddy in the city. The streets are reasonably well paved so that the water runs off into the bay. We are quartered in barrack's now, we have been on the ground floor ever since we have been in the city, until a few days ago when they moved us to the top floor, as it was claimed to be unhealthy to sleep near the ground. There is not so many of the boys sick now as has been. They are becoming more used to this hot climate. You said in your letter that the weather was cold in Nebraska. I wish we could have a little of that kind of weather here as it is so hot that a white man cannot work. We have but very little to do except wash our clothes, we only drill one hour a day and take our turn on guard about once in five days. There is a command now on transports out in the bay that cannot be landed until the peace treaty is finally arranged or fighting is resumed. I have no idea when we will get home, or whether this regiment will be mustered out soon or not, but I will embrace the first opportunity. I am well and trust that this will find you all the same. There is some talk here of sending the boys that are sick home. I would like to be at home just now to eat dinner with you, just to see how it would seem once more. This army grub get awful tiresome but I guess I will have to stand it a while longer. I will close for this time hoping to hear from you soon again. From your affectionate son, SIMPSON CRISS, JR.

Dispatches from Hong Kong, and Madrid, both apparently inspired by the same parties, as they both read alike, say, there is 30,000 insurgents surrounding Manila, and they declare for independence or death. The wish in this case seems to be father to the thought, but there is little doubt that if Aguinaldo, provokes a contest it will be principally denise for the Malay.

WAIT FOR THE BIG SHOW!

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.
There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it.—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney trouble if allowed to advance to attack the vital organs, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Then the richness of the blood—the albumen—leaks out, and the sufferer has Bright's Disease, the worst form of kidney trouble. Kidney trouble can be detected although it be slow and deceptive. First, by analysis of the urine; second, by the simple test of setting the urine aside in a glass or bottle for twenty-four hours, when a cloudy or brick dust settling indicates it.

It was for just such trouble that in His infinite power and goodness the Great Physician caused Swamp-Root to grow for the benefit of suffering mankind, leaving it for His servant, Dr. Kilmer, the great kidney and bladder specialist to discover it and make it known to the world. Its wonderful efficacy in promptly curing the most distressing cases is truly marvelous. You may have a sample bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, by mail free. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper. Druggists, in fifty-cent or dollar sizes.

A Fleshly Consumptive

Did you ever see one? Did you ever hear of one? Most certainly not. Consumption is a disease that invariably causes loss of flesh.
If you are light in weight, even if your cough is only a slight one, you should certainly take

Scott's Emulsion
of cod liver oil with hypophosphites. No remedy is such a perfect preventive to consumption. Just the moment your throat begins to weaken and you find you are losing flesh, you should begin to take it.
And no other remedy has cured so many cases of consumption. Unless you are far advanced with this disease, Scott's Emulsion will hold every inducement to you for a perfect cure.

All Druggists, etc. and Dr. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, N. Y.
