A RACE FOR LIFE, BIT BY A DEADLY INSECT.

Train Delayed Several Hours on Account of a Wreck.

In the spring of 1895 while in Austin, Texas, where I had been sent for my health, was sitting in front of the Driscoll hotel, when from a carriage hastily driven from the depot, two gentlemen emerged. One was an elderly, well dressed gentleman of about sixty, his face was swollen twice its natural size, his eyes and mouth almost closed. The other gentleman who was his attendant stopped to ask me if I could refer him to a first class physician. I recommended him to the one who was then attending me and at the same time asked him about the disease of his friend. In reply he stated that about three weeks before he had been bitten by some kind of a spider; and while they had tried the skill of the best and most noted physicians in their section of the country, none had been of any advantage to him. About two months ago a growth had appeared in the glands in the side of the neck. This was removed by an operation but soon reappeared. A late conference of the doctors had reported that he could not live; we being, however, undecided as to their prognosis, intended to try again. We are now enroute to Louisville, Ky., to consult the specialist, Dr. Rea of that city. Our train being delayed a few hours, we were compelled to remain in Austin until evening.

You will not see Dr. Rea in Louisville. I replied, as I remember seeing in the Houston Post where Dr. Rea will visit Houston, Texas, in a few days, therefore you had better stop there and save yourself the journey. "What?" muttered the sufferer between his half closed teeth. Dr. Rea in Texas; how unfortunate.

"They left Austin that night and upon arriving at Houston the next morning, found that Dr. Rea was due in Houston one day later. Dr. Rea arrived in due time was informed of the suffering and importance of the patient waiting and he hastened to make an early examination of his case.

Without asking him a question, Dr. Rea said to him: "My dear sir, it is my opinion that you have been bitten by some poisonous insect; it is also my opinion that one of your parents or very near relatives has died of a cancer and that your system being especially liable to develop cancer, has only been aggravated by this bite which has produced a cancerous growth. With the proper treatment your case can be cured. Do you want me to doctor you?"

"Yes," said the gentleman.

No sooner had his permission been granted than Dr. Rea injected something to make him rest and then sent him to his room to lie down. Being treated in the same manner the next day he started to his home stopping in Austin for a few hours between trains. I saw him again at the hotel.

He assured me that he was feeling better and that Dr. Rea had promised him a permanent and lasting cure in from three to five months. Being interested in his case, I gave him my address. Six months afterwards I received a letter from him saying that Dr. Rea had cured him and that he was in better health than he had been for years. I need not say that I changed doctors and in a short time Dr. Rea had cured me permanently. I met a number of patients while in Texas, as I have in all sections of the country I have been in, they all tell me of two miraculous features in Dr. Rea's practice. His unerring ability to tell a patient of his disease without asking a question and speed and ease with which he cures the most malignant disease. I know what I say, when I say that Dr. Rea can take any sick person in a few moments tell every phase of their disease better than they can tell him. I have recently returned from a trip through the West, stopping in Iowa. Have learned that Dr. Rea has over seven hundred patients in that state. His books show in connection with the investigations of the facts, that in cancer, consumption, tumor, paralysis, fatty degeneration of the heart, kidney and nervous diseases that he does not lose one case in ninety that his patients are those having the worse cases of chronic diseases and have been given up by other physicians as incurable, and yet these incurable, malignant diseases seem to be handled by him with the utmost ease and uniform success. The names of the patients whom he has cured in Iowa and other places throughout the country have come to my notice.

J. W. Johnson, Curlew, Ia., cured of piles.
Daughter of Ole Solmanen, Swan Lake, Ia., (county changed) cured of chronic rheumatism.
F. W. Tifton, Decatur, Neb., cured of nervous prostration.
Daughter of Andrew Mitchell, Armstrong, Ia., cured of catarrhal deafness in two months treatment.
Mrs. D. C. Tripp, Grettenger, Ia., cured of chronic female trouble.

C. B. Hurlbut, Carroll, Neb., cured of skin disease of long standing.
J. A. Hise, Shelby, Ia., cured of bad piles.
Mrs. Mary Smith, Ponder, Neb., catarrh of stomach, cured her in three months.
F. D. Jacobson, Washita, Ia., elevated eye leg, cured in two months.

W. O. Clark, Laurel, Ia., cured of nervousness and kidney trouble.

O. Doyle, Atlassa, Ia., cured of a very severe case of catarrh after having doctored with others for years.

Mr. Hooper, Waterloo, Ia., cured of nerve and brain trouble.

James Weldon, Cedar Rapids, Ia., cured of blood trouble in a few months.

Clinton Knout, Cedar Rapids, Ia., cured of nervousness, and lost vitality, after many Chicago, doctors failed.

Mrs. Henry Frost, Iowa City, Ia., cured of female trouble and liver spots.

Mrs. McFarland, Independence, Ia., wife of a prominent business man, cured of fungus growth on the face after it had almost taken her life.

Wm. Brown Waterloo, Ia., railroad man on the Northwestern railroad, cured of rheumatism in three weeks. He had not done a lick of work for eight months.

Rev. E. H. Woody, Dayton, O., cured of nervous dyspepsia and catarrh of the stomach after having given up all hope of relief.

Miss Kate Linder, student of state university Iowa City, Ia., cured of eczema and catarrhal deafness.

Mrs. A. L. Hines, wife of a well-to-do farmer near Red Wing, Minn., cured of lameness of eight years standing.

Charley Wood, son of J. B. Wood, of Jonesboro, Ga., cured of double curvature of the spine, after all others had failed.

J. E. Burns Milford, Ia., cured of deafness in twenty minutes. Had been afflicted for five years.

Chas. Wolf, Fairmont, Minn., cured of nervous debility and lost vitality.

These are names of a few who represent the most prominent people in the state, who possess every faculty necessary to be treated but under the ordinary methods got no relief. The prominence of these people, the seriousness of their disease and the quickness by which Dr. Rea cured them are sufficient reasons to prove that he is one of the greatest specialists of modern times.

E. B. WOOD,
Chicago Board of Trade.
