After the vote the speaker rather unexpectedly announced the committee selections and the reading of the lists was followed with intense eagerness by the member, whose opportunities for distinction depend largely upon the committee assignments.

The vote upon the currency bill was taken immediately after the reading of the journal. Neither a motion to recommit nor an offer of a substitute was in order by the terms of the special rule under which the house was operating.

Gaines of Tennessee asked if it was in order to recommit with instructions to report back to a free coinage bill. "It is not," replied the speaker.

The bill was then read a third time and placed on its final passage,

GENERAL LAWTON SHOT.

Dies on Firing Line, a Victim to Bullet of Filipino Sharpshooter.

MANILA, Dec. 20 .- Major General Henry W. Lawton has been shot and Supreme Court Reverses Decision Folding killed at San Mateo. He was standing in front of his troops, was shot in the breast and died immediately.

General Lawton started from Manila last night with cavalry under Captain Lockett and battalions of the Twenty fifth and Twenty-seventh infantry under Lieutenant Colonel Sargent, for the purpose of capturing San Mateo, where Geronomo was said to have 300 insurgents. General Lawton left home Monday night and had returned from his northern operations Saturday to lead an expedition through Mariquina valley, which has been an insurgent stronghold throughout the war. The valley had several times been invaded, but never held by the Americans. General Seronomo was supposed to have there the largest organized force north of Manila and General Otis wished to garrison Mariquina. The night was one of the worst of the season. A terrific rain had begun and is still continuing.

Accompanied by his staff and Troop I, Fourth cavalry, General Lawton set out at 9 o'clock in advance of the main force, consisting of the Eleventh cavalry and one battalion each of the Twentieth and Twenty-seventh infantry, which started from La Loma at midnight. With a small escort he led the way through an almost pathless country, a distance of fifteen miles over hills and hrough canebreak and deep mud, the horses climbing the rocks and sliding down the hills. Before day, break the command had reached the head of the valley.

San Mateo was attacked at 8 o'clock and a three hours' fight ensued. This resulted in but few casualities on the American side apart from the death of General Lawton, but the attack was difficult because of the natural defenses of the town. General Lawton was walking along the firing line within 300 yards of a small sharpshooters' trench, conspicuous in the big white helmet he always wore and a light yellow raincoat. He was also easily distingishable because of his commanding stature. The sharpshooters directed several close shots, which clipped the grass nearby. His staff officers called General Lawton's attention to the danger he was in, but he only laughed with his usual contempt for bu'lets.

Suddenly he exclaimed, "I am shot," clenching his hands in a desperate effort to stand erect, and fell into the arms of a staff officer.

Orderlies rushed across the field for surgeons, who dashed up immediately, but their efforts were useless. The body was taken to a clump of bushes and laid upon a stretcher, the familiar white helmet covering the face of the dead general. Almost at this moment the cneers of the American troops rushing into San Mateo were mingling with the rifle volleys. After the fight six stalwart cavalrymen forded the river to the town, carrying the litter on their shoulders, the staff preceding with the colors and a cavalry escort following.

The decision of the court in the Bartley bondsmen case holds that the governor only approves a bond of a state official and that the same does not become binding until filed with the secretary of state. The failure of an official to file a bond within the time required by law creates a vacancy in that office.

Weaver Insurance Law.

LINCOLN, Dec. 21 .- Sections 36 and 37 of the Weaver insurance law, providing for the payment of fees for licenses and levying of taxes by the insurance commissioners, were declared unconstitutional, leaving the entire act void. The decision, however, does not say that the legislature has no authority to change the insurance supervision from the auditor's office to a commission created by a legislative act. It is held that the taxation sections were the inducement for the passage of the act. According to the decision the law contravenes section 1 of article ix of the constitution, which provides that every person or corporation shall pay a tax in proportion to the value of his or ner property. This decision of the court will, of course knock out the new insurance department, and it is not likely that the auditor will allow the salary claims of the insurance employes.

Judge Norval, in writing the opinion on the insurance commission case.

closes as follows: "If the motive inducement which prompted the enactment of said chapter 47 was merely a desire to transfer the insurance department of the state from the auditor to the governor, as suggested by counsel for respondent, it is very evident that the act would most likely have been differently framed and the provisions of said sections 36 and 37, so far as they attempt to exempt insurance companies from taxation, would have been omitted The troops filed bareheaded, through | therefrom. "Whereas, The beet sugar industry of Nebraska and other states has suffered continuously since its inauguration from changes of political and economical conditions, adverse legislation and events beyond the power of producers to control; and

"Whereas, It is certain that the reduction or abolition of duties on cane sugar grown in the West Indies and Philippine Islands, historically the very sugar of our home producers have been protected against for nearly a century, would put in jeopardy the hopes and welfare of our farmers; and.

Increase in Freight Charges. LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 25 .-- On December 1 the various railroads doing business in Nebraska put into operation for the second time during the past three years the system of charging for the transportation of all kinds of freight by the 100 pounds instead of by the car lot. It is claimed by shippers that this is an increase in rates and the State Board of Transportation came to this conclusion after a thorough investigation in 1897.

After the change was announced by the railroads several weeks ago the matter was taken up by the Board of Transportation, but no action was taken at the time for the reason, it was asserted, that the new tariff sheets had not been published and that there was no way of ascertaining whether the adoption of the new system would increases rates. A few days later the tariff sheets were issued and an examination showed that the rates named were similar, in most instances, to those charged under the 100-pound system in 1897.

HITS THE WILD WEST SHOWS.

No More Indians Leave the Reservations for Exhibition.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.-A new departure in the policy of the Department of the Interior is emphasized by unequivocal refusals which have met all recent requests for loans of Indians for exhibition purposes, and Secretary Hitchcock and Commissioner of Indian Affairs Jones have determined to stop the abuses of the privileges and have so stated in a number of communications lately. Mr. Jones said today: 'There will be no more Indians permitted to leave their reservations for wild west exhibition purposes. They cannot secure the consent of the Indian bureau for their exhibition, save it be along the lines showing the progress of Indian education. The day of the department's permitting Indians to be let for wild west shows and such affairs is past. It demoralizes the Indians, many of whom would dress in citizens' clothes and otherwise conform to more civilizer ways but for the dollars and cents there is in continuing their customs.'
