England's national sport has been hunting wild boars in India, but of late they have changed their hunting grounds.

The man who can tell us where Agonaldo is will deserve as much credit as the fellow that can make it clear who ate Roger Williams.

Latest advice from Kentucky, say that the pen has been substituted for the shot gun, but they have not yet acknowledged that it is the mightier.

The amount of rock and dirt removed in excavating the great Chicago drainage canal, it is claimed, would make a pile 52 feet high and 1 mile square. The work was 7 years in completion and cost $31,000,000.

Does it take a philosopher to see through the gauzy film that covers the wriggings of the "boy orator of the Platte"? He has come head on against so many questions of public interest and then backed off, that one cannot tell to see his track if going south or coming back.

The stars and stripes have been raised over two additional islands in the Philippine group. The U. S. gun boat, Princeton, was entrusted with the task and the result was Uncle Sam has again expanded. These are two islands that lay north of 20 degrees of latitude and were not included in the treaty of Paris.

The proposed plan of the Czar of Russia a year ago to call a peace conference of all the great nations of the world for the purpose of hereafter averting war and instead submitting all international questions to arbitration, seems to have been a slippery stroke of policy for the purpose of allowing Russia more time to prepare herself for future conquests.

Hardly had England gotten into her south African war than Russia extends her power in several different coveted directions, which the fear of Great Britain had kept her from attempting in the past. She already has received concessions from Persia that allows her to build and operate a railroad from her southern border south east across Persia, to the Indian ocean, which will give her splendid competing chances for commercial supremacy in that part of the globe and also give her the long desired opportunity of nullifying Great Britain's influence in Asia.

When England has disposed of her Transvaal difficulties there seems to be a first class probability of storm in Europe.

these great powers were snarling at us, we find George Canning, British foreign secretary, suggesting to our minister at London, Rush, that "Great Britain would co-operate with America in resisting the resubjugation of the Spanish-American colonies. It still rings in our ears, remember Hampton roads, and we do, and we also remember Napoleon III, when he erected a throne in Mexico, and seated Maximilian thereon in his endeavor to steal Central America while our civil war was in progress and our hands were tied. While England has been our enemy she has also been our friend, and her position less than two years ago should reach the sympathy of the American heart. The pro-Boer meetings that are being held in this country, are only propogandas of pea nut politics for the benefit of the democratic and populist party, and would not be heard of only for the capital unprincipled politicians expect to make out of the movement.

An Editors Life Saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

During the early part of October, 1896, I contracted a bad cold which settled on my lungs and was neglected until I feared that consumption had appeared in an incipient state. I was constantly coughing and trying to expel something which I could not. I became alarmed and after giving the local doctor a trial, bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the result was immediate improvement, and after I had used three bottles my lungs were restored to their healthy state.—B. S. EDWARDS, Publisher of The Review, Wyant, Ill. For sale by Odendahl Bros.

Let the Man Reform Before Marriage.

"A girl should never marry a man that she may reform him," writes Margaret Sangster, in the February Ladies Home Journal. "If he is in need of reformation let him prove himself worthy by turning from evil and setting his face steadfastly and perseveringly to good before he asks a girl to surrender herself and her life to him. Nor should a girl be too impatient with father, mother and friends if they counsel delay in deciding a matter which is to influence her whole career and her lover's, when they, with clearer eyes than her own, perceive in him an unsuitability to her."

Help... Nature

Babies and children need proper food, rarely ever medicine. If they do not thrive on their food something is wrong. They need a little help to get their digestive machinery working properly.

will generally correct this difficulty.

If you will put from one-fourth to half a teaspoonful in baby's bottle three or four times a day you will soon see a marked improvement. For larger children, from half to a teaspoonful, according to age, dissolved in their milk. If you so desire, will very soon show its great nourishing power. If the mother's milk does not nourish the baby, she needs the emulsion. It will show an effect at once both upon mother and child.

CULINARY DEPARTMENT.

(JOSEPH CHURCH, Editor.)

Chocolate Pudding without eggs.—One qt. of milk, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 sqrs. of chocolate, grated, 4 table spoonsful corn starch, piece of butter the size of an egg, boil milk, sugar chocolate and butter together, add starch dissolved in a little water, boil at side of stove about two minutes longer, wet cups in cold milk or water, fill about 1/2 full, let cool, turn out into saucers of sweetened cream or yolk of egg custard, flavor with vanilla.

Chocolate Custard made in same way by omitting one spoonful of starch and meringue over with white of eggs beaten stiff with two table spoonsful of sugar to one egg, granulated sugar is best, for it will be more light and crisp.

Apricot Pudding.—Take a small pudding pan, put in the bottom two layers of apricot: sprinkle with about 1/2 cup of sugar, make a batter with 1 cup of milk or water, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1/2 cup of butter or lard, if lard a pinch of salt, 2 tea spoonsful of baking powder, flour to make a good stiff batter, spread over the fruit and bake, serve with a good, rich sauce like the following, called Metropolitan sauce. 1 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup of melted butter, 1 cup of boiling water, nutmeg flavor, stir sugar and butter together until thoroughly mixed, pour on water and let boil a minute, serve, good for all kinds of puddings. Fruit of different kinds can be used this way, stewed fruits left over from previous meals can be used up and makes a nice pudding.

Cream Chocolate.—Make two thin layers of sponge cake with the following mixture: 4 eggs, 1 small cup of sugar, 1 cup of flour, 1 tea spoonful of baking powder, bake light colored when done and while warm take one and press into an old style soup plate, make a pastry cream of 1 pint of milk, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup of butter, yolks of 3 eggs, two heaping table spoonsful of corn starch, boil milk, sugar and butter together, add starch dissolved and the beaten yolks, cook about two minutes, flavor to taste, when partly cool put in to the cake in the plate, lay the other on top, meringue over with the whites of the three eggs beaten stiff with 6 table spoonsful of sugar stirred in gently, spread on top, sprinkle a little sugar on top, place in oven out do not brown.

Bananna Pudding. The following fills two different places in culinary work and makes nice and cheap dishes.—Take 1 qt. of milk, a small piece of butter, 1 cup sugar, 4 eggs, 3 table spoonsful of corn starch dissolved in a little water or milk, 4 bananas sliced round, boil milk, sugar and butter together, add starch then the eggs well beaten, let cook about two minutes, butter a bright tin pan, an oblong one is better than a round one, pour out about half the mixture into the pan, set away for a few minutes in a cool place, keep the other half warm by setting in a pan of hot water if you have no double boiler, as soon as the starch is well set slice the bananas, place on top as thick as they will lay, pour over the rest of the mixture, set a way to cool, serve in with sweetened cream or yolk of egg custard cut in squares or diamond shapes, a little piece of red jelly on top of each square adds to the effect. The same can be used as fruit truiters out square, dip in beaten egg, roll in cracker meal and fry in hot lard to a nice brown, serve with nice syrup made of white sugar, with juice of half a lemon, all kinds of fruit can be used in this way, oranges, peaches, pears, cherries and apricots, one half of the mixture would be enough for an ordinary family.

The Transvaal war has taken a decided turn in the past week in favor of the British. General Roberts broke the ice at the Madder river, driving the Boers from their entrenched position and by a quick maneuver relieved Kimberley. Gen. Cronje made a hasty retreat to save his army from being surrounded and the latest dispatches announce that he is being held in check by Kitchener's cavalry, which has gotten between him and Bloemfontein, his objective destination, and is endeavoring to hold him there until the arrival of Roberts' army, which if successful means the destroying of that wing of the Boer army. General Buller has also scored decisive victories against Joubert at the Tugela river, capturing Colenso, and driving the Boers back across the river and considerably demoralizing them. Great Britain is burning red fire.

START THE YEAR RIGHT.

By this we mean that if you are not already a subscriber to The Nebraska State Journal you should become one at once. The Journal is Nebraska's old reliable. Being published at the state capital it prints more news of interest to Nebraskans than any other paper in the state. Many of its patrons have been subscribers for over a quarter of a century. The Journal has built up a tremendous business by its push and energy and the paper stands at the head of the column. Its daily and Sunday issues not only contain all the current news of the world, but are filled with special features. The Semi-Weekly Journal, which by many is called "the farmers' daily," gives 104 papers a year for $1.00 and is one of the greatest bargains ever offered readers. The year 1900 will be a record-breaker with the Journal, as 1899 has been. Join the army of readers for the coming presidential campaign.
