A party of south side representatives visited this city last Saturday and we are told, called at Mr. F. H. Elsener, our only present saloon keeper, and wanted to know if that gentleman could give one hundred drinks for a dollar. Mr. Elsener, in his usual humor remarked that he could supply them by charging 1 cent for water, 5 cents for beer and 10 cents for Harper whiskey. The party is said to have been stunned by the reply but after figuring on the proposition ordered the dollars worth, whereupon Mr. Elsener dialed up 90.9 and 1. The one was "Harper" and was for his best customer.—Geo.

Mr. Stewart, a professional long distance sleeper who has been keeping up the reputation of "Yama" the hoodlum as so much a snooze, had the ill luck to be stranded in our city this week on account of the fickleness of the hoodlum, who wiped the gate receipts at Arcadia and ransomed for Hindustan or some other place where the Dyaka spirits are in league with the spirits of mortals not yet disembodied. The gentleman aforesaid tackled one of our local hoodlums or Hindoos, or Hypnoos, or well the result was just as magical as though he had been struck by lightning or kicked by a Missouri mule, or locked into the awful optics of "Yama" the great, and he slept and he slept and he slept in the window all day, and he slept the sleep of the just, that is equally as long and apparently as peaceful, until O. Benschoter collected just a little innocent slanting rays from old sol, upon the surface of a harmless little mirror and reflected it into his peaceful eyes. The effect was like magic, he twisted and quivered, and there came a sound from near him, while his face was quickly covered, that would not look well in print, and still he slept. At 8 o'clock that p. m. Prof. John O'Bryan stood before that cadaverous looking cuss and a swoop of the hand, a snap of the finger, and presto change be awake. Who says Loup City is not "big it."

Prof. M. H. Mead's baby is still reported very sick.

Rev. W. E. Sitzer, W. Caton, N. Y., writes, "I had dyspepsia over twenty years and tried doctors and medicine without benefit. I was persuaded to use Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and it helped me from the start. I believe it to be a panacea for all forms of indigestion." It digests what you eat.—Odendahl Bros.

Mrs. Calvin Zimmerman, Millersburg, Pa., says, "As a speedy cure for coughs, colds, croup and sore throat One Minute Cough Cure is unequalled. It is pleasant for children to take. I heartily recommend it to mothers." It is the only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. It cures bronchitis, pneumonia, grippe and throat and lung diseases. It will prevent consumption.—Odendahl Bros.

A pleasant surprise party was given to Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hale and his four visiting sisters last Friday evening at their home in this city, when a party of their friends, principally Degree of Honor members of which organization Mrs. Hale is Chief of Honor, took possession of their residence. At the time of their invasion Mrs. Hale and her sisters-in-law were out calling on friends and Miss Lula Bowers during their absence was acting Chief of ceremony, and in her pleasant way, royally entertained the party until their arrival. Presently Masters Ebanks Hale and Bud O'Bryan were dispatched as messengers to tell Mrs. Hale that some one at the house wished to see her. Great was their surprise to find the party in waiting, but Mrs. Hale was equal to the occasion and after introducing her relatives, Mrs. Roberts, of Spearfish, S. D. and Mrs. Sutherland, Mrs. Cox and Miss Hale of Battle Creek, Neb., to the party, soon had us all interested in games, etc. and a good social time followed. For a time it seemed that ye senior editor and J. B. O'Bryan would be the only gentlemen present to manage, or rather be managed, by such a happy gathering of ladies, as Mr. Hale was unavoidably absent, but soon we were joined by Messrs Wm. Mulick, Henry Ohlsen and others. The games went merrily on until about 11:00, when the baskets were unloaded and a lap supper of good things was served. At mid-night the crowd dispersed with expressions of having had a good time and a wish that the visiting ladies might prolong their stay.

ANNOUNCEMENT CARDS.

Subject, "The most important examination held to-day." Oak Creek 3, subject, "The best sword of all." Everyone cordially invited to these services. W. E. MATTHEWS, Pastor.

AT PRESBYTERIAN HALL. Preparatory services will be conducted next Sabbath by the Rev. J. M. McCallan in Presbyterian Hall, Loup City, at 10:30 a. m. In Austin, at 3 p. m. and in Rockville, at 8. The sacrament of the Lords' supper will be administered on the following Sabbath, April 1st, in Presbyterian hall, Loup City, at 10:30 a. m. and in Rockville at 3 p. m.

It is earnestly desired that all members will endeavor to attend and any person wishing to unite with these churches, either upon confession of faith or by letter, will please to meet their respective sessions at the close of the preparatory, or before the communion service.

MUSICAL PROGRAM. The musical program to be rendered at Arcadia, to-night by members of the Methodist choir, will be repeated here on next Monday evening at the M. E. church, to which an admission of 10 and 25 cents will be charged, the proceeds of which will be used by the choir in purchasing new music. This choir and its individual members have been furnishing vocal music for nearly all our local events and as our readers are so well acquainted with their musical ability it is unnecessary for us to comment on the assured merit of their music for next Monday night.

CARD OF THANKS. The undersigned desire to take this opportunity to extend their heartfelt thanks for the assistance and sympathy given by kind friends in our bereavement occasioned by the death of our beloved mother.

A. L. BAILLIE, J. L. BAILLIE, W. W. BAILLIE, MRS. JESSIE NIGHTINGALE, MRS. ELLEN GOULEY, MRS. MARY WEST.

OBITUARY OF GRANDMA BAILLIE.

It is with sorrow that we are called upon to write the obituary of Mrs. Janet Baillie, one among the oldest of our early settlers, who died at the home of her son, A. L. Baillie in Washington, twp. on Tuesday, March 13, 1900, at 9 o'clock p. m., after several weeks of continued suffering from complicated ailments which developed into dropsy.

Janet Lawson was born in Glasgow, Scotland, in October, 1815 and was passed 85 years of age at the time of death. She was married to Wm. Baillie on Christmas day, in 1835 and with her husband and family moved to Canada in 1863 where they resided for some time before coming to Nebraska, locating first at Nebraska City. In 1874 she came to Sherman county.

For many years she, with her husband, surrounded by several of her children have enjoyed happiness and prosperity, such as is only given to those who are honored and industrious. She had the confidence and respect of all, and in her declining years, the many friends have constantly been inquiring after her, in grateful remembrance of her motherly affection and self devotion for the welfare of all.

On December 25, 1886, and about three months before the death of her husband she celebrated her golden wedding anniversary. Mr. Baillie was barely able to sit up and the occasion was attended only by members of the family and immediate relatives.

The funeral services were held at residence, where 14, years ago, the last sad rite was held over the remains of her beloved husband. Rev. McCallan conducted the services and the remains were laid to rest beside her husband in the Evergreen cemetery at Loup City, Neb.

The deceased leaves three sons, three daughters and a number of grand children to mourn her loss. The children are A. L. Baillie and Mrs. T. S. Nightingale of Loup City, J. L. Baillie of Fremont, Neb., Wm. Baillie and Mrs. Ellen Gouley of Custer county, Neb., and Mrs. West of the state of Massachusetts. All of her children but Mrs. West who lives so far away, were at her bed side during sickness. Last summer, Mrs. West was with her and made an extended and what proved to be a timely visit. And thus in her last few months of life all her children were permitted to meet and say good by, dear mother, good by.

DEATH OF MRS. ODENDAHL.

In the death of Mrs. Ernestine Odendahl, mother of W. G. and C. J. Odendahl, her sons and families have lost a kind and loving mother, and Loup City a highly respected and honored citizen. Her death was very sudden and unexpected and the direct cause of heart failure. Her health had been usually good for a lady of her years, being 79 years, 10 months and 14 day old at the time of her death. She was a lady of high musical attainments and by her devotion to the work and the kindly interests of her pupils, she has taught many of our young people the musical art and training. All of her scholars who have devoted themselves to this study have acquired themselves with credit and honor, and speak in terms of love for their instructor. Only the Tuesday before her death she gave the usual lesson to her class.

She died on Thursday, March 8, at 3 o'clock p. m. The remains were placed in a beautiful broad cloth shroud, and on the following Friday morning, after brief services at the residence, was taken to the B. & M. depot, and from there accompanied by her son W. G. Odendahl and Mrs. C. J. Odendahl and little son Willie to Oquawka, Ill. for interment.

The esteem in which this good old lady was held by our people was clearly manifested in the last sad rite, when more than a hundred citizens followed her to the train.

The following from the Henderson County (Ill.) Democrat, gives a brief account of her life and burial services held at her former home:

Mrs. Frederick Odendahl died at her home in Loup City, Neb., Thursday last, after a brief illness.

Ernestine Froelich was born at Ober Plains, Rhineish Prussia; April 24, 1820. She came to America in 1848 with her father brother and sisters. Her family was highly respected and her father held an official position of honor and trust under the Prussian government. She was married to Frederick Odendahl at Nauvoo, Ill., about 50 years ago. Four children were born to them. Two of them, a son and daughter, died in infancy. Two sons, William and Julius Odendahl of Loup City, Neb., a brother Julius Froelich of the same place, and a sister residing at Warsaw, Ill., survive her.

The deceased was a woman of rare culture and intelligence, a fine musician and musical instructor in which work much of her life was spent, a kind neighbor, trusted and devoted wife and mother.

The remains arrived here Saturday morning accompanied by her son Wm. Odendahl, daughter-in-law Mrs. Julius Odendahl and her son William Arthur. The funeral was held from the Methodist church Saturday. Rev. H. Hanson a life long friend of the deceased preached the funeral discourse. He paid an eloquent tribute to her many virtues. He expressed a great deal when he

"It's astonishing how book collecting will blunt a man's conception of the rights of man and of man's duty," said the proprietor of a delightful old secondhand store on the south side of the town. "I wouldn't trust a confirmed collector as far as I could throw Jackson square by the monument. They all consider themselves licensed privateers, and when one of them wants any particular volume and can't buy it the chances are it will mysteriously disappear the first time he pays you a visit. I am on to most of the tricks of the fraternity, however, and it takes a pretty smooth individual to secure any plunder in this shop."

"Only recently I circumvented an old gentleman in a manner that is apt to adhere to his memory for some time. He is a passionate admirer of Dickens and has a fine collection of early editions and books in general relating to the great novelist. One of his sets, a very handsome print with the original Cruikshank plates, is short one volume, the eighth. I have a copy of the same edition, and he has tried repeatedly to get me to break it so as to complete his own, but I have of course refused."

"Then I noticed that he began to drop in of afternoons with a book under his arm, looking up and down the shelves. The volume he carried bore a close external resemblance to the copy of Dickens he wanted, and I suspected at once that I would some day find them exchanged. Consequently I looked up the coveted volume and substituted a worthless treatise on mathematics bound in the same manner. My visitor knew the exact location of the book on the shelf, and the other day I purposely gave him an opportunity to make the shift. It was done in a twinkling, and presently he strolled out. I haven't seen him since. The book he left was a very pretty copy of Keats. I am well satisfied with the swap."

My mother suffered with chronic diarrhoea for several months. She was attended by two physicians who at last pronounced her case hopeless. She procured one 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and five doses gave her permanent relief. I take pleasure in recommending it as the best on the market.—MRS. F. A. R. De Fluert, editor of the Journal, Doylestown Ohio, suffered for a number of years from rheumatism in his right shoulder and side. He says: "My right arm at times was entirely useless. I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and was surprised to receive relief almost immediately. The Pain Balm has been a constant companion of mine ever since and it never fails."

FIRE LIMITS FOR THE VILLAGE OF LOUP CITY, NEBRASKA.

(Ordinance No. 58.)

SEC. 1.—BOUNDARIES. That all that part of the Village of Loup City embraced in the following limits, shall be hereafter known as the fire limits of the Village of Loup City, Nebraska, to-wit: Comprising all of that part of Laik and Kriebbaums addition to the Village of Loup City known as Block thirteen (13), and all that part of the original town, now Village of Loup City, known as Block three (3), four (4), five (5), eighteen (18) and nineteen (19).

SEC. 2.—BUILDINGS. No building shall be hereafter erected in said fire limits, unless all outside walls shall be built of stone, brick or other fireproof material; Provided, that nothing in this section shall prevent the building of coal sheds and privies not larger than 12x14 feet and 12 feet high, of lumber on uncoupled lots.

SEC. 3.—SAME. Roofs, cornices and gutters, shall be covered on the outside surface with copper, tin, iron, zinc or other fireproof material.

SEC. 4.—SAME. No wooden building or part of a building within said fire limits shall be raised, repaired, enlarged or removed to any other place within said limits, nor shall any wooden building within said limits, which may hereafter be damaged to the extent of fifty (50) per cent of the value thereof be rebuilt; nor shall such building where the damage shall be less than fifty (50) per cent of its value be so repaired as to be raised higher than the highest point left standing after such damage shall have occurred, or so as to occupy more space than before the injury thereto. Provided, further: That this ordinance shall not prevent the removal of any building now within the fire limits to another place within said limits after the written consent is obtained of three-fourths of all the resident property owners of the block in which said building is to be taken, and such consent shall be filed in the office of the Village Clerk.

SEC. 5.—DAMAGES. The amount or extent of the damages that may be done to any building may be determined by three disinterested persons, residents of the Village, one who shall be selected by the owner of the building, the second by the chairman of the Board of Trustees, or in case he does not select, then by the Board, and the two so chosen shall select a third and the decisions of the three shall be final and conclusive. The report of the persons so selected to determine the damage, shall be deposited with the Village Clerk. Before said reference is made, it shall be the duty of the owner of the building to deposit with the city clerk the sum of six dollars ($6.00) which sum shall be applied to the payment of the reference expenses, and the remainder, if any, shall be returned to the owner.

SEC. 6.—PENALTY. Any person who shall own, build, or aid in the erection of any building, or part of building within the said fire limits, contrary to or in any other manner than authorized by the provisions of this ordinance, or who shall remove or assist in removing any wooden building within said fire limits, from one place to another herein, or who shall remove or assist in removing any such building from without said limits into the same, or own or repair, or assist in repairing any damaged wooden building, contrary in either case to any provision of this ordinance, shall be subject to a fine of not less than $25 and not exceeding $100, in the discretion of the court, for the first offense, and a like fine for every twenty-four hours such person shall fail to comply with the provisions of this ordinance, or continue in the violation of the same. If any person shall violate any other provision of this ordinance he shall be subject to a like fine.

SEC. 7.—NUISANCE. Any wooden building which may be erected, enlarged, removed or repaired, contrary to this ordinance, shall be deemed a nuisance, and upon information it shall be the duty of the chairman of the board of Village trustees, after three days notice to the builder or owner thereof, to abate the same by an order in writing, to require the proper officer to raise such building to the ground, the expense of such removal shall be reported by the officer who accomplished the same for assessment, and may be collected of the owner of such building by suit in any court having competent jurisdiction.

That this ordinance shall take effect on and after its publication.

Approved and passed March 15, 1900, and published March 23, 1900.

Attest: J. PHIL JACOB, Chairman Board of Trustees, G. H. GIBSON, Village Clerk.

It is very hard to stand idly by and see our dear ones suffer while awaiting the arrival of the doctor. An Albany, (N. Y.) dairyman called at a drug store there for a doctor to come and see his child, then very sick with croup. Not finding the doctor in, he left word for him to come at once on his return. He also bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which he hoped would give some relief until the doctor should arrive. In a few hours he returned, saying the doctor need not come, as the child was much better. The druggist, Mr. Otto Scholtz, says the family has since recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their neighbors and friends until he has a constant demand for it from that part of the country. A Fiendish Attack.

An attack was lately made on C. F. Collier of Cherokee, Iowa, that nearly proved fatal. It came through his kidneys. His back was so lame he could not stoop without great pain, nor sit in a chair except propped by cushions. No remedy helped him until he tried Electric Bitters which effected such a wonderful change that he writes he feels like a new man. This marvelous medicine cures backache and kidney trouble, purifies the blood and builds up your health. Only 50c at Odendahl Bros.
