War Revenue and Ship Subsidy Bills Will Receive Consideration - Speech by Towne on Philippine Question Awaited With Keen Interest.

Monday Mr. Towne will speak on | hand. the problems involved in the government of the Philippines. There is somewhat more than usual interest in this speech, not only because of Mr. Towne's reputation as an orator and In the senate on a political subject, but because of increased interest in the officers and thirteen men wounded." Philippine question aroused by the president's request of the senate for | that a British train with troops and early legislation on this subject. It does not appear probable that the Minnesota senator's speech will call out other speeches immediately on this subject because even the senators who would like to see legislation during this session admit the impossibility of taking up the matter seriously until the report of the Taft commission can be printed, or so long as there are other pressing questions before the senate. Still, straggling references to the subject are not improbable at any time during the remainder of the ses-

Senator Aldrich, chairman of the finance committee, has given notice that the will ask the senate to take week. The understanding is that he will press that question to the exclusion of all other bills, except appropriation bills. Being a revenue measure, it will take precedence over all other measures.

There is no real opposition to the war revenue bill, but it appears probable that there will be some discussion of it as an easy means of delaying consideration of the subsidy bill. there is opportunity the subsidy bill will be taken up, but it is not expected that anything more definite will occur in this connection during the present week than the making of speeches.

The week in the house is likely to be monopolized by appropriation bills. Seven of the fourteen general appropriation bills have already passed the house, namely, the executive, legislative and judiciary, pension, military academy, Indian, naval, river and harbors and District of Columbia bills. Three others, the postoffice, agriculture and fortifications bills, have been reported to the house, and the remaining four, the army, consular and diplomatic, sundry civil and general deficiency, are still in the committees having them in charge. The three reported to the house and the consular and diplomatic, which is practically completed, probably will be disposed of during the week. Whatever time remains will be occupied with the bill to promote the efficiency of the revenue cutter service, which has been made a continuing special order, not, however, to interfere with appropriation bills. The postoffice appropriation bill is likely to be made the occasion of much debate. All the questions raised by the report of joint postal commission are likely to be dragged into the arena. An effort undoubtedly will be made to continue the appropriations for pneumatic tube service, which were eliminated from the bill and there probably will be the usual fight on the appropriations for spe--cial mail facilities.

FAVORS A SHIP SUBSIDY

Depew Supports His Views in Characteristically Brilliant Fashion.

THE FLOOR AND GALLERY APPLAUD

An Appeal for the Upbuilding of American Merchant Marine-Discussion of the Problems of Transportation In-WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.-Senator Depew of New York today delivered in the senate a characteristically forcible and eloquent address in support of the shipping bill. The address, which occupied just an hour, was in the nature of an appeal for the upbuilding of the American merchant marine by the granting of subsidies, as provided for in the pending measure. His discussion of the problems of transportation which now confront and effective. The peroration in which he urged that the American flag be restored to the mastheads of the freight-carrying ships of the United States was a brilliant piece of oratory and elicited cordial applause from the senators on the floor and the crowds in the galleries. Little progress was made with the Indian appropriation bill. The last hour of the senate day was consumed in the passage of private pension bills.

Senator Depew began with a survey of the country's first century of development, pointing out the immense material progress that had been tures, how our exports had grown to imports and how the internal lines the most comprehensive in the world. of the country had been one-sided. half of the world outside of the United States, we had developed our The petitioners state that the time | transportation system only to our own 1807 than in 1900. Said Mr. Depew:

"The farm, the factory and the mine have filled the warehouses and docks of our Atlantic and Pacific tional wealth, employment and the happiness of our people, and left their transportation to Europe, to Asia, to Africa, to South America and to Australia, to the greed of foreign ship owners, to the protection of foreign flags and to the hazards of foreign wars.

"A general collision, which is often predicted in the European newspapers, among the great powers of Europe, in the mad haste of their navies and armies to outstrip each other in the acquisition of spheres of influence in Asia and Africa, would act upon the United States, who might be simply a spectator of the conflict. as an embargo upon our coast. We would be shut up with ourselves as absolutely as if the navies of the world were blockading our ports."

Looking to the remedy for the present stagnation in the American merchant marine, Mr. Depew said the cry of "free ships" had long ago been discounted. It was not to be considered as a remedy, for it left out of the question the development of an American shipbuilding industry. The plan of discriminating duties, he said. was also impracticable. France had tried it and been forced to repeal its law within a year. No nation would submit to discriminating duties without retaliating against us, and no nation like ours, which is more of a seller than a buyer, can afford to provoke such retaliation and thus stimulate production in Russia, India, Egypt, against our cotton and our corn. The speaker's conclusion was that there remained only the subsidy as a practical solution of the problem.

MAY CALL EXTRA SESSION.

Message of President Sets the Senators to Speculat'nz.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 .- The brief recommendation in the message of the president sent to the senate today, urging immediate legislation in the interest of the Philippines, caused general surprise among the senators and speculation on the probability of an extra session of congress immediately after March 3. Senators generally have received, they say, no intimation from the White House that an extra session would be desirable, but they unite in saying no Philippine legislation is possible during the remainder of the

The Spooner bill, vesting all power of the government in the Philippines archipelago in the president, is the only Philippines general bill. It is believed that whenever an earnest effort is made to secure legislation bearing on this subject much time will be required.
