Last week Wednesday, two of our well known young people played a surprise on their relatives and friends by hieing away by auto to Grand Island, we understand and quietly married. They were O. F. Henning of Route 2 and Miss Jessie Ogle of this city. Mr. Henning is one of our progressive young farmers and a royal good fellow, while the bride is a daughter of Mrs. Margarette Ogle of this city. May the choicest of good fortune follow them through life.
Aside from its delightful qualities as an amusement enterprise, George Kleine's splendid photo-drama "Quo Vadis" which is announced for May 13 at the Daddow opera house, is doing a world of good as a time saver and neatly fits the demands of the present age. It would take two weeks of the average man's time to read Henryk Sienkiewicz's original novel whereas the whole story with essential detail is visualized with wonderful perfection in George Kleine's photo drama.
