Couldn't Go With Him.
A well-known lawyer in Boston had a horse that always stopped and refused to cross the mill dam bridge leading out of the city. No whipping, no urging, would induce him to cross without stopping. So he advertised him: "To be sold, for no other reason than that the owner was to go out of town."

Small Boy Killed by Fowl.
A fowl killed a two-year-old child at St. Brioux, France, a few days ago. The little fellow was playing outside his parents' house when a large Cochon China cock attempted to take a piece of bread from his hand. The child and the cock struggled for the bread, and the cock attacked the child and hurt him so badly that he died shortly after.

Effective Parting Shot.
Among clerical anecdotes is that of the vicar and curate who had quarreled, and the curate was requested to find some other congregation to minister to. He therefore preached his farewell sermon, and the parishioners came in crowds to hear him. "My text," he said, "is taken from the moving story of Abraham. 'Tarry ye here with the ass while I . . . go yonder!'"

Importance of Being Married.
Men are nothing but overgrown children. They always love to eat and drink what is not good for them. You scarcely ever meet an unmarried man over forty who hasn't something wrong with him, and it would be the same with all the married men if their wives were not constantly on the watch to see that they only eat the things that agree with them.—The Gulf Between, by P. Y. Redmayne.

Better Let the Women Tat.
Tattooing is the least expensive sort of fancy work a woman can do. Many girls admit that they could crochet three balls of cotton while they are tattooing one. Men, it will be easier on your pocketbooks if you let this harmless task go blithely on, for those gay sofa cushions are soon done and then thread and linen must be bought for a new one. For a woman's fingers must be employed.—Kansas Industrialist.

Truth and Judgment Day.
In Truth there is no special day of judgment. Every day now is a judgment day. Judgment is being administered for every thought, word and action. The day of judgment is the time in which we experience the results of our own creations. Oftentimes we are not conscious of the judgment day, but, even so, we are constantly arriving at the "judgment day."—Arthur D. Dall, in Unity.

Bookwalter Lands Now For Sale

Believing that the time and opportunity has arrived when a personal and public welfare can alike be promoted by a sale of my lands, I have concluded to dispose of all my holdings in Valley and Greeley counties, Nebraska.

Being fully aware that the most ample facilities of purchase are needed, and often a necessity, for those who are seeking a permanent home on a farm, and recognizing further, that good agricultural lands with constantly increasing value, constitute the best possible basis of security for the investment, and loan of capital, it becomes apparent that there can be thus instituted a mutuality of interest between the purchaser and the seller.

Accordingly, I have in the terms of my contemplated sale of the lands, made an effort to materialize as fully and equably as possible, this existing identity and community of interests. As there does not exist in my varied financial affairs and business enterprises any necessity for an increased use of additional capital, I am therefore enabled, in seeking to facilitate the purchase of these lands, to offer them on an extended period of purchase and at a most reasonable rate of interest on deferred payments, as well as a very liberal term of years exemption, before the first installment of purchase money falls due.

For further information, apply to my agent, E. J. Shinn, Beatrice, Nebraska.
