Watch accuracy —keeping accurate time frozen in solid ice.

Read this description of "South Bend" - No. 217

Design—Bridges model of the latest design.
Plates—Genuine nickel—not brass plated nickel as in many makes—insuring an even expansion and contraction in changes of temperature.
17 jewels—Selected ruby and sapphire jewels and not so easy to chip or break as the garnet jewels generally used.
Escapement—Double roller—this overcomes all danger of over banking which would stop the watch.
Steel escape wheels—Harder than the brass commonly used.
Balance wheels—Compensating automatically adjusts itself to changes in temperature, etc.
Hair spring—Breguet—the very best made.
Adjustments—Temperature, Isochronism and three positions. Very closely rated under each of these adjustments.
Finish—Very highly and beautifully finished throughout. Gold lettering.

turned home to Greeley Center, Tuesday.

Mrs. Dan McDonald was expected home the first of the week from her extended visit at Enid, Okla.

Miss Klea McNulty has been elected principal of the Hazard schools. She is one of our most successful and popular teachers.

Mrs. C. O. Johnson and children left last Saturday morning for a visit at Aurora and other points in Hamilton county.

Miss Emma Gross, one of the popular teachers in the Omaha schools, who had been visiting the Misses Danielson, returned home last Friday morning.

Henry Siebler and Gus Tessendorf and families of Platte County were guests of Mr. and Mrs. O.
F. Henning last week, returning home Saturday.

If you want blue or Satsuma plums, prunes or peaches. Wait for the car August 22nd, quality not excelled, and prices right.

Clarence Coltraine of Sargent is the new bookkeeper for E. G. Taylor, beginning his duties Monday.

J. C. Steele is now the proud possessor of a brand new Buick and handles the same like a veteran chauffeur from the initial drive.

Miss Ethel Mercer arrived from Lone Rock, Calif., and is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Rufus Hiddleston, and other relatives and friends.

Union Services in the evening at eight o'clock on the Court House lawn. Rev. Slocumb will preach.

As we go to press this (Wednesday) afternoon, the annual K. of P. picnic is being held at Jenner Park, and of course they are having the usual good time.

STORK VISITATION

A fine boy was born the 6th instant to Mr. and Mrs. H. N.
Fisher, the stork doctor failing to record that fact to the Northwestern in time for last weeks paper.
Congratulations late are better than not at all.

When the Corn is in the Fodder and the Fodders in the Hogs

When the pigs are in the fodder and the fodder's in the pigs, Then the farmer rides in autos and in other lordly rigs; There's a rich Wagnerian music in the grunt and in the squeal When the pudgy porcine treasure ambles gayly to its meal, And the ultimate consumer in his pocket wildly digs
When the pigs are in the fodder
and the fodder's in the pigs.

When the hen is on the cackle and the egg is in the nest, Then the farmer strokes his whiskers with a joy all unex-pressed,
And he reads the market columns and he hums a merry lay While he crates the precious dozens to be hustled on their way, O, his wife shall have her bonnet of the very, very best,
When the hen is on the cackle and
the egg is in the nest.

When the beeves are in the stock car and the packer writes his check,
Then the farmer buys another quarter - section — yes, by heck!
And he doesn't care for gold bricks and won't stand for a josh.
And he thinks he'll run for office, and he doesn't say "b'gosh." He is sitting with four acres, and he's drawing from the deck,
When the beeves are in the stock
check.

When the milk is in the bucket the butter's in the churn, Then the erstwhile humble farmer has a stack of wealth to burn, He is planning trips to Europe, and he's bought a phonograph With a record quoting prices that are bound to make him laugh, O, I guess the humble farmer is a man you will not spurn
When the milk is in the bucket and the butter's in the churn.
—Chicago Post.

To The Ladies Of Loup City.

I am now prepared to teach dress cutting and dress making and would be pleased to have you call and investigate my method of instruction. I cut from actual measurements and insure a good fit. I will be in your city and give Free Lessons one day. Date and place will be mentioned later.

Some prices of interest at the 5, 10, and 25c west side store.
2 dozen jar rubbers..... 15c Paper plates per dozen..... 5c Paraffine wax per pound..... 15c Flower pots..... 5, 8, 10 and 15c 1 lot of glassware going at 10c apiece.
Suit hangers at 10c each. Nice fresh candies 10 to 20 cents per pound.

I have got to sell the stock of goods at Austin, Nebr., before Sept. 1, or lose $1000.00. That may sound strange but it is almost a fact. I have paid down $1000.00 on the piece of land that I have wanted for years and rather than lose the money and the chance at the land, will give some one a good deal on the Austin stock of goods. If interested at all come to Austin and talk it over with Alonzo
