Canada is Calling You to her Rich Wheat Lands

She extends to Americans a hearty invitation to settle on her FREE Homestead lands of 160 acres each or secure some of the low priced lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

This year wheat is higher but Canadian land just as cheap, so the opportunity is more attractive than ever. Canada wants you to help to feed the world by tilling some of her soil—land similar to that which during many years has averaged 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre.

The Government this year is asking farmers to put increased acreage into grain. Military service is not compulsory in Canada but there is a great demand for farm labor to replace the many young men who have volunteered for service.

USING BREAD CRUMBS

COOKING ECONOMY WELL WORTH HEEDING.

Odd Pieces Should Always Be Saved and Made Use of in One Way or Another—Some Ways of Employing Them.

Waste in the kitchen amounts almost to a sin in these days when the price of food is high and money is scarce in most households. Yet waste goes on every day in the average kitchen—waste that could very easily be curtailed if the housewife used economical methods.

Perhaps more waste takes place with bread than with any other one staple in the kitchen. Every bit of bread should be saved and made use of in one way or another. This rule need not conjure up a dreary vista of stale crust munching, however.

The day's needs will first be dealt with, the crumbs or croutons required sorted out and put to one side. Every unwanted scrap should then be cut into fairly uniform squares, placed in a baking dish and baked carefully in a slow oven to a delicate golden brown shade.

To test the proper baking of these left-over pieces of bread, break one of the thickest pieces; if it snaps crisply, the bread is ready to be taken from the oven. With a rolling pin and baking board the bread can easily be crushed into fine crumbs and may be sifted afterward if uniform fineness is desired.

Cup Custards. Heat a quart of milk in a double boiler, but do not bring it quite to the boil. Beat five eggs light and stir into them half a cupful of sugar.

Spanish Pickle. Eight quarts of sliced green tomatoes. Let them lay 24 hours in liquor and add three pints of green peppers and onions sliced, one teaspoonful of white mustard seed, one large tablespoonful of allspice and one of cloves, three tablespoonfuls of vinegar, one of mace, and one of celery seed.

Orange Delight. Slice very thin, rind and all, three large seedless oranges and one large lemon; pour over the sliced fruit 11 tumblerfuls of water and set away for 24 hours; then boil slowly for one hour; after boiling add four pounds of granulated sugar and set away for 24 hours longer; then boil one hour and 25 minutes; pour into tumblers and cover with paraffin. It can be kept for years.

Fried Mackerel. Get a mackerel, split in two. Cut in four, five or six pieces, rinse in cold water and flour. Fry until brown, oil enough to cover bottom (put aside). Get two large-sized onions, cut in medium pieces and fry two minutes, then pour over two-thirds cupful strong vinegar. Let boil five minutes, covered, pour over mackerel and serve cold.

Dutch Hotpot. Boil six carrots with six onions (medium size) until tender. In another kettle boil six medium-sized potatoes. Drain all the water from both, put them together, mash them well, add one teaspoonful of salt, one-half teaspoonful of sugar, one-quarter teaspoonful of pepper, one-half cupful of milk or cream. Beat well and serve hot.

Eggs a La Shelburne. Cut slices from the top of six tomatoes of uniform size and take out enough pulp to allow a raw egg to be broken inside. Cover with bits of butter, and with a toothpick fasten a rasher of bacon over the top of each tomato. Cook in a very hot oven until the eggs are set (about eight minutes).

SHALL WE RAISE SMALL OR BIG SHEEP?

A Fine Prize-Winning Hampshire Ram.

(By ELMER HENDERSON) Of recent years there has been a great deal of agitation over whether the large type or medium type animal is the most profitable.

The owners of the large type animals have taken it for granted that their animals are as profitable as the medium type per unit of grain consumed, and arguing therefrom that, as their animals were larger and carried more grain to market, they must be the more profitable.

Let us look at the case from the beginning, as it were. Suppose we take the Shropshire as typical of the medium type of sheep, and the Oxford-Hampshire as exemplifying the larger type. We find by experience on our own farm that while seven or eight Shropshires can be kept on an acre of land five is all we could possibly figure on keeping if Oxford or Hampshire were kept.

The difference in grain eaten is also something immense. While we are feeding our Shropshire ewes only two-thirds pound of oats daily our Oxford gets as much as 1 1/2 pounds daily—almost twice the amount.

The advocates of the larger type of sheep admit this to be true, but they say, "Our sheep will weigh 90 pounds at the age years will weigh 75 pounds." Let us grant this for the time being. There is yet another consideration. While your 100 ewes of the large type are doing well if they raise 100 lambs, 1 1/2 is common and 1 3/4 lambs per ewe is not unusual in well-handled Shropshire flocks.

Then, too, our Shropshire ewes are such superior milkers and the lambs such perfect mutton animals that when they go to market there is no comparison between the condition of the two lots of lambs. While the one lot is big and rough and not fat enough, the Shropshires, by virtue of their easy fleshing quality, will sell for smooth and sleek and will sell for

DUTIES TO PERFORM DURING FALL SEASON

If Farmer Has First-Class Animals for Sale He Should Advertise Fact.

Many farmers have first-class animals, but buyers do not know it, simply because they never said anything about it.

If you have something good, say so and let others know what you have. There are people who will pay what is right for your best stock and it is the extra price that adds to the profit of your farm.

If you raise better stock than others, because you find it more profitable, go a little further and get the most out of what you have.

Now is the time others are looking for breeding animals, and if you have some good ones, they will be very easily disposed of.

Now is the time to see that all the crops are well covered. Are there any leaks in the roof? If so, mend them, so there will be no spoiled spots of feed.

It is well to go around the pasture fence and see if there are any places where the little pigs can get out when they are turned into the stalk-field.

Good Job for Winter. When winter comes, and no corn is found unhusked in the field, the usual supply of wood is to be cut, drawn and piled under the woodshed. With plenty of wood, the farmer may bid defiance to the coal strikers.

Success in Fruit Growing. Intelligence, energy and close looking after details are the only mysteries of success in fruit growing. A lazy person should choose some other business.

Turnips for Dairy Cows. Turnips are a good feed for dairy cows. They should be fed after milking as there is danger of giving an objectionable flavor to the milk.

Reverberations.

Appropos of the notice put up in cafes all over the country, "The war will be fought on the other side of the ocean. Please don't try to settle it here," George Ade, at a luncheon at the Chicago Athletic club, said: "We see a good deal of trouble among our naturalized citizens in the cafes. But what about those households where the father is German or Austrian and the mother is of French or English or Russian birth?"

"A doctor got a note the other morning from a Russian patient with a Prussian wife.

"Dear doctor," it said, "please send by bearer a large quart bottle of liniment, as wife and self last evening had an argument about the campaign."

Proper. "Is she proper?" "You bet; she is so proper she won't accompany you on a piano unless she has a chaperon."

It is quite natural for a woman to feel stuck up when she wears those big hatpins.

WHY CATCH COLD

One-half of the Deaths and Two-thirds of the Sickness is the Direct Result of Catching Cold. Nothing could be of greater vital interest to the family than to know how to avoid catching cold.

COLDS THAT KILL. If it be true, as one famous doctor says, that catching cold can be avoided, think what it means. Two-thirds of the sickness that now oppresses the people would be avoided. Serious interference with business. The anguish of anxious parents. The blighting of many brilliant dreams.

People are taught in the "Mills of Life" how to avoid the ceaseless drain that catching cold makes upon the vital organs. Get it and read it and judge for yourselves of its value and practicability. It is issued by the Peruna Co., of Columbus, Ohio.

About this time a little more than a hundred years ago in the history of boat building at Pittsburgh and down river there was much complaint of unscrupulous work, which brought great loss to owners on account of the sinking of vessels and ruin of cargoes. An interesting case was tried before Justice Richardson of Pittsburgh, whose decision was rendered November 7, 1807. A boat owned by Mr. Winchester struck on a rock a few miles below Pittsburgh, was stove, and sunk. The owner brought suit against the master, claiming the disaster was due to his carelessness. The master produced a rotten plank that had been broken by the impact, and claimed that had it not been for this the accident would not have happened. The master was discharged by the justice, and Winchester had to lose his boat and several thousand dollars' worth of merchandise. This and other similar occurrences led to the appointment of inspectors, but not until 1812."
