A complaint was filed last week by John Kosmicki against Stanley Lewandowski, and on Monday a continuance was taken for 30 days before Judge Smith, the trouble arising over the former alleging fear of bodily injury from the latter, a fracture of friendship of the brothers-in-law having reached the point where gun-toting is alleged.

Opposed Him as Agnostic. One of President Roosevelt's western friends applied to him for a job. The president was willing and sought to find him a place. He had about settled on one when there came a great protest from the western friends' state. "They discovered," said the president, "that he had killed four men. I didn't know that. Still, the homicide record did not form the basis of the protest. The people who opposed my friend opposed him not on the ground of killing people but because they said he was an agnostic."

Fire Extinguisher. It was quite by accident that the discovery was made that ammonia would extinguish burning oil. A bottle of ammonia saved a family great loss by fire. The gasoline stove sprung a leak and the fluid caught fire, spreading rapidly. One of the older children coming into the room could not reach the sink and get water to throw over the blaze as he thought ought to be done, but had thought presence of mind to pour over it the contents of an ammonia bottle that stood near. As it happened, it was the very best thing he could have done, as it quickly extinguished the fire which water could not do. Now the family keeps ammonia on hand in a two-quart sealed jar, anticipating the time when it may be needed again for the same purpose.

Relics in Bay of Naples. No place in the world seems to have suffered so much from the sinking of the land as the bay of Naples, the site of the submarine archipelago which is even now making fresh discoveries of buried suburbs and massive blocks of masonry with the stone rings for mooring the Roman galleys. But he has to dive to get at them.

COURT SUSTAINED THE SHERIFF

Fairbury, Neb., Dec. 12.—Sheriff Ed Hughes won his suit against Frank Wharton, growing out of the sheriff's attempt to collect Wharton's taxes to the amount of $3.45 on instructions from County Treasurer Berry. Wharton refused to pay them and finally the sheriff attached a horse, bequeathed to Wharton in his mother's estate, and sold the animal for $197.50. The taxes with costs amounted to $15.07. The case was tried before a jury and a judgment was rendered in favor of Sheriff Hughes.

Barbarity of Russian Surgeons. This incident of the late war in the east is told by a Russian soldier: "After each battle the sanitaries wounded who were to be taken away for treatment and with black paint those apparently hopelessly wounded, who were to be left on the field and buried with the dead. I myself was lying on the ground when a hand touched me and then proceeded to fetch the black paint. I fully realized my fate and said to the officer: 'But I am alive and may recover. How can you act like this?' 'Have you money?' he then asked. 'Yes,' I replied. 'How much?' 'Ten rubles' ($5.15). 'Give them to me.' He just managed to put the money in his pocket and was stretching out his hand for the red paint, when tra-akh tra-akh—the enemy's shra, nel struck him dead on the spot, only a couple of steps from myself. I lay and listened, but not a sound came from him. Then I thought, why should I lose my money? and, gathering strength, I crept up to him and began to search his pockets, when, to my astonishment, I found not only my 10 rubles but more than 200' ($124.60).
