Floyd Howard has started to move on the Joe Daddow place the past week.
There were hardly any schools in session on the route the week of the blizzards. Most of the teachers were making up for lost time Saturday.

The Farmers' Institute held a very interesting session on Wiggle creek, Jan. 26. The day was cold, but the big dinner the ladies prepared brought out the crowd. The speakers from Lincoln were good. The lecture in the evening was fine. The speakers said it was one of the best natured crowds they had seen in their institute work. The Wiggles get a wiggle on them when it comes to entertaining.

Alfred Jorgenson has invented a dandy snow plow. He just takes a big 16 inch walking plow, set as far over the doubletrees as can be, so the horses walk just as they went to. He goes over and as he comes back the road is finished. Now every farmer has a walking plow on their places and in one hour could have their lines cleared out side of the big drifts. Be sure that you get the tracks wide enough.

A great many people at the present time are eating rye bread or bread made from whole wheat flour. If you eat this kind of bread you will feel better. The Loup City Mills make pure rye flour also whole wheat flour. Try a sack and be convinced.

A certain major in the Philippines, who seemed to be favored with the good-will of the powers, managed in some way always to get leave just before trouble with the natives was due. His colonel suspected him of having no stomach for fighting. "Some day," remarked the colonel, "they'll want to give that fellow a decoration, and I'll suggest one. It will be a wreath of leaves of absence."

EDITOR BROWN TO THE RESCUE

Editor Brown of the Friend Sentinel Sees No Sense of Humor in the Northwestern's Reply to Uncle Joe O'Bryan

THINKS WE POKED UNDER THE SHORT RIBS

Below we give space to a letter from our editorial friend, W. A. Brown, who believes Loup City's business men have adopted wrong tactics to make the Union Pacific be good and give us Sunday trains. On the other hand our people are inclined to think that by the time they had followed Bro. Brown's recipe sufficiently long they would have failed to win, even with knee pads to protect their stiffened joints from continued supplications:

February 9, 1915, J. W. Burleigh, Loup City, Nebr. Friend Burleigh:—I see by the paper that the men of Loup City are having trouble with the U. P. railroad company, and are trying to force the company to come to terms. We, the business men of Loup City have found that co-operation with the railroad company has gotten far more favors than force ever did.

We see no reason to slur Joe O'Bryan because he stands by the U. P. Why shouldn't he? Think of the years he has pushed an old engine on their lines and has done it efficiently, too. When the big events of the year's happenings in the state was summed up a year ago, one event of loyalty was mentioned more than others. That event was the big storm that struck the Ord train, when on its way into Ord. The article in the State Journal said, "The efficient way Engineer O'Bryan handled his train and cared for his passengers will be marked in history". This is one of the many things, good things, he did while engineering. No wonder he still stands up for the U. P. He can't help it.

When the winter slack came, which was worse this year because of the war, the Burlington took off two of its best trains, both of which stopped at Friend. This greatly impaired our early mail, as the morning local did not carry mail. We called the attention of the company to this and they immediately made the local a mail train giving us better service than before. Train No. 1, their finest and best train always made Friend at 9:15 with morning mail and took passengers for Hastings and west. When they took off trains Nos. 9 and 10, and put No. 1 on 9's time making it go through here at 2:20 a. m., this robbed us of a train to Hastings and back in one day. The company said they could put No. 12 later going east making it run on 10's old time, which was 11 p. m., but as this is the big express train the shippers all along the line kicked. The company sent their agents out to see all the business men in each town affected and decided to let 12 alone. By changing 12 later we could go to Hastings at noon, and get back at 11 p. m., but at the same time it would ruin the express business for that train. But the business men along the line met the officials before the railway commission, which is the place to meet them, and planned a trial local train to leave Lincoln 7:15 a. m., and run out to Oxford, leave Oxford at 3 p. m. and reach Lincoln at 11:30 p. m., said train to run until the regular trains are put on again. The company consented and the train will begin to run one week from Sunday, all our trains being daily. Now this is what co-operation will do and it is up to our business men to show the company that it is a paying train. The company says that if this pays it may be permanent. Now we already have nine mails each day and five passengers that stop, and with the new trains we will have seven passengers. Co-operation with the railroad has got Friend many things. Get a trial train, and then hop to it and show the company you appreciate it by making it pay. There is no question but the U. P. has done a great deal for Loup City, and will do more if Loup City will co-operate with it. The Ord branch has always enjoyed a bigger patronage than the Loup City branch, hence deserves better service. You show the company how a Sunday train will pay them and you will get it, or it will be different than our experience.

The Ord train always stands backed in and four or five cars long. We started down to see him and when we neared the end car he turned and began to wave his hand and run toward us. He said he knew us at once, although he had not seen me for two years. He said, I will get you to St. Paul safe, or die in the attempt, and I wish I could go right on into Loup City with you. Many a young fellow can remember the rides around the Y with Joe. He has a license to stand up for the U. P.
Yours truly,
W. A. Brown.

California Expositions

SEASON OF 1915

Commencing March 1st, a $50 round trip rate will be made to San Francisco, Los Angeles or San Diego, over direct routes, with $17.50 additional one way via Portland or Seattle. Approximately these rates from Central and Eastern Nebraska and Kansas.

The Pacific Coast tour is the World's greatest rail journey. These expositions will bring before you the romance, and the modern civilization of California. When you go, make the tour more complete by including the ocean voyage between San Francisco and Portland in the new steamers "Great Northern" or "Northern Pacific."—palaces of the Pacific, with speed of express trains and the proportions of ocean steamers; the 17.50 additional includes berths and meals on these steamers. Our publications will tell you about this grand tour, our through service, the ocean coast voyage, etc., or write either of us.
