News Along Rural Route 2

Harry Shipley took home a load of coal, Saturday.

Floyd Howard visited at Albion the past week.

Don't forget the Grange Literary next Friday evening, Febr. 19.

John Blaska and wife spent Sunday at Jas. McBeth's.

The Grange took in eleven new members, last Tuesday.

E. J. Flynn marketed two loads of hogs on the Loup marketed Tuesday.

Carrier on two received many pretty valentines the past week.

Mrs. Stark butchered a young beef last week.

Fern Wilkie was some better, Tuesday, he has been very sick for some time.

Will Miller put his mail box in a more convenient place for the carrier the past week.

Lawson Bailie has started to move on his rented place east of Hazard, this week.

W. T. Draper did some repair work at the Prairie Gem schoolhouse Monday.

Roland Goodwin and Art Casteel went to Grand Island Monday to attend the horse sale.

Harry Hinman and Bob Prichard were repairing telephone lines on route two the past week.

J. W. Cowling took his daughter, Vida out to her school in the Bichel district, Monday.

There will be no mail service on route two next Monday the 22nd. This being a holiday.

Miss Meroe Outhouse taught school Saturday. She was making up one of the blizzard days.

Rufus Hiddleston is working for Will Hawk, having sold his dray line to Roy McDonald.

Pupils neither tardy nor absent during the fifth month of school from district No. 72 are: Lester Shipley, Viola and Bessie Kilpatrick, Silvia and Louisa Schwaderer.

Fritz Bichel attended the big Hereford cattle sale at Grand Island the 18th and 19th. Mr. Bichel is a member of the Hereford Whiteface cattle association, and always takes interest in these meetings.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Draper attended the Eastern Star lodge at Loup City one night last week and on their way home got into a drift just south of the U. P. depot and had to unhitch the team and pull the buggy out backwards.

Chandler and Martin were out on route two Sunday fixing telephones. They got stuck in a drift and had to call for help to get out. The telephone men, doctors, and carriers have all been up against the real thing the past few weeks.

The Cash family on route two are certainly having hard luck the past week. Last Friday they had a mule get his foot caught in the wire fence in such a manner that it cut its foot off just above the hoof. Monday a short time afterwards, Monday the best milk cow they had on the place fell and broke its neck, and the worst of it was that the cow belonged to Glenn and she had been fresh only a few days.

The southwest route district was completely blocked with snow for over ten days during the blizzard weather. But I managed to get around through pastures and plowed fields. If I run up against something so that I do not get around, I go thorough for I always carry a shovel and it does not make any difference how bad the roads are I will get to you some time during the day never give me up, for if I do not get to your place the first day, remember I am still on the road as I never turn back, unless there is a terrible blizzard raging.

The farmers have had a hard time getting feed to their stock the past three weeks, and during the blizzards that held for a week in the first part of February hundreds of head of stock were several days without feed or water. Many horses and cattle were completely snowed in and the only way that water and feed could be got to them through the roof of the sheds or building. There was very little loss during that trying week. Some of the farmers' fences are covered with from 2 to 10 feet of snow. The third blizzard since the first of February struck us Saturday night and all day Sunday the 4th it almost made the road impassable. The road to the south bridge was completely blocked again. W. O. Brown said that he has lived here 40 years and had never seen such conditions as we have had the past two weeks. To the road bosses and patrons I was glad you helped me through the bad roads again Monday.

business to Ed. Isaacson, and the firm hereafter will be Bowen & Isaacson.

Carl Jensen, son of Niels Jensen, just east of town, returned last Saturday from Lincoln, where he was taking the short course in the state agricultural school.

E. F. Kozel, of the firm of Kozel & Sorensen, went to Omaha last Tuesday to take in the automobile show. He left the Mrs. at home to enjoy herself. Oh, you naughty man.

T. R. Lay of the Keystone Lbr. Co.'s force at Loup City, is taking care of the local yards at present, the manager, F. A. Dunker being on the sick list.

E. Dwehus went to Frogtown last Tuesday. He did not mention his business down there, but we should judge it was to get a drink of good water.

E. Cords and a Mr. Langford, a piano salesman, who found the attraction of our little town so strong that he concluded to spend the winter here, went to Omaha last Friday, both returning hale and hearty on Monday evening's motor.

A comedy entitled "A Cheerful Liar," by home talent, was given under the auspices of the local base ball club last Saturday night at the opera house. Although the weather was next to a blizzard there was a good-sized house. To say the least, this was one of the best plays put across the footlights, by home talent, the house being in a continual uproar from beginning to end. The specials between the acts by the Misses Olga Scherzbach and Fay Neilson received generous applause. We understand the management has been requested to repeat the play at some future date, when the roads are in better condition, so the country folks can enjoy it.
