Did You Ever Pay a Bill Twice?

The one who has not had to pay more than one bill the second time is the exception and not the rule. Few people when paying a bill ask for a receipt and if they do they fail to keep the receipt. Did you ever have a dispute over a payment? Unpleasant is it not? Do you wish the circumstance to occur again? There is one sure way to escape it. Pay your bills with checks. If you received no interest on your idle money it would only show good sense and good wisdom to have it in a bank. Transact your business in a business way and pay your bills by checks. Your check when returned to you makes an indisputable receipt. A bank account makes you systematic and encourages you to save part of your income. Many a man has become rich because he became interested in watching his bank balance, and was thus led to find ways to increase it. Start a bank account with us and we will help you make it larger. Why not begin today?

A party came to us a day or two ago with the complaint that some one had invaded his chicken coop of late and copped about a score of his feathered property. He said, by the way, that in the coop, after the coup had been pulled off, he found a memorandum book and a couple of letters which he would gladly return to the owner, should that individual call for them. Moral—See that your pockets are empty, when you invite yourself to appropriate that which belongs to another.

OVERDRAFTS

The Comptroller of the Currency, at Washington, D. C., has issued instructions to all National Banks to positively discontinue the practice of allowing overdrafts, and has asked the co-operation of all the State Banks to that end.

We will obey this order, same as we have always obeyed all laws and orders of the Federal Banking Department, and know that our customers will not expect us to do otherwise.

In compliance with above order, and for the following reasons, on and after April 1st, next, we will cash no checks on overdrawn accounts.

1st. The elimination of the overdraft practice will in reality work no hardship on any one. It will not mean a dollar less credit to the bank's customers, but only that they will have to keep what credit they need in the form of a note, instead of part overdraft and part note.

2nd. While the overdraft is used in most instances as a matter of mere temporary accommodation, and with the best of intention, it is in some instances used to obtain, or try to obtain, credit that could not be arranged for in the regular way, which is a source of annoyance to both bank and to the customer who presents a check on which the bank refuses payment.

3rd. The check is almost universally used now days, very little actual money is handled any more in settling accounts and the check as one of the greatest conveniences of our day should be made as reliable as the actual money itself.

4th. Both the National and State Departments prohibit the payment of checks on overdrafts.

5th. The officer of a bank that pays a check on an overdraft is personally liable under both the National and State Banking Laws.

6th. It is not considered good or conservative banking to allow overdrafts.

7th. This notice is issued in strict compliance with the law and we ask for your most hearty and pleasant co-operation in assisting us to obey the Banking Laws under which we are doing a Banking Business.

In spite of the stormy weather of the past week or so and almost stagnation of business, the Northwestern's job department has been kept busily turning out the work coming to it, so busily in fact that the usual time could not be taken to get out as newsy a paper as wished. However, with added help, we expect to make up for it in the future issues of the Northwestern. Help us, by sending in all the items of news coming to your notice.

The lecture on soil culture by H. W. Campbell of Lincoln, connected with the Burlington road, which was to have been held at the opera house Monday afternoon of this week, failed to materialize, on account of the weather conditions, and the public sale of Gene Miller's stuff that afternoon. However, Mr. Campbell gave many good ideas to a few of our farmers, who were gathered at the opera house, in a quiet talk-fest to those gathered about him in the body of the house seeking for information on various topics.

Bixby in State Journal writes: Goliath, according to Billy Sunday, "was the head cheese and the whole works." "Who's that gababoo?" asked David. Then he "gave Goliath the once over." Here the evangelist illustrated the effect on the giant by himself falling at full length upon the platform. The language accompanying the ocular demonstration was "Beaned! David soaked him in the coco between the lamps and Goliath went to the mat and took the count. Dave chopped his head off and Goliath's gang beat it." And then he stirred the trailhitters with this appeal: "Say, are you riding a blind baggage or a gospel train? I'll know in a minute whether you're men or mutts. If you're a man you'll fight your way down these aisles to take my hand. Oh, I'll have your number! I'll know whether you've got gasoline or dishwater in your veins, whether you're real or a four-flusher!"

CIRCLE TOURS TO THE PACIFIC COAST

In planning "The Perfect Coast Tour" or the "See America Tour," Scenic Colorado is of first importance. No coast tourist could afford to say that he had not included "Scenic Colorado" either one way or the other in this world's greatest rail journey. Go one way via Seattle, Portland, and during the season visit either Glacier or Yellowstone National Park. Link together these scenic routes with the Ocean Coast voyage between San Francisco and Portland.

Through the season, various publications, special folders and the like will be available, descriptive of the Burlington circuit rates and through service routes.
