Farmers and Mule Breeders.

The breeding of mules for farm use has been neglected in this section for years. As a work animal it is conceded that the mule has no equal. Harry Obermiller, who lives just south of Schaupps, and who is an old-time and experienced mule breeder, announces that he will offer for service this season, Prince Albert, a magnificent black Spanish Jack. He is a big fellow; is 16 hands high and weighs 1,050 pounds. He is a jack of fine action and has a record as a foal getter. The service fee is $10, and he will make the season at Mr. Obermiller's farm, a quarter of a mile south of Schaupps. Mr. Obermiller announces that he will make a specialty of breeding so-called barren mares.
