SYNOPSIS.

In the New York home of James Brood In the New York home of James Brood Dawes and Riggs, his two old pensioners and comrades, await the coming of Brood's son Frederic to learn the contents of a wireless from Brood, but Frederic, after reading, throws it into the fire and leaves the room without a word. Frederic tells Lydia Desmond, his fiancee, that the message announces his father's marriage and orders the house prepared for an imtells Lydia Desmond, his fiancee, that the message announces his father's marriage and orders the house prepared for an immediate homecoming. Mrs. Desmond, the housekeeper and Lydia's mother, tries to cool Frederic's temper at the impending changes. Brood and his bride arrive. She wins Frederic's liking at first meeting. Brood shows dislike and veiled hostility to his son. Lydia and Mrs. Brood meet in the jade-room, where Lydia works as Brood's Secretary. The room, dominated by a great gold Buddha, Brood's father confessor, is furnished in oriental magnificence. Mrs. Brood, after a talk with Lydia, which leaves the latter puzzled, is disturbed by the appearance of Ranjab, the Hindu servant of Brood. Mrs. Brood makes changes in the household and gains her husband's consent to send Mrs. Desmond and Lydia away. She tries to fathom the mystery of Brood's separation from his first wife, and his dislike of his son, but falls. Mrs. Brood fascinates Frederic. They visit Lydia and her mother in their new apartment. Mrs. Brood begins to fear Ranjab in his uncanny appearances and frederic, remembering his father's East Indian stories and firm belief in magic, fears unknown evil. Ranjab performs feats of magic for Dawes and Riggs.

CHAPTER VII-Continued.

Then, before their startled, horrorstruck eyes, the Hindu coolly plunged the glittering blade into his breast, driving it in to the hilt! "Good Lord!" shouted the two old men. Ranjab serenely replaced the sword in its scabbard. "It is not always the knife that finds the heart," said he, so slowly, so full of meaning, that even the old men grasped the significance of the cryptic

"A feller can be fooled, no matter how closely he watches," said Mr. Dawes, and he was not referring to the amazing sword trick.

gloomy irrelevance, "I don't like that description. Never a kind look. Can't voce for her ear alone. Suddenly

The old spell of the Orient had fallen upon the ancients. They were hearing the vague whisperings of they had heard them years ago in the his plea for forgiveness. mystic silences of the East.

softly. "It will be the master's son." house tonight if it were not that I he, a deadly calm in his voice. The closed noiselessly behind him and the Yvonne. I adore you. You are every- face slowly gave way to a steady glare old men were alone, blinking at each thing in the world to me. I-" other. There was no sound from the hall. They waited, watching the curlifted his eyes in dumb wonder and you cannot take wine in moderation. tained door. At last they heard foot- adoration, but not in time to catch A breath of fresh air will be of benefit

Frederick strode rapidly into the! room.

CHAPTER VIII.

His face was livid with rage. For a moment he glowered upon the two old men, his fingers working spasmodically, his chest heaving with the volcanic emotions he was trying so hard to subdue. Then he whirled about, to glare into the hall.

"In God's name, Freddy, boy, what's happened?" cried old Mr. Riggs, all a-tremble.

Some minutes passed before he could trust himself to speak. Ugly veins stood out on his pale temples, as he paced the floor in front of them. Eventually Mr. Dawes ventured the vital question, in a somewhat hushed voice. "Have you-quarreled with your father, Freddy?" The young man threw up his arms in a gesture of despair. There was a wail of misery in his voice as he grated out:

"In the name of God, why should he hate me as he does? What have I done? Am I not a good son to him?" "Hush!" implored Mr. Dawes, nervously. "He'll hear you." "Hear me!" cried Frederic, and laughed aloud in his recklessness. "Why shouldn't he hear me? By God, I'll not stand it a day longer. He wouldn't think of treating a dog as he treats me. God, I-I, why, he is to the spot, blushing with shame and actually forcing me to hate him. I dismay. do hat him! I swear to heaven, it was in my heart to kill him down him?" he gasped. there just now. I-" He could not away, he threw himself upon the couch and buried his face on his arms. sobbing like a little child.

The old men, distressed beyond the power of speech, mumbled incoherent words of comfort as they slowly edged out toward the door. They tiptoed into the hall and neither spoke until them. Mr. Dawes even tried it to see that it was safely latched.

The curtains parted and Yvonne looked in upon the wretched Frederic. | your cheeks." There was a look of mingled pain and commiseration in her wide open eyes. ered with the rage that had been When Doctor Hodder and Mrs. Gun- the prince of darkness." For a moment she stood there regard- checked by the ascendency of another ning entered the room a few minutes ing him in silence. Then she swiftly and even more devastating emotion. later young Brood was standing in the crossed the room to the couch in the She was standing quite close to him open window, drinking in the cold table. corner where he sat huddled up, his now, her slender figure swaying night air, and she was blithely regalshoulders still shaking with the mis- slightly as if moved by some strange, ing the blinking old men with an acery that racked him. Her hand went rhythmic melody to which the heart count of her stepson's unhappy efforts Hindu's closet. Three mellow, softly out to touch the tousled hair, but beat time. Her eyes were soft and to drink all of the wine in sight! As stopped before contact. Slowly she velvety again; her smile tender and she told it, it was a most amusing Almost instantly the voice of the Hindrew back, with a glance of apprehen- appealing. The vivid white of her closet. An odd expression of alarn crept into her eyes.

"Frederic," she said, softly, almost timorously.

sprang to his feet. His eyes were wet party, so why exclude them? Be and his lips were drawn. Shame pos- quick!" sessed him. He tried to smile, but it was a pitiful failure.

began, in a choked voice.

"Ashamed because you have cried?" little sigh, she sank down on the she said quickly. "But no! It is good broad couch and stretched her supple to cry-it is good for women to cry. body in the ecstasy of complete relax-But when a strong man breaks down ation. you have cried. He-"

Frederic's clinched teeth.

glance at Ranjab's door. She would derstood him better than anyone else have given much to know whether in the world; she read his mind as she the Hindu was there or still below would have read an open book. There stairs. "You must not say such-"

him a brute. Is that it?"

"Hush! Please, please! You know leashes. that my heart aches for you, mon At her right sat Frederic, at her ami. It was cruel of him, it was cow- left the renowned Doctor Hodder, ardly, yes, cowardly! Now I have whose feats at the operating table turned deliberately toward the little efforts at the dinner table. He was door across the room.

sneer turned into an imploring smile. Yvonne could not endure him. "Forgive me, Yvonne! You must | Mrs. Desmond and Lydia were there see that I'm beside myself. I-I-"

member he is your father. He is a more or less magnitude. strange man. There has been a great Frederic, deceived by his father's deal of bitterness in his life. "He-"

are now. He's getting to be worse seldom took his eyes from the face than ever. I never have had a kind of his beautiful stepmother, and many "No, sir," said Mr. Riggs, with word from him, seldom a word of any of his remarks were uttered sotto you understand how it goads me to-" James Brood called out his name in "Is this the way to reward me?"

voices that came from nowhere, as ered her hands with kisses, mumbling hear him. Brood spoke again, loudly,

"I am so terribly unhappy," he said the table. "Sh! One comes," said Ranjab, over and over again. "I'd leave this "We will excuse you, Frederic," said He Was Getting His Few Things To-An instant later his closet door can't bear the thought of leaving you, puzzled expression in the young man's her face. "You will forgive me?" he cried, saying it. It was wrong-wrong! But amazed protest. you will forgive me, Yvonne?" toward the door. He remained rooted

"We Will Excuse You, Frederic."

"Where are you going? To tell sharply.

She waited an instant, and then go on. He choked up and the tears came toward him. He never could rushed to his eyes. Abruptly turning have explained the unaccountable im- "Listen! I will tell you what to do."

red lips were parted. "That is as it should be," she was for a present victory over his father. weeks. saying, but he was never sure that he "No, no! I can't do that! Never, heard the words. His knees grew Yvonne," he protested. weak. He was in the toils! "Now,

He obeyed, but his lips still quiv- all here, apologize for your condition!"

He lifted his head quickly, and then magic. It appears to be a family ment and then went on, more clearly. sued Brood, oracularly. "We found

He dashed off to obey her command. "Oh, I'm so ashamed of-of-" he her unsmiling eyes fixed on the door as he uttered the final sentence. He hand is the very weapon the good felconcern.

throbbing violently.

the sheen of the satin skin.

He stood like a statue, scarcely

"There!" she said, and deliberately and sheds tears, I am-oh, I am heart- The scene at the dinner table had broken. But come! You must go to been most distressing. Up to the inyour room and bathe your face. Go at stant of the outburst her husband had once. Your father must not know that been in singularly gay spirits, a circumstance so unusual that the whole "D-n him!" came from between party wondered not a little. If the others were vaguely puzzled by his "Hush!" she cried, with another high humor, not so Yvonne. She unwas riot, not joy, in the heart of the "I suppose you're trying to smooth brilliant talker at the head of the it over so that they won't consider table. He was talking against the savagery that strained so hard at its said it!" She drew herself up and were vastly more successful than his a very wonderful surgeon, but equally His eyes brightened. The crooked famous as a bore of the first rank.

This was an excellent opportunity "But you must be sensible. Re- to entertain them on an occasion of sprightly mood, entered rather reck-"But I can't go on the way things lessly into the lively discussion. He "I am your friend," she said slowly. a sharp, commanding tone. Frederic, at the moment, engaged in a low ex-He dropped to his knees and cov- change of words with Yvonne, did not harshly. There was dead silence at

"Get up!" she cried out sharply. He to speak. "I regret exceedingly that steps on the stairs, quick footsteps of the look of triumph that swept across to you. You may join us upstairs later on.'

"I haven't drunk a full glass of coming to his feet. "I-I couldn't help champagne," begun the young man in you know, I've never noticed it until

"I think you would better take my advice," he said, levelly. Frederic went deathly pale. "Very well, sir," he said in a low, suppressed voice. Without another word he got up from the table and walked out of the room. He spoke the truth later on when he told Yvonne he could not understand. But she understood. She knew that James Brood had endured the situation as long as it was in his power to endure, and she knew that it was her fault entirely that poor Frederic had been exposed to this crowning bit of humiliation.

As she sat in the dim study awaiting her stepson's reappearance with Dawes, who lied prodigiously in a the two old men, her active, far-seeing frenzy of rivalry. mind was striving to estimate the cost of that tragic clash. Not the cost to dha," cried Miss Janey, stopping in herself or to Frederic, but to James front of the idol. "How perfectly Brood!

The Messrs. Dawes and Riggs, inordinately pleased over their rehabilitation, were barely through delivering themselves of their protestations of undying fealty, when the sound of voices came up from the lower hall. he mean, Freddy? Oh, I felt so sorry Frederic started to leave the room, for you. It was dreadful." not caring to face those who had wit-Yvonne hurried to his side.

"Where are you going?" she cried.

He stared at her in wonder. "You cannot expect me to stay here-" "But certainly," she exclaimed. old girl," he whispered brokenly. pulse that forced him to fall back a Her voice sank to an imperative whisfew steps as she approached. Her eyes per. He listened in sheer amazement, were gazing steadily into his, and her his face growing dark with rebellion as she proceeded to unfold her plan and was happier than she had been in that he straightened up involuntarily, is the only way. Make haste! Open after ten, you know." "Come! Wipe the tear stains from the window. Get the breath of air he prescribed. And when they are Brood. "Be prepared, ladies and gen-

experiment. sion toward the door of the Hindu's arms and shoulders seemed to shed James Brood was the last to enter, a soft light about her, so radiant was with Miss Followell. He took in the situation at a glance. Was it relief the hall, and not from his closet. The tention to such nonsense. You are an She moved closer to him, and with that sprang into his eyes as he saw look of relief in Yvonne's eyes was honest fool and I don't blame you deft fingers applied her tiny lace the two old men?

handkerchief to his flushed cheek and Frederic came down from the win- the faces of the two old men-and love with me, so why not you? I like eyes, laughing audibly as she did so; dow, somewhat too swiftly for one who knew! a low gurgle of infinite sweetness and is moved by shame and contrition, and "After we have had the feats of much. I--" faced the group with a well-assumed magic," Brood was saying, "Miss Des- "You like me because I am his look of mortification in his pale, mond will read to you, ladies and genbreathing, the veins in his throat twitching face. He spoke in low, re- tlemen, that chapter of our journal-" pressed tones, but not once did he permit his gaze to encounter that of middle-aged gentlemen, looking at cruelly. He winced. "There, now; touched the mouchoir to her own smil- his father. ing lips, before replacing it in her "Im awfully sorry to have made a bodice, next to the warm, soft skin. "I nuisance of myself. It does go to my "You'll have to excuse me, Brood. very, very sensible. It is Lydia whom their watches. have been thinking, Frederic," she head and I-I dare say the heat of really, you know. Important engagesaid, suddenly serious. "Perhaps it the room helped to do the work. I'm ment uptown-" would be better if we were not alone all right now, however. The fresh air when the others came up. Go at once did me a lot of good. Hope you'll der. "The lady won't miss you." and fetch the two old men. Tell them overlook my foolish attempt to be a "-relating to our first encounter floor. I expect them here to witness the devil of a fellow." He hesitated a mo- with the great and only Ranjab," pur-"I'm all right now, father. It shall not him in a little village far up in the don't let me hear another word about happen again, I can promise you mountains. He was under sentence leaving your father's house. You are that." A close observer might have of death for murder. By the way, not to take that step until I command She lighted a cigarette at the table, seen the muscles of his jaw harden Yvonne, the kris you have in your you to go. Do you understand?" of the Hindu's closet. Then, with a intended that his father should take low used in the commission of his it as a threat, not as an apology.

Brood was watching him closely, a die within a fortnight after our arrival door, shamed and humiliated beyond puzzled expression in his eyes; gradu- in the town. I heard of his unhappy words. ally it developed into something like plight and all that had led up to it. admiration. In the clamor of voices that ensued the older man detected One night, a week before the proposed the presence of an underlying note of execution, my friends and I stormed watch his descent. A moment later censure for his own behavior. For the the little prison and rescued him. We Brood was knocking at Yvonne's door. first time in many years he experi- were just getting over the cholera and He did not wait for an invitation to enced a feeling of shame.

Someone was speaking at his enthusiastic voice, shrilled something gether in His Room.

into his ear that caused him to look of fury. He could not trust himself at her in utter amazement. It was so astounding that he could not believe he heard aright. He mumbled in a questioning tone, "I beg your pardon?" and she repeated her remark. "How wonderfully like you Frederic is, Mr. Brood." Then she added: "Do tonight. It's really remarkable."

"It is a most gratifying discovery," ou will forgive me, Yvonne?"

Brood smiled indulgently, but there said he, and turned to speak to Mrs. door. After a while he abandoned the Desmond. He did not take his gaze from Frederic's white, set face, however! and, despite the fact that he knew the girl had uttered an idle commonplace, he was annoyed to find himself studying the features of Matilde's, boy with an interest that seemed almost laughable when he considered it later on.

His guests found much to talk about in the room. He was soon being dragged from one object to another and ordered to reveal the history, the use and the nature of countless things that obviously were intended to be just what they seemed; such as rugs, shields, lamps, and so forth. He was ably asisted by Messrs. Riggs and

"What a perfectly delightful Budlovely he is-or is it a she, Mr. Brood?"

Frederic joined Lydia at the table "A delicious scene, wasn't it?" he asked, bitterly, in lowered tones.

Her fingers touched his. "What did

"Don't take it so seriously, Lyddy," nessed his unmerited degradation. he said, squeezing her hand gently. Both of them realized that it was the nearest thing to a caress that had passed between them in a fortnight or longer. A wave of shame swept through him. "Dear old girl, my dear Her eyes radiated joy, her lips parted in a wan, tremulous smile of surprise, and a soft sigh escaped them. "My dear, dear boy," she murmured,

"See here, old chap," said one of the middle-aged gentlemen, again consult-"For my sake, Freddy. Don't forget ing his watch as he loudly addressed their bedroom door was closed behind you must pull yourself together," she that you owe something to me. I his host, "can't you hurry this perwent on in such a matter-of-fact tone command you to do as I tell you. It formance of yours along a bit? It is

"I will summon the magician," said tlemen, to meet the devil. Ranjah is He lifted his hand to strike the gong that stood near the edge of the Involuntarily four pairs of eyes fastened their gaze upon the door to the reverberating "booms" filled the room. du was heard.

The building of a Zeppelin is not the vessels takes an entire year, and when that work is done another three these and over the girders is an outer ing and sighting apparatus is installed skin of proofed canvas. Slung under as well as the wireless plant. the great length is a series of cabins. Right in front is the station of the five balloonettes from end to end. Over it is in here that the marvelous steer- of wearing it on state occasions.

Famous Jewel Long Forgotten.

A famous jewel, presented by two petrol engines. Behind this boat signed to be worn by him on occasions of state, has been found in the vaults berths for the crew. In the center is of Parkhurst Hall, where it has lain the observation station. It is from forgotten for many years. President here that the bombs are dropped, and Nichols may resume the old curtom

MRS. WILLIAMS' LONG SICKNESS

She laughed. "I shall pay no at you, Freddy, I like you very, very

"If you were not his son I should we've said enough. You must be sensible. You will discover that I am

"Before heaven, Yvonne, I do love about myself." He was pacing the

"But I understand," she said, quietly. "Now go away, please. And

He stared at her in utter bewilder

As he went swiftly down the stairs

above and leaned over the railing to

She was standing at the window balcony, and had turned swiftly at the sound of the rapping. Surprise

"What has Frederic been saying to

A faint sneer came to her lips

"Nothing, my dear James, that you would care to know," she said, smol

"You mean something that

"Are you forgetting yourself

He stared at her incredulously

"Good Lord! Are you trying to tell

She came up to him slowly. "James same curious wonder in his own that and again he had been puzzled by depths, something he could not fathom.

"What is there about you, Yvonne

that hurts me-yes, actually hurts me

"There is something in your eyes-looking at me through eves that are not your own. It's-it's quite un

"I assure you my eyes are all my own," she cried, flippantly, and yet

there was a slight trace of nervousness in her manner. "Do you intend

"I Have Advised Him to Bide His

Time."

to be nice and good and reasonable,

His face clouded again. "Do you

"Quite as well as I know what you

He stiffened. "Can't you see what it

"Yes. He was on the point of leaving

"Why-why, he'd starve!' cried the man, shaken in spite of himself. "He

"And who is to blame? You, James, you! You have tied his hands, and

"We will not go into that," he inter-

"Very well. I have advised him to

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Goes the Limit.

When a woman is angry she tells man just what she thinks of him--and.

incidentally, just what she thinks oth-

have penned him up in-"

has never done a day's labor, he

your house, never to come back to it again. 'That's what it is coming to,'

James? I mean about poor Frederic?

know what you are doing to the boy?"

are doing to him." she replied quickly.

he asked bluntly.

is coming to?"

she said, lively.

rupted coldly.

bide his time."

er people think of him.

Lydia-and we were always together. doesn't know how to earn a living.

canny. If you-"

no matter how deeply he probed.

dering anger in her eyes.

James?" coldly.

shouldn't know," he grated.

me what I shall do or say-'

you?" demanded her husband curtly,

ment for a moment, and slowly nodded

son," he cried hotly.

you love, not I."

He came swiftly into the room from years ago. He has been my trusted body servant ever since. I am sure written about that thrilling adven-

that scorched her fingers.

Ranjah, are you ready?"

of them.

the dark."

always ready, sahib," said he.

upon the table as if it were a thing ure.

"Did he-really kill a man?" whis-

"He killed a woman. His wife, Miss

Janey. She had been faithless, you see. He cut her heart out. And now,

The Hindu salaamed. "Ranjab is

CHAPTER IX.

The Sorceress.

The next day, after a sleepless night,

Frederic announced to his stepmother

that he could no longer remain under his father's roof. He would find something to do in order to support himself. It was impossible to go on pretending that he loved or respected his ended the better it would be for both

She, too, had passed a restless night,

a night filled with waking dreams as well as those which came in sleep.

There was always an ugly, wriggly

kris in those dreams of hers, and a brown hand that was forever fascinating her with its uncanny definess.

Twice in the night she had clutched

her husband's shoulder in the terror

of a dream, and he had soothed her

with the comfort of his strong arms.

She was like a little child "afraid of Her influence alone prevented the young man from carrying out his threat. At first he was as firm as a rock in his determination. He was getting his few possessions together

in his room when she tapped on his task and followed her rather dazedly

to the boudoir, promising to listen to reason. For an hour she argued and pleaded with him, and in the end he agreed to give up what she was pleased to call his preposterous plan.

with a sigh of relief, "let us go and talk it all over with Lydia."

"Now, that being settled," she said,

He started guiltily. "I'd-I'd rather not, Yvonne," he said. "There's no

use worrying her with the thing now.

As a matter of fact, I'd prefer that she--er-well, somehow I don't like the idea of explaining matters to her."

She was watching him narrowly. "It has seemed to me of late, Frederic,

what shall I say?-so enamored of each other. What has happened?" she inquired so innocently, so naively,

that he looked at her in astonishment.

"I am sure you fairly live at her house.

You are there nearly every day, and vet--well. I can feel rather than see the change in both of you. I hope-"

sneak. Yvonne," cried he, conscience-stricken. "She's the finest, noblest girl in all this world, and I've been

"Dear me! In what way, may I

"Why we used to-oh, but why go into all that? It would only amuse

you. You'd laugh at us for silly fools.

But I can't help saying this much-

she doesn't deserve to be treated as

I'm treating her now, Yvonne. It's

She laughed softly. "I'm afraid you

His eyes narrowed. "You've made me over, that's true. You've made all of us over-the house as well. I am not happy unless I am with you. It used to make me happy to be with

But I-I don't care now-at least, I am not unhappy when we are apart.

You've done it. Yvonne. You've made life worth living. You've made me

She stood up, facing him. She ap-

"Are you trying to tell me that you are in love with me?" she demanded, and there was no longer

His eves swept her from head to

"If you were not my father's wife

I would say yes," said he, hoarsely.

mockery, raillery in her voice.

foot. He was deathly white.

see everything differently. You-"

peared to be frightened.

are seeing too much of your poor hurting her dreadfully and-"

stepmother," she said.

treating her shamefully."

inquire?"

"I've been behaving like an infernal

that you and Lydia are not quite so-

"-relating to-"

short-lived. She saw amazement in Wiser men than you have fallen in "My Gawd!" groaned both of the despise you," she said deliberately

"Sit down, Cruger," exclaimed Hod- her. That's what I cannot understand crime. He was in prison and was to his head. Then he turned toward the

His case interested me tremendously. his father came out upon the landing

Yvonne had dropped the ugly knife gave way to an expression of displeasfather, and the sooner the farce was looking into those dark eyes with the pered Miss Janey, with horror in her after he had closed the door.

out ceremony.

Yields To Lydia E. Pink. ham's Vegetable Compound.

Elkhart, Ind .:- "I suffered for fourteen years from organic inflammation, female weakness, pain and irregularities. The pains in my sides were increased by walking or standing on my feet and I had such awful bearing down feelings, was depressed in spirits and became thin and pale with dull, heavy eyes. I had six doctors from whom I received only temporary relief. I decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial and also the Sanative Wash. I have now used the remedies for four months and cannot express my thanks for what they have done for me.

"If these lines will be of any benefit you have my permission to publish them."—Mrs. SADIE WILLIAMS, 455 needed excitement. That was fifteen enter, but strode into the room with James Street, Elkhart, Indiana.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, you will be interested in what I have that opened out upon the little stone contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegeta-ble Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Your Liver Is Clogged Up

That's Why You're Tired-Out of Sorts we must both be careful. We must -Have No Appetite. not quarrel." Her hands grasped the CARTER'S LITTLE lapel of his long lounging robe. There LIVER PILLS was an appealing look in her eyes that will put you right checked the harsh words even as they in a few days. rose to his lips. He found himself They do their duty. Cure Constipation, had become so common of late. Time Biliousness, Indigestion and Sick Headache something he saw in their liquid

SMALL PILL, SMALL DOSE, SMALL PRICE. Genuine must bear Signature

Insist on Cutter's. If unobtainable, order direct.
The Cutter Laboratory. Berkeley. Cal.. or Chicago, III

Man's Ingratitude. "My employers played me a rather heartless trick," remarked the man who is always kicking. "Why, I thought they had increased your compensation." "Yes. But they increased it just enough to compel me to keep books and employ an expert accountant to figure out my income tax."

Waste Eliminated. "Does your husband waste his time talking politics?" "No." replied the determined tooking woman. "I don't let him waste his time. When it comes to politics he improves his time listening to Bad Showing. "We have no gloves in our stock.

"That's odd. I should think gloves are something always found on hand.

YOUR OWN DRUGGIST WILL TELL YOU fry Murine Hye Remedy for Red, Weak, Watery Eyes and Granulated Eyellds; No Smarting-just Eye comfort. Write for Book of the Eye by mail Free, Murine Eye Remedy Co. Chiegas

The frigate bird holds the record among the aviators. It reaches a speed of 200 miles an hour.

Always proud to show white clothes. Red Cross Ball Blue does make them white. All grocers. Adv.

All things come to the other fellow if you sit down and wait.

Answer the Alarm! A bad back makes a day's work twice as hard. Backache usually comes from weak kidneys, and if headaches, dizzi ness or urinary disorders are added, don't wait—get help before dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease set in. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought new life and new strength to thousands of working men and women. Used and recommend ed the world over.

An Iowa Case C. D. Hayes, 122

"My life was a burden with kidney complaint and I suffered from sharp pains, along with a dull ache. I got little benefit from anything I took until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. Five boxes rid me of the trouble and I haven't suffered much since."

Iowa, says:

DOAN'S RIDNEY FOSTER-MILBURN CO., BUFFALO, N. Y.

A SWITCH Made YOUR OWN HAIR

Official Denial

No War Tax on Homestead Land in Canada The report that a war tax is to be placed on Homestead lands in Western Canada having been given considerable circulation in the United States, this is to advise all enquirers that no such tax has been placed, nor is there any intention to place a war tax of any nature on such lands. (Signed) W. D. Scott, Supt. of Immigration. Ottawa. Canada March lithtoor

Devastated Arras possesses an an- minstrels. cient church, Notre Dame des Ardents, which remained uninjured despite the recent terrific bombardment, and the legend-gave the two minstrels a

Inhabitants of Arras Have Great

Faith in Sacred Relic Most Carefully Guarded.

nearly 1,000 years old. candle it is guarded in a richly enam- mixed with pure water would cure the word is "choir."

of Jean de Sasquepee, lord of Baudi- malady. mont and owner of Arras, and a curious history is attached to it. It appears that in May, 1105, the Holy Vir. tery of Ardents. The candle has been gin appeared during the night to two carefully guarded, and it is the firm

A terrible plague depopulated Arras it frequently saved them from utter at that time, and the Virgin—so goes destruction. which contains a unique relic that is candle, which they in turn gave to Bishop Lambert of Arras and told The relic is known as the holy them that the hot wax of this candle chorus of singers is rare. The proper there are from seventeen to twenty-

CANDLE MANY CENTURIES OLD eled silver casket, made to the order inhabitants of Arras of the dreadful IS WORK OF MANY MONTHS

The remedy proved efficacious, and a grateful populace erected the monasbelief of the inhabitants of Arras that

Choir and Quire. The word "quire," as applied to a Construction of the Marvelous Zenne lin Aircraft Not a Matter Which Can Be Hurried.

months must be spent in testing. Stretched in a framework of girders, lcokout man, who is in charge of the starting and the landing; he has anchors slung beneath him. In the first | London broker in 1789 to the presithe work of a day. The mere work on boat, which is entirely covered in, are dent of Dartmouth college and deis the gangway, fitted up with sleeping