LOUP CITY MAN GETS HIGH SCORE

Local Marksman Breaks 144 Out of 150 Targets In Spite of Unfavorable Weather Conditions—Loup City Shooters Retain the Silver Trophy.

The Loup City Gun club held a very successful tournament on May 16, despite the high wind and unpleasant day for such an event. J. W. Thompson shot the high score, breaking 144 bluerocks out of a possible 150. The local boys did some fine work in the club championship match, winning the trophy and the championship, shooting high by four targets over the nearest competitor. Three professional shooters, George L. Carter, of Lincoln, representing the Peter's Cartridge company; H. Kennecott, of Kansas City, representing the E. C. Cartridge company; and Bert Manning, of Hastings, representing the V. M. C. Shell company, attended the shoot and took part. Following are the scores:

DEATHS AND INJURIES TO TRESPASSERS ON RAILROADS INCREASING.

The Union Pacific has just issued figures showing that during the year 1914 there was an alarming increase in deaths and injuries resulting from trespassing upon their right-of-way. During 1913, there were 37 deaths and 48 injuries; while in 1914 these figures have been raised to 48 killed and 90 injured.

A small proportion of these accidents occurred to the class known as "nobobs," the balance to careless users of the right-of-way. This proves that "the short cut along railroad tracks" is dangerous in the extreme, not only to school children but to working men who walk to work. Any amount of caution exerted by railroad employees will not materially decrease the number of accidents occurring to trespassers, and it would seem that the only procedure that will shorten the list of fatalities is for the state legislatures to pass laws that will absolutely prohibit persons other than railroad employees from using the railroads' right-of-way. The readers of this paper would be astounded upon hearing of a single accident resulting in the death of 48 persons and the injury of double that number, and the accident would immediately be investigated and, if possible, the cause removed.

While these accidents to trespassers are scattered through a number of states and occur at separated periods, the total result is just as appalling. The responsibility rests upon the general public and the State Legislatures and no effort should be spared in taking the necessary steps to have this unnecessary loss of life and limb entirely wiped out.

FIGURATIVELY SPEAKING

PASSING OF A PIONEER

Large Cortege Follows Body to Arcadia For Burial.

Again death has invaded the ranks of our community, and claimed one of our oldest and most respected citizens in the person of Mrs. Margaret Leininger.

Mrs. Leininger was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Meyer. She was born in Alsace Lorraine Germany, September 25, 1840.

When but nine years of age, together with her parents she came to America, and settled in Jay county, Indiana, where her girlhood days were spent.

On November 22, 1860, she was united in marriage to Henry Leininger of Mercer county, Ohio, where they resided until in 1889, when they came west and settled on a farm near Arcadia, Nebraska.

When but a girl in her teens she was confirmed in the German Lutheran church, of which she remained a member, until in 1895 when she united with the Congregational church of Arcadia.

In 1905, together with her family, she came to Loup City, where the remainder of her days were spent.

She was a charter member of the Presbyterian church, of Loup City, in which she led a consistent christian life until her death.

Mrs. Leininger was the mother of six children, all of whom she raised to maturity, and all of whom survive her, save one, Jacob F., who died May 28, 1889. Her husband preceded her in death, on December 23, 1903.

She was taken ill some eight weeks ago, and has suffered a great deal in that time, but she was a patient sufferer, and bore her trials with fortitude until the end, which came Thursday evening, May 13, 1915, being 74 years, 7 months and 18 days of age. She is survived by three sons, John P. of Loup City, George S. of Gordon, Nebraska, and Charles H. of North Platte, Nebraska, and two daughters, Mrs. Mary C. Houser of Aurora, Nebraska, Margaret E. of Loup City, several grand children and one sister, Mrs. Catherine Heyd, of Loudenville, Ohio.

The funeral was held at Arcadia on Saturday, services being conducted by Rev. L. M. Steen, of the local Presbyterian church, and the remains laid to rest beside the body of her husband. A large number of Loup City people attended the services.

Parker's fountain pens make appropriate commencement gifts. See them at Swanson & Lofholm's.

Mayor Allen, A. B. Outhouse, Wm. Graefe and Gus Lorentz were Ravenna visitors last Thursday, viewing the sewer under construction there.

What Kind of a House

That is the question that perplexes the expectant builder of a house. He wants a home that will be comfortable summer and winter. One that will shut out winter's blustering winds, and have sufficient windows to admit the summer breezes.

The Mistakes of Some Builders in not paying attention to details causes the occupants discomfort summer and winter and they finally sell the house simply because of its faulty construction. A builder of houses must be able to foresee all these possible faults and provide for them. Tell me what you want and let me submit plans for your approval.

READ YOUR HOME ADS

See What Your Own Merchants Have to Offer You.

This week the advertising columns of the Northwestern contains some special announcements of interest to the discriminating buyer who looks both to the quality and price when purchasing goods. Always up to the minute in having suitable goods to fit the occasion, E. P. Daily advertises that he will completely furnish four rooms for $110, cash or easy terms, a price so low that anyone can furnish up a nice home even at a greatly lower price than any mail order house could sell the same goods.

Victor Vierer is advertising The Royal Tailors, promising for a few days only to sell two suits for the price of about one. H. M. Eisner, the jeweler, has a unique and pleasing ad which will interest the graduates and their friends. And don't forget to read the supplement. In the supplement is the announcement of a new firm at Rockville, Sundstrom & Company, a cash grocery. Among the excellent products this new store is handling is the celebrated "Mogul" line of canned goods. The Busy Bee Hat Shop invites the ladies of Sherman county to attend the clean up sale of stylish millinery on the 27, 28 and 29, of May. Everything must go at this sale as in a few weeks other models will arrive for summer and fall trade. Several other new ads are in this issue, but we cannot go into further detail for lack of space. Read the advertising columns thoroughly every week. Loup City has a progressive lot of business men who know and appreciate the value of printer's ink and it is the aim of the Northwestern to set forth their ideas in pleasing typographical style, thus keeping the people of Sherman county fully posted as to the values to be had by trading at home.

JUNIORS ENTERTAIN SENIORS.

The Junior class of the high school royally entertained the Senior class and High School faculty at a May morning breakfast in the pavilion of Jenner's park Tuesday morning. As the guests arrived they noticed the beautifully decorated table which adorned the central part of the pavilion and to which they were soon to be seated. Each one found his or her place at the table by means of a small May basket which was placed the place card. The welcome address, in behalf of the Juniors was given by Mr. Burwell, to this address Carl Amick, as president of the Senior class very eloquently responded. The Menu, which consisted of the following:

Strawberries in hull
Potatoes in canoes Peas in 1-r-b-ils
Radishes Jelly
Rolls and Butter
Spring Salad Cheese Wafers
Grape Sponge Small Cakes
Coffee

was then served, after which all departed to their various school (?) duties, each one declaring it to have been a well spent morning.

There will be an open kensington by the Methodist Ladies' Aid society, on Wednesday, May 26, at the home of Mrs. C. C. Outhouse. Everybody cordially invited.

ADVERTISING.

George L. Williams, advertising manager of the Studebaker company, firmly believes that the newspaper, whether it be metropolitan daily or local daily or weekly, is one of the first media, if not the first, in value to the national advertiser. Having once established a trade name, the newspaper offers a great opportunity to cash in, as it localizes to the consumer the particular product. It tells him just where he can buy it in his own town. It links the national name with the name of a reliable local dealer. It brings the thing home in a way which suggests immediate action.

When advertising brings a man into the dealer's store or into his garage it has achieved its purpose, and the newspaper, if it is backed up by the right kind of publicity, I believe, has wonderful value in this direction. I am willing to say that there are very few advertising campaigns indeed that can afford to neglect daily and weekly newspapers. I think I might go even farther and say that if lack of appropriation renders curtailment necessary, the newspaper should be the last thing eliminated from any campaign.—Binghamton (N. Y.) Press.
