An Indiana traveling man told a story the other day of an incident on the road. He was in the smoking car of an express train reading his paper when a man rushed in from the car behind the smoker, evidently in great agitation, and said: "Has any one in the car behind has fainted?" Instantly dozens of flasks were produced. The man who had asked for it picked out the largest one, drew the cork, and put the bottle to his lips, and with a long satisfied sigh, he handed the flask back and remarked: "That did me a lot of good. I needed it, for it always makes me feel so queer to see a woman faint."—Ex.

Debate.

The trial debate from which the debating team for the Loup City High School is to be selected will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 26th, at 8 p. m. in the Presbyterian church. The subject to be debated is "Resolved, That the federal government should own and operate the railroads of the country." There will be four speakers on each side of the question. Each speaker will be given twenty minutes, while each side will have five minutes for closing. As a result of this debate three debaters and one alternate will be chosen to take part in debates with other high schools this spring. Tuesday evening an admission fee of ten cents will be charged at the door. This money will be used to pay the expenses of the debating team in case it should be needed. It is hoped that all interested in the school will attend and give the boys the encouragement they deserve.

A Complete Scenic Production.

In the presentation in this city of "Monte Cristo" at the opera house, Saturday, Feb. 22nd, every department of the presentation, as it will be presented here will be completely handled. Ladies and gentlemen of known ability will compose the cast. The atmosphere of the play will be set to magnificent scenery. The first act shows the Port of Marseilles. The second act displays the Chateau d'If, the fortress prison on the sea's edge. The third act is the storm scene, and it is made impressively effective. The fourth act is the Hotel d'Orceeff, consisting of the ball room and conservatory, which embodies an artistic combination of beautiful colors. The last act is a glade in the forest of Fontainebleau, in which the famous duel occurs. These scenes are carried and used in every town and city.
