A superb attraction at the opera house next Wednesday evening, "A Woman of Mystery." Get your reserved seats early.

Next Friday evening, May 1st, at 8 o'clock, there will be preaching at the Adventist church. The subject will be, "The Inspiration of the Scriptures." All are invited to attend.

Besides our W. R. Mellor and wife, those of local interest who joined the Sheldon special to the Pacific Coast were Parle Rounds and wife, Banker Kinsey and W. L. Cramer all of Arcadia.

Our good German friend, Hans Obermiller, gave us a pleasant call Tuesday and expressed his pleasure over the establishment of the rural route south, which passes right by his door.

Whew! To add to the discomforts of the late fearful spell of weather, it was accompanied on Sunday by several flurries of snow. Pretty late for a visit from the beautiful, don't you think?

Mrs. Smith of Alford, Iowa, a sister of Mrs. Henry Ohlsen, who was called here by the severe illness of her father, Mr. Fred Stehr, returned home last week, leaving the father much improved.

What a shame, just as the weather had given every prospect of remaining good and giving fruit prospects the most rosy hue, that the late fearfully bad weather should knock the prospects into innocuous disuetude, so to speak.

C. E. Gibbons, a nephew of Mrs. J. P. Leininger, who came here from Celina, Ohio, several months since, and has been engaged in teaching school, returned to his home in the presidential state on Monday, expecting to remain there.

Latest news from the home of the editor's mother in Des Moines is of the best, she being able to be about and her general health improving nicely. When one considers her advanced age of 84 years and over, her recovery is little less than miraculous.

Quite a number of the readers of the Northwestern, renewed and new subscribers the past few days, will accept our best acknowledgments; among whom are: Wm. Poch, L. L. Smith, T. A. Taylor, J. F. Nicolson, Mrs. L. M. Hartman, by Bert German, Victor Johnson, Hans Obermiller, D. L. Adamson.

The condition of Fred Thode is said to continue for the worse and there is little prospect that he will ever be better. Since he had his last paralytic stroke, he has been confined to his bed and is unable to sit up even for a few minutes and lies for the greater part of the time in a comatose state.

Geo. Hosier, who recently bought the Round cottage southeast of this town, has sold the old building to Ed Radcliffe, who moved the same on to his lots in the northwest part of town and will fix it up for rent. Ed also has the contract to build a fine new residence for Mr. Hosier on the lots vacated.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nightingale entertained at 6 o'clock dinner last Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. R. J. Nightingale and Herbert Nightingale of Loup City, Neb. Thursday afternoon Mrs. Frank Nightingale entertained the ladies of the South Side circle at her home in University Place.—Monday's State Journal.

Mrs. A. P. Culley received the sad news Tuesday of the sudden death from apoplexy of her brother, Emmet Love, at his home in Coatsfield, this state, and Wednesday morning took the train for the stricken fireside. Mrs. McPherson, a sister of Mrs. Culley, who had arrived Tuesday evening from York for a visit, went with her. The sisters and other relatives have the sympathy of this community in their bereavement.

Prof. Dale and his party met with quite an accident to their rig, last Friday night, while at Ord to the debate. They had left the carriage in the care of a liveryman there and he put it outside the barn, where a rickety old windmill was blown over on it, smashing the vehicle badly, making it necessary to leave the rig there and return home by train. We understand that while the liveryman refused to make good the damage, Ord people did so, so the professor and party did not fare so badly. The carriage was from McLaughlin's stable and Mac had to send up to Ord for the team and wreck later.

PAINT THAT LASTS

To preserve your house—your property—your dollars, you might say—you must use paint. To do so economically the paint you use MUST have lasting qualities. Remember, poor paint costs more than good paint, for the work has to be done oftener. Start right by getting and you can make up your mind it's on to stay. The reason for this is plain. Horse Shoe Paint is wholly composed of the strongest and best materials known in the science of paint making—it contains no cheapening or adulterating materials whatever. It's made of strictly Pure Zinc and White Lead pigments. Add to this Pure Linseed Oil—crushed by the manufacturers themselves to insure its purity—then the necessary drier and coloring matter and you've got the best paint that money, brains and material can produce.

Horse Shoe Paint has stood the test for 20 long years—it's a proven paint—and is sold in almost every town and city in the United States. Should not that fact alone convince you that Horse Shoe Paint gives satisfaction beyond question?

Horse Shoe Paint does all we claim—we guarantee it to be pure and to wear. Horse Shoe Paint is absolutely pure; you buy it subject to chemical analysis and it's paint that lasts.

Paint your house with Horse Shoe Paint this season by all means.

ODENDAHL BROS. DRUG STORE

"A Woman of Mystery" at the opera house next Wednesday night. Don't miss it.

Mrs. E. G. Taylor returned home last evening from a visit to David City, her father accompanying her.

Mrs. Wm. Rowe and son went to Shelton Wednesday to visit their daughter and sister, Mrs. Schweitzer.

L. L. Smith was in town a few days since and commiserated with us over the measly weather of the then present.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Taylor of St. Paul visited over last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Taylor and family of this city.

A number of our local Odd Fellows went to Litchfield last Saturday evening where the queer boys held an all-night session of the order with a consequent good time.

Mrs. R. T. Taylor, a former resident of this city and who still owns property here, died last Sunday at her home in Denver, where she was buried.

A disastrous fire at Litchfield yesterday afternoon destroyed the Taefie hotel and saloon building, livery stable and blacksmith shop adjoining. Boys and matches in the baled hay in the barn said to be the cause. No further particulars.

County Assessor Bechtold proposes to assess all mortgages that are not released, and if they are not given in to the deputy assessors, he will hunt up the same and affix a 50 cent penalty in addition to their assessment. It will pay holders of such securities to take cognizance of the above.

Lou M. Williams received notice on Tuesday from the Postoffice Department at Washington of his appointment as carrier on the new rural route north from Loup City, known as R. R. No. 3. We congratulate Lou on his good luck. Lou has sold his express business to Jay Cole. The new route will begin operations June 1st.

Born, last Sunday night, or rather Sunday morning, just at the peep 'o day, a darling little angel of the feminine persuasion, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Foster. Talk about your smile that won't come off, Frank has a most pronounced case of it. May little Miss Foster live to be the belle of Loup City and the pride of her parents' hearts.

C. F. Kauffman, the auctioneer, sold off his household goods last Saturday, and on Monday of this week he and his wife left for Delta, Colo., where E. Holcomb is getting rich at the carpenter trade and where it is reported work is so plenty and wages so high that one may roll in luxury and wealth with but little effort. It is to be hoped all Loup Cityites who go there may become the richest of plutocrats.

Louis Strankman and family arrived from Grand Junction, Colo., last Thursday evening for a visit with their hosts of friends hereabouts. They will visit here a few weeks and go on to Iowa and other points to continue their pleasure. Louis says they are on a three months' visit and will make the most of it. They are prospering fine in their Colorado home, having recently sold eight acres of their fruit farm for $10,000, a fact we are glad to note.

Peter Rowe has in his possession a miniature copy of the Ringgold County Record, published at Mt. Airy, Iowa, in 1881, twenty-seven years ago, which is a veritable curiosity, and which has been in possession of his wife all these years, since she was a girl in her old Iowa home. What makes it of peculiar interest at this time is the fact that the writer hereof was editor of the Record at that time, and it brings a rush of memories of the time when he was just sprouting into editorial work. A copy of the paper spoken of may be seen at the Northwestern office, but unless one has the best of eyes he will have difficulty in deciphering the exceedingly small print, which needs microscopic aid in doing so, if the eye has lost its pristine glory.
