

DR. RICH'S CATARRH REMEDY

Home Treatment Price $3.00

Dr. Rich, the well known Grand Island Specialist, has arranged a system of Home Treatment for Catarrh of the various organs of the body, and is now prepared to supply to any sufferer from this prevalent disease a course of remedies that will be found to be not only satisfactory in every respect, but at a price certainly reasonable, and within the reach of everybody. During the five years Dr. Rich has been in Grand Island he has carefully avoided the treatment of Catarrhal conditions of the body, not being prepared to take up a work requiring time from his already extensive office business. During the past year, however, Dr. Rich has perfected a method which he offers below, for treating Catarrh in the home, and feels not only assured of excellent results, but that he will make many new friends, which will assist in increasing his already large practice. A photograph below shows one of the $3.00 outfits, and should give a perfect idea of the value offered. Dr. Rich's treatment for Catarrh is a Home Treatment in every sense, and can be used without detention from business. A full month's treatment of these remedies will be sent for $3.00. You may order as often as you like at the same price, or have the treatment sent to your friends. As there will be a large demand from the many people familiar with Dr. Rich's reputation as a Skillful Specialist, you are kindly requested to order early and avoid delay.

AN AMERICAN VENICE

It is a surprising thing to know that New York city, although not known as the American Venice, contains more islands than any city but Venice, for within its boundaries are 31 separate and distinct islands, most of which encircled by deep water, will afford unlimited shipping accommodations and dockage for the commerce of future years, to reach undreamed-of proportions, judging from past and present growth.—The "Giant City New Yrk," National Magazine.

Ha! Ha! Laughed Pat.

English John, and Pat, were two friendly workmen who were constantly tilting, each one trying to outwit the other. "Are you good at measurement?" asked John. "I am that," said Pat quickly. "Then could you tell me how many shirts I could get out of a yard?" asked John. "Sure," said Pat. "It depends on whose yard you get into."

Consolation for Girls.

Beware of the homely little girl, for she is more than likely to be the handsomest of her set when she is ready to leave school, and will no doubt remember any sights that were deferred her when she was an ugly little duckling. It is seldom that the pretty child grows into a very beautiful woman, and that is no doubt the way nature evens up things.

Children's Sleep.

As a general rule the lad at school between the ages of 13 and 16 requires nine to ten hours sleep. Growing boys need a large amount of sleep, and when this is denied them, neither their bodies nor their minds can develop properly. An English authority points out this lack of hours of rest falls most heavily on the clever boys.

Children Welcome.

—I hope, madam, you do not object to children? Boarding-house Mistress—Oh, not in the least. I have nine myself. Weary Searcher (backing off)—Um—er—if I decide to take the rooms, I will send you a postal. Good-day.—N. Y. Weekly.

PLANS POLAR TRIP

CAPT. OSBON, AGED 80 YEARS, TO SEEK NORTH POLE.

Route Will Be by Way of Bering Straits—Submarine to Navigate Under Floating Ice Will Be Taken Along.

New York.—Capt. B. B. Osbon is 80 years old, but he is planning to go in search of the pole, or the hole where the pole should be.

He is one of the organizers of the Reed Hollow North Pole Exploring club, which is planning to fit out an exploring fleet, consisting of three vessels, the flagship to be constructed on the lines of the "Gauss," and the two auxiliary vessels to be used as tenders.

The route will be by way of Bering Straits. The point of final departure has not been finally decided upon, but probably will be somewhere between Point Barrow and Bank's land, the plan being to take advantage of the Japan current and to drift as far north under its influence as possible before sending out the several exploring parties.

First the party will establish a wireless telegraph station at Cape Washington, Melville Land, one at Franz Joseph Land, one at Spitzbergen and one at Point Barrow. They will also have one of the vessels start from Point Barrow and proceed toward the pole, carrying as an aid in steering a gyroscope of special construction, which will enable the navigator to keep his course regardless of the compass, and will further indicate the distance traveled by registering the arc through which the vessel travels in a given time.

A specially constructed submarine boat will be taken, fully equipped for long journeys under floating ice. It will carry a wireless outfit by means of which the flagship may be always kept informed of its movements. The flagship will be equipped with a special telescoping mast of great height, which can be used for observation purposes and from which photographs may be taken to indicate open water

Much Good in the World.

That was a sober child's face at the window—but see, to what sunny smiles it lights up at the wave of a greeting hand! This is a plodding, uncouth stranger on his dull way to his morning's work. But with what glad alacrity he rouses up to do a passing kindness. You never suspected your grumbling neighbor of capacity for love—but watch him with his little child. There is more good in the world than we have been ready to allow, more kindness, faith and hope and joy. If there are wintry corners in the hearts of men, are we without them? May there not be defect of vision in our study of the world? May not some part of the retarding winter which we feel about us as we go on our melancholy way spring from our own hearts' frosty atmosphere? It will be so, indeed, if we go about the world like the east wind in May, that holds the leaves and blossoms back and keeps the birds from song.—The Congregationalist.
