The two days' session of the Old Settlers' Reunion at Jenner's Park began yesterday and continues today and this evening. There was less of a crowd present yesterday than expected, but those attending enjoyed the day and evening immensely. We trust today and this evening will witness a large number and consequent good time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Harper came up from Aurora Tuesday evening, returning home Wednesday noon. We understand they came up with a proposition to buy the St. Elmo hotel but couldn't come to agreeable terms with Mr. Lundy. We were glad to receive a pleasant call from the estimable people and would be equally pleased to again number them among Loup City residents.

Miss Hattie Froehlich returned last Thursday evening from a six weeks' absence in Kansas City. She had intended to take a position away from the present season, but owing to ill health and the advice of a physician she returned home. In thus changing her plans, she concluded to again go into the millinery business here, as witness her announcement in another column. While her host of friends here will regret her frail health, they will be pleased to learn she will again open a stock of millinery goods in Loup City.

Loup City Mercantile Co.

Watch for the dates of the grand opening of Miss Froehlich's new fall millinery.

The State Fair pilgrims came straggling home all the way from Thursday to the following Monday.

Mrs. Harry Hinman and baby left Monday morning for Burwell, her mother, Mrs. C. E. Lundy, accompanying her.

Geo. Stork with a force of painters last week re-painted the Pray school house preparatory to the opening of the school year.

The little daughter of Ed Radcliffe was seriously ill last Friday night, requiring the attendance of a physician but is all right again.

W. F. Mason, the miller, returned last Saturday from a trip to Northern Nebraska. He expects to go up this week to try his luck on the opening of the new land reservation.

C. J. Tracy comes home from his duties as chief of police of the State Fair, with the utmost enthusiasm over the big exhibition, which has been the most successful in point of numbers, finance and interest of any yet held.

R. H. Mathew, Mrs. A. L. Zimmerman, Mrs. C. C. Cooper and Miss Elva Zimmerman visited over last Sunday at Arcadia with Mrs. H. M. Mathew, who is in charge of the home of her parents a few weeks while they are visiting in the east.

W. S. Sinclair recently from Ord, has moved into the Lan Benschoter cottage and has charge of the Foster dray line for the present. He starts right by becoming a reader of the Northwestern. May prosperly accompany himself and family here.

Last Thursday closed the 21st year in his present place of business of J. L. Depew, our popular veteran in the blacksmith and wagon making business. This is a pretty good record and shows the popularity of Jeemes with the farmers of Sherman county.

While attending to her household duties Monday morning, Mrs. Allen, mother of Dentist, S. A. Allen, suffered a badly sprained left ankle in descending the steps to the ground. Dr. Longacre was called and relieved the patient, who will, however, be on the invalid list for a month to six weeks.

Mrs. Ira E. Williams, wife of our new banker, arrived in Loup City last Saturday evening fairly recovered from her recent nervous illness. She will be happy to meet the many Loup City ladies who may call a week here, after she has become fairly settled in her new home and recovered the fatigue incident to her journey and recent illness.

This evening occurs the Lambert Daddow wedding.

Anton Erasmiz was over from Ravenna yesterday.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Conger is quite ill.

The Ravenna Creamery Co. will pay 18 cents for butter fat till further notice.

Robert Bly and Paul Dyer went to Fort Scott, Kas., Monday morning over the B. & M.

Mrs. Lambert of Palmer is opening a millinery establishment in the building formerly occupied by Mrs. Mead.

The Loup City Mill is receiving two cars of old wheat from Ashton this week as new wheat is not dry enough to make good flour.

C. C. Carlson did not get home from the State Fair till Tuesday evening, stopping off at St. Paul and Dannebrog to visit friends over Sunday.

Will French and his men moved the Otto Petersen barn from the downtown lots, Tuesday and Wednesday to the new place purchased of Truelsen.

Why buy a cat in a sack? At our exhibit, Sept. 28 to Oct. 3, we will show you a Majestic in actual operation.

HAYHURST & GALLAWAY HDW. CO.

O. A. Jenkins came down from Arcadia Tuesday to make arrangements for his daughter, Mildred, to enter our city schools. The young lady will make her home during the school year at Dr. Marcy's.

I have decided to put in a stock of fall millinery again this year. My goods will be entirely new and up-to-date in every particular. Watch for the dates of the grand opening days.

MISS HATTIE FROEHLICH.

Mrs. Estabrook of Wolbach and Miss Grace Heck of Palmer, the latter a cousin of the groom, are here to attend the Lambert-Daddow nuptials this evening. The happy couple leave tomorrow morning for Palmer, where a reception will be given them in the evening. Mrs. Newton Vance, sister of the groom, will attend the reception from here.

On Monday evening of last week Mrs. C. F. Beushausen entertained at 6 o'clock dinner Miss Meroe and Emma Outhouse, Addie Leininger and Frances Sweetland, Messrs. Fay Paist, Max Jeffords and Leslie Sweetland. The evening was pleasantly spent with music, contests, etc., and was one long to be remembered.

Mr. G. B. Wilke, of Brock, Neb., was here the first of the week and through A. L. Zimmerman purchased a fine farm some eight miles south of Loup City and will take possession of the same next March. Mr. Wilke is one of the multitude of good Nebraska republicans and will be a valuable addition to the party ranks as well as to good citizenship.

E. G. Taylor returned from Omaha Saturday, where he employed Mr. E. F. Johnson of Alpha, Iowa, to be head miller at the Loup City Mills, who commenced work Monday morning. He comes well recommended as a miller, having had 14 years' experience in the Crete Mills and a total of 22 years milling in Nebraska. Mr. Taylor believes in getting the best and our people should patronize their home mill, as we know they are putting out good flour.

C. E. Lundy went to Grand Island last Friday to consult an oculist in regard to his left eye, into which some foreign substance had penetrated a day or two previous, causing inflammation of that organ. The specialist discovered an abscess on the eye, performed a surgical operation, some relief relieving the pain and he returned home the same evening. However, he may have to return for another operation later and is at present confined to a dark room each day till toward evening, owing to the pain being accelerated by the rays of the sun.

W. F. Mason returned from Omaha Tuesday driving home his new Chalmers-Detroit touring car purchased there. Mr. Mason, accompanied by his brother, Oliver Mason, Dr. S. A. Allen and P. O. Reed, went down to Omaha last Saturday all enjoying the pleasant experience of a joying all the way home in the new beauty. They report the finest kind of a time and Mr. Mason may well feel proud of his fine machine. We understand that later he, accompanied by his wife and baby, will make a trip to his old home in Indiana in the machine.

Miss Maude Holt of Phillipsburg, Kansas, arrived in Loup City Monday evening to take charge of the millinery department of Mrs. Adamson.

Mrs. Adamson is and has been for the past ten days receiving a fine large stock of millinery, in fact claimed to be the largest and most complete ever brought to Loup City. Miss Holt is busily engaged in making a large number of pattern hats and getting ready for the opening days, the dates of which will be announced later.

Mrs. Adamson assures us that the very ladies will find her stock the very latest and up-to-date, and would be pleased to have them call and inspect the goods at the earliest opportunity and solicit a share of their patronage, guaranteeing perfect satisfaction in every case.
