Dr. Rich, being first duly sworn, deposes and says, that the illustration below is a true representation of the $3.00 catarrh outfit for catarrh of the head, nose and throat, herein advertised, and that any one ordering same and finding it not satisfactory may have his money returned upon demand.

DR. RICH.

Subscribed in my presence and sworn to before me this 25th day of February, 1903. JOHN ALLAN, Notary Public.

My Commission expires Jan. 5, 1912.

Guaranteed under the Pure Food and Drug Act of June 30, 1906. Serial Number No. 12752. The above outfits contain no Morphine, Opium, Cocaine, Heroin, Eucaine, Chloroform, Cannabis Indica, Chloral Hydrate, Acetanilide, or any of their derivatives.

Dr. Rich, the well known Grand Island Specialist, has arranged a system of Home Treatment for Catarrh of the various organs of the body, and is now prepared to supply to any sufferer from this prevalent disease a course of remedies that will be found to be not only satisfactory in every respect, but at a price certainly reasonable, and within the reach of everybody. During the five years Dr. Rich has been in Grand Island he has carefully avoided the treatment of Catarrhal conditions of the body, not being prepared to take up a work requiring time from his already extensive office business. During the past year, however, Dr. Rich has perfected a method which he offers below, for treating Catarrh in the home, and feels not only assured of excellent results, but that he will make many new friends, which will assist in increasing his already large practice. A photograph below shows one of the $3.00 outfits, and should give a perfect idea of the value offered. Dr. Rich's treatment for Catarrh is a Home Treatment in every sense, and can be used without detention from business. A full month's treatment of these remedies will be sent for $3.00. You may order as often as you like at the same price, or have the treatment sent to your friends. As there will be a large demand from the many people familiar with Dr. Rich's reputation as a Skillful Specialist, you are kindly requested to order early and avoid delay.

ANCIENT TIMEPIECE

WATCH OVER 300 YEARS OLD OWNED BY CHICAGOAN.

Said to Have Been Made Without the Aid of Machinery—Still Ticking Off Minutes with Commandable Accuracy.

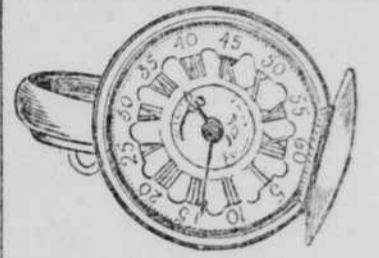

Chicago.—One of the most remarkable heirlooms in the possession of any Chicagoan is a watch made more than 300 years ago in England and brought to this country in 1634. It is owned by Reuben S. Price, a retired traveling man, living at 756 East Seventy-second street.

Although this is the sixth generation of the family in America that has owned the watch, it is still recording faithfully Father Time's hours and minutes with the most commendable accuracy.

The watch was made near the close of the fifteenth century, and there is an indisputable record of its ownership from the year 1634, when it was in the possession of Mordecai Price, who was among the very earliest settlers in Anne Arundel county, Maryland. The watch was handed down from father to son from Mordecai the first to his son Mordecai, and his son's son Mordecai, the latter bequeathing it to his son Elijah, who in turn trusted it into the hands of his son John K., the father of the present possessor of the relic.

The various owners and the dates of their acquisition of the watch are engraved upon the back as follows: I was brought to St. Mary's, Maryland, in 1634 by Mordecai Price. 1662 his son, Mordecai Price, Jr. 1723 his son, Mordecai Price, Jr., Jr. 1781 his son, Elijah Price. 1839 his son John K. Price. 1862 his son, Reuben S. Price.

Continuing the custom from the first Mordecai down through six generations, Reuben S. Price will some time give the valuable relic to his own and only son, Reuben S. Price, Jr. Mr. Price naturally prizes it above price, having recently refused an offer of $1,000 for it.

The watch, in the opinion of a well-known Chicago watchmaker, was made entirely by hand, probably the only one in existence made without the aid of machinery. Even the tiny chain, which age does not seem to have worn, was put together by the patient fingers of its maker over three centuries ago. The movement is incased in a solid silver covering which fits inside another case, the outside case being open on one side and the inner case containing the crystal.

The dial contains two rows of figures, an inside circle bearing Roman characters to denote the hours, and an outside row set with the Arabic figures to indicate the minutes.

The watch has a very peculiar tick, the sound caused by its vibrations resembling very much the noise produced by the light tapping of a pencil point on an inverted tin cup. Around the outer edge of the center circle (which is countersunk) of the dial is the imprint of the maker of the watch, as follows:

RD. BANNER, LIVERPOOL.

Mr. Price bases his estimate of the date of making of the watch upon investigations he made concerning this Richard Banner, while on a recent visit to Liverpool. On consulting the archives of the city he found that one Richard Banner was engaged in the watchmaking business there prior to 1600, but after that date all records of him ceased, evidently showing his death at about that time.

During the time in which it was handed down from one descendant of the Price family to another the watch was permitted to lie dead for a period of a full century, after which it was repaired and coaxed into its old ways of keeping good time, which it still continues to do.

In size the watch is something less than the dimensions of a modern time-keeper.

The record obtained from the family genealogy shows that the watch was carried through many momentous periods of our country's history, including the eight years when in the revolution, and it ticked off the wearisome hours and minutes through which our fathers struggled for American independence.

Kansas City's New "Zoo."

Kansas City has begun work on the first building of a group, which when completed will be one of the finest zoological gardens in the United States and will cost $500,000. Five years are allowed for completion. Its most conspicuous feature will be the "lion house," which is to be 120x300 feet, and have accommodations for about 70 lions, tigers, etc. In addition to the housed specimens, there will be a ten acre jungle at the eastern end of Swope park, where within a fence 14 feet high animals will roam undisturbed in their native wildness so far as their nearness to civilization will permit the illusion.

MAY BAR SERBIAN PRIEST

Authorities Detain Father Bozikovio at Ellis Island.

Father Stefan Bozikovio, the Serbian priest now under the guard of the deportation bureau at Ellis Island, has caused more trouble and stir among the immigration authorities than all the other immigrants on the island put together, and they are still trying to decide whether he should be sent away as an anarchist or whether he should be let in and the complaints against him be treated with no more consideration than the grumbling of any pastor's dissatisfied members of the flock. Bozikovio is held for certain speeches and actions which some of his flock consider anarchism, but which he considers good, sound religion. He conducted a Greek Catholic congregation for some time in the outskirts of Chicago. It is from the Chicago office of the immigration bureau that the charges against the Serbian priest come. Father Bozikovio was easily spotted when he reached this country, in the second cabin of the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse. All that the officers had to do was to watch for a short, dark, little man in clerical garb. The description suited him, but it in no wise suggested the anarchist that he may be of the trouble maker that he has proved to be already. They took Father Bozikovio and turned him over into the hands of Superintendent McKee of the deportation bureau to await the decision as to his admittance. Bozikovio is there yet, confined in a small room, where he is practically a prisoner, fed from the ordinary food of the detention pens and allowed to see absolutely no one except his keepers. The priest shows great confidence in his early release, denying that he is an anarchist or anything like it, and saying that there was nothing worse standing against him than the ill-will of a few members of the Chicago church, who are anxious to keep him away. The charges against the priest, it is said, make him out as one in the habit of calling Uncle Sam names from the pulpit and talking bitterly about the American government. In the belief of certain of his fellow countrymen in Chicago he is an out-and-out anarchist. Others look upon him as a grumbler. The detention of a Greek Catholic priest of standing among his countrymen has aroused a good deal of feeling outside of Ellis island, both among Servians and among others.
