JOHN HENRY

SANSCRIT STORIES

BY GEO. V. HOBART, ("HUGH M'HUGH.")

. in literature. (P. S .- Time died a violent death, all right, all right!)

I want you to read these little stories from the Sanscrit, and scold her nearest kinswoman and all the me when we meet.

Once more, go to it, Bunch!

The Finish of Billdad. And it came to pass that Billdad secret session this night, but what cold water. good thing shall I say unto my wife great purpose in going forth?" And Billdad the son of Jimdad Pebbleonthebeach, and humidity also glanced disconsolately at his favorite newspaper, and his heart was like lead within him.

And even as he read a smile broke forth from the gloom that overshadowed his face, and this smile was like unto the first faint flush of the wakening East, and he arose with gurgle some glee as does one whose mind is relieved of a mighty burden.

And he communed with himself softly, saying: "Politics! 'Tis a pipe!' And Billdad the son of Jimdad called his wife to his side, and he spake unto her, saying: "Maud, the soft whiteness of thy cheek is fairer than the bloom that loves to linger on the lilies of the Nile! Thine eyes are twin thieves, which by some sorcery have ta'en the light from you poor, weeping star, and now that light must lurk forever in those languorously arrived in perspiratious quantities, summer's sky!" And Maud, the wife of Billdad the a battle in the newspapers. der of the Accidental Dollar Bill?"

into the noisome night. Knowst thou them!" struggle, and my uncertain vote still on the City Man's solar plexus, and what ists, soothsayers, and seers to the end | And the undertow grabbed the City that my eyes may clearly see the light | Man's wife's kinswoman and stood her and my vote may count upon the side on her head, and rendered her unfit of Right. Be thou of good cheer, be- for speechification. loved, for I shall sit at the feet of the an owl-train for lateness, and the own individual tribe; and trouble was soothsayers say not neither do they their portion. sooth until the world is in the dead

"What Talk Have Ye, Billdad? Quit Your Joshing."

full soon his heaving bosom rested on the onyx trimmings of the bar, and his right foot was in tender touch with the brass rail at the base thereof. And a great joy shone forth from

And when the night was far spent, Billdad the son of Jimdad drew zigzaggingly ligh unto his habitation, and his knees were prone to wobble a professional pursuit." with much uncertainty of purpose.

saying: "Ha! Ha! Thou did'st sit en to become members. at the feet of the wise men of Egypt, eh? Thou look'st the part, for, methinks, the wise men of Egypt used Billdad! Speak not to me of politics! and with straightforward voice say and heard those speakers shout!"" And Billdad the son of Jimdad swayed gently to and fro in the light of the breaking morn, and he spake, saying: "I shimply sh'ood an' h'er with neither voting power nor eligibilzoash sheekers spout!" And of the fretful finish of Billdad the son of Jimdad let there be no cruel chronicle made

Pebbleonthebeach.

And it came to pass that a certain or 20 years, thanks to coddling and City Man looked upon the sun when it overmuch protection, has become a was red, and he communed with him- patent fact to those who observe and self, saying: "Behold! the summer understand the habits of these birds, approacheth on rubber shoes, and the Here and there measures are being mercury will soon be up against the taken to lessen the plague, and by roof of its habitation; therefore, it be- some few county councils the protechoweth me to journey quickly unto tion once accorded has been withthe Land of Pebbleonthebeach, lest drawn. peradventure, a great humidity shall Gulls are responsible for an enorrise up over the city and transform me mous destruction of fish, as well as

into a state of meltedness." bers of his own individual tribe, say- rivaling the booded crow and common dowa the blinds, place our worldly |-Country Life.

Dear Bud: I'm going to pull some | possessions in the frapped depths of thing on you in this letter that will the safety-vault, and hie us to that make you get up and leave the room. | balmy peacefulness which the gentle-Just to kill time, I've been dabbling voiced advertisements say abounds with a joyous plentitude in the Land of Pebbleonthebeach forever and > ever. And the wife of the City Man and diminutive members of his own individual tribe made swift answer, and spake, saying: "Let's!"

And it came to pass that they jour the son of Jimdad was worried within neyed into the Land of Peebleonthehimself, and he communed with him- beach, and their hearts were glad self, saying: "Behold! I must join within them, for the scene was fair to the Brethren of the Long Thirst in look upon, and the ocean was full of

And lo! even as they looked a hot when she chides me with having no wave arrived on a fast train from the City and enveloped all the Land of limpid-depths! Thy smile, O Maud, is and made the Land of Pebbleonthelike the scintillating sweetness of a beach look and feel like the innermost recesses of a Japanese warship during son of Jimdad, made answer, and said: | And the City Man and the City "What talk have ye, Billdad? Quit Man's wife and his wife's nearest kinsyour joshing, or I'll baste you with the woman, and all the diminutive membroom. Got to go out again to-night, bers of his own individual tribe, for-I suppose. What is it this time? The sook their raiment and rushed into Inner Circle of the Royal Sons of a the ocean, which was full of cold wa-Krupp Gun? Oh is it the Ancient Or- ter, saying to one another: "Ha! ha! the humidity cannot touch us here!"

Until She Was Fain to Scream Sufficiency.

And Billdad the son of Jimdad an- And behold! the waves put on their swered and said: "Nay, sweet wife of white caps and communed one with my weary heart, 'tis none of these. another, saying: "The Cityltes are in 'Tis politics that beckons me forth our midst; let us make merry with not that the two Great Parties will And straightway the little waves colsoon have to grapple in the final death- laborated in a successful effort to land wavers in the winds of indecision? they did to his was a plentiful plenti-Therefore, this night, O wife of my tude. And unto the wife of the City weary heart, I go forth to join a gar- Man the little waves did likewise, unrulous group of statisticians, astrolog- til she was fain to scream sufficiency.

And the members of the life-saving wise men of Egypt and imbibe much station worked overtime hauling from wisdom. Wherefore, thou need'st not the cavernous depths of the ocean the wait up for me, for politics is like unto diminutive members of the City Man's

And when the Cityites were come back from the bosom of the mighty And Billdad the son of Jimdad went deep, the Mosquito and the Landlord forth to sit at the feet of the wise men presented their bills, and yet; unto of Egypt. And it came to pass that this very hour the City Man knoweth not which bill penetrated with the most terrifying penetrativeness.

And it came to pass that the City Man knew no peace in the Land of Pebbleonthebeach, and he communed with himself, saying: "Lo! the gentlevoiced advertisement is a delusion and a snare; for the wild waves are even an automobile chauffeur for rudeness: the humidity followeth unceasingly, and the Mosquito stingeth like an adder. Therefore will I gather the remnants of my tribe about me and flee for the City whence I came, lest, peradventure, the Landlord shall take my wearing apparel, even as he hath taken my purse and the contents thereof.' And straightway he got up and gat. And even as he gat he communed with himself, saying: "Stang!" Cheer up, Bunch; the wurst is yet to come, as the man said when the waiter didn't bring the sausage.

his eyes as he murmured: "Six beers (Copyright, 1908, by G. W. Dillingham Co.)

Yours as heretofore,

"It is inexpedient publicly to encourage women to adopt chemistry as

In this concise way is expressed the And Maud, the wife of Billdad the view of those members of the Chemson of Jimdad, stood in the open door, ical society of Great Britain who disand she made scornful conjecture, approve of the proposal to allow wom-

Out of 3,400 papers read on personal researches during the last 35 years, only 23 have been contributed you for a door-mat. Thou did'st also by women alone. There is a growing imbibe wisdom-from a stein! Bah, desire, however, on the part of many of our leading scientists to admit wom-Come, now, stand before me, Billdad, en chemists to membership, and, as the wish has met with the strongest after me these words: 'I simply stood opposition from other members, the question is being put to a ballot. Mme. Curie is at present the only woman member, and she has been made merely an "honorary fellow," ity for office on the council.

Mischief Done by Guils.

That many of the gulls have become far too numerous during the last 15 raids on the eggs and young of various And the City Man spake unto his birds. In many parts of Scotland the wife and his wife's nearest kinswom- lesser black backed gulls have become an; and unto all the diminutive mem- the veriest vermin, in this respect ing: "Behold, the bow-wow days will rook, the latter another recent desoon be upon us; therefore let us pull velopment of unwise overpreservation.

From Paris

The evening gown at the left is of black tulle made up over green satin. The underskirt of the satin is trimmed with a green and gold guipure and over this is the skirt of black tulle finished at the bottom with a wide band

The corsage and short sleeves are made of the green and gold embroidery bordered with the black tulle and liberty. The underblouse guimpe and long sleeves are of white tulle.

The wide girdle is of green silk and black velvet ribbon; it is finished in the back, a little at one side, with long fringed ends of the green and black. The other gown is of black taffeta. The round skirt is encircled with two groups of deep tucks and trimmed lengthwise with a band of silk edged with a frill of the same and ornamented with motifs of passementerie. This band apparently extends up on to the waist, which is also encircled with tucks and trimmed around the yoke with a tucked insertion of the silk bordered with bias bands of the same The sleeves are trimmed to correspond; the yoke and cuffs are of white side and cloth on the other so that enough to fill the crops at night. In guipure. The girdle is of black velvet ornamented at one side with a great ture of the Season.

The woman who loves beautiful col-

There are white and violet crepes

These could be used as silk curtains

PICTURESQUE HAT.

Of leaf-green felt, with ruchings and bows of green velvet, encircled by medallions of green silk and dull sil-

To Perfume the Breath.

It is considered bad form to perfume easily, but nothing can be said against perfuming it just enough to sweeten

it. Buy a piece of orris root and chew just a small piece of this. A clove

TUCKS FOR THE HOUSE GOWN. HOUSE DRAPERIES ARE BRIGHT. Varying Widths Offer Opportunity for Extravagance in Color a Marked Fea-

Display of Taste.

deep red rose of liberty satin.

Tucks appear on most of the sleeves of the new gowns intended strictly for oring and design should go through house use, and their varying widths the shops to see the new things for offer suggestions as to what may be household decorations. done with the aid of energy and two | The extravagances of color in fabric kinds of material. If only just in the new costumes for women are enough net is on hand to make a not only equaled but surpassed in scantily tucked tight-fitting long those for house draperies. Dozens of sleeve, the tucking would best begin new things have been brought out. half way between the shoulder and the and, best of all, they are offered at elbow, and the intervening space cov- small prices. ered with a closely fitting cap of silk | In the Japanese stuffs there is the or satin, elaborately hand or soutache wildest profusion of stamped designs, embroidered. Or there may be wide of embroidery, and of bullion work. tucks entre deux with silk or satin some are very expensive and are inbands, as such a scheme will admit of tended only for handsome rooms. any amount of piecing. Sometimes it Others are at small cost, and would may prove advisable to drape the delight the heart of the artistic womheavier fabrics over a tight lace an. For less than 50 cents a yard sleeve, in which event the under side there are extra wide Japanese drapeof the transparency need not absolute- ries of printed crepe in pale greens ly match, as the drapery may be with faintly colored Japanese lanterns tacked down to the inner section, and swinging down the outside edges as only the top need be exposed. The a border. woman who finds it necessary to make over sleeves would best provide her- with wonderful designs in wistaria self with a sleeve form on which she floating all over the surface. may make experimental drapings, for she has only to bear in mind that so for any room except a formal parlor or long as the sleeve is full length and reception hall .- N. Y. Times. tight-fitting from the elbow to the wrist almost any fancy will pass muster in connection with a house gown or a blouse not of the strictly tailored

The Utility Coat. Undoubtedly the number of women who must make one long coat answer for all-round daytime service is greatly in the majority, and to such is addressed the statement that in selecting such a garment it will be better to secure a material not too heavy for ordinary autumn and spring use, relying upon extra wraps for additional warmth in winter. Any of the medium-weight worsteds, supposing always that they are close and firm of weave, are advised, but special attention must be devoted to their coloring, which should show a preponderance of white or gray rather than black, dark brown, blue or green, as the dust seems to settle on weaves in those colors as though with a firm determination to cling in the proverbially brotherly manner, whereas white, gray and tan simply become a bit more dull, but never look actualchafing dish parties is because of the will give an odor of carnations to the lets are confined to the laying houses. coquettish adornment French aprons treath. If the clove is chewed, it If we can secure skim milk at a reagive. A mere handful of a thing is must be swallowed right away or the pear-shaped, wiht a suggestion of a odor will become too strong. It is it will be found to be an excellent bib. Around the edges insertions are said a bit of myrrh held in the cheek food. Very often one can buy green ruffles of the same lace.

The Coquettish Apron.

Sachets as Bridge Prizes.

than money may entertain correctly if looking silk pieces at hand. Such little bags are of all sizes, as they are used to drop among the handkerchiefs, the neckwear, the gloves and tions of perfume are permissible.

Finger Ring Much in Vogue.

ring is composed of some semi-pre-Sachets are now given as bridge cious stone, such as lapis lazuli, turprizes, so that the hostess who posses- quoise or jade, and while it is the ses more of the virtue of hospitality really smart thing to have the ring match the shirt-waist studs, the trinket only she has a large number of fresh- is assumed by those who don't wear such studs at all.

The Women May Walk. A new directoire tailor-made is a the lingerie. They are mounted over light blue broadcloth, the skirt made very tight with a corselet waist line. little fine white linen sacks which hold the powder, and their ends may At the line of the knee, however, a rufbe fringed and tied together with fle of side-plaited broadcloth is added. baby ribbon, or they may be faced or so that, although from the waist to the shirred into a sort of rose effect. knee the skirt is very tight, it is pos-Sachets are especially acceptable sible for the wearer to walk. The these days when only yague sugges- bodice of the dress is of the broadcloth, trimmed with black satin pipings, which are shaped to suggest the directoire. The sleeves are of white "As like a hand as another hand" is net, very long and shirred, and the a quotation which gains much force yoke which fills in the square neck of from the present fashion of wearing the bodice is also of white net. The a finger ring. So general is this habit, gown just clears the floor.

so universally is this bit of jewelry seen on the tanned hand of the summer girl that it bids fair to outrank A woman sent in a fire alarm yesterthe merry widow sailor and the cling- day when she posted a letter. It must ing skirt as a future means of iden- have been to her husband.—Chicago tifying the girl of 1908. The finger Evening Post.

THE FALL AND WINTER CARE OF THE PULLETS

Comfortable Quarters and Balanced Ration Needed to Get the Eggs-By James J. Halpin, Michigan.

isfactory litter, although they do not last as long as straw. When the house is ready remove the pullets to it carefully. Do not of all kinds, and shun all bad smelling carry them by one leg only or other- disinfectants. The egg shell is porous wise misuse them. Any rough han- and will, therefore, allow the egg to dling at this time will mean a subse- absorb bad odors. Store the eggs in quent loss in the eggbasket. Of course a clean place and market them at a change always produces timidity, least once a week; by following this but by exercising great care they will method one should soon be able to get soon become accustomed to their new a reputation for furnishing eggs that quarters. When about to enter the are good and genuinely fresh. house a slight noise announcing one's approach before opening the doors from the range they may not be comwill prevent fright and injury from a pletely feathered. If not, an occasionsudden rush or flight against obstacles al feed of sweet corn will be a great in the pen. Chickens soon get to treat for them and will help them proknow the call of a low, soft whistle | duce a new coat of feathers. Sunannouncing to them the coming of the flower seeds contain oil and make an feed basket. At this stage the repro- excellent addition to the ration, helpductive organs are developing rapid- ing to produce new feathers quickly. ly and any abuse or frightening may Oil meal or oil cake may also be added cause the loss of some of the finest to the mash feed. We like to use 100 in the flock.

been closed for days at a time. The Canada peas also make an excellent quarters, see that they always have of the moulting period. plenty of fresh air without a draught. either one can be swung in at will. this way one can have healthy fowls

When the cold nights begin to come | where the hens can get exercise workit is time to bring the pullets into ing at it. Onions, turnips, potatoes winter quarters. They should then and several other vegetables may be begin to show signs of approaching fed. These, however, should be maturity. Before bringing them in, cooked until soft and then mixed with clean the house they are to occupy, about an equal bulk of bran; feed whitewash it thoroughly and disinfect while still quite warm. We prefer the perches, nest boxes, etc. Be sure to feed such a feed at noon. Be carethat the disinfectant enters every ful not to feed too much, as the hens crack and crevice. Then cover the are very fond of soft, moist mash, and floor with about four inches of fine will gorge themselves with it if given gravel or sand. Cover this with six a chance. Be sure that each hen can inches of dry, clean, long straw, as get her share and do not feed more the pullets will break it up quickly than they will eat up clean in 15 minenough. Where leaves are plentiful utes. Also be careful to have the they may be used and make very sat- vegetables dry enough so that when the bran is added it will make a crumbly, moist mixture.

Always be careful to feed clean food

When the pullets are brought in pounds of bran, 75 pounds of mid-We have entered poultry houses in dlings, 25 pounds oil meal, 100 pounds the winter where the windows have corn meal and 100 pounds beef scrap. hens are found standing around with addition to the ration during the their feathers ruffled and looking as moulting period. The fowls soon learn they were nearly frozen to death. to eat them and they will help keep In accustoming pullets to their new the birds vigorous during the strain

There is as much in care and man-One of the best systems of ventilation agement as in the food. Keep the is to have a window hinged on one hens busy all day and then give them Those having sliding windows can ar- and avoid many bad habits. If a hop-

Leghorn pullets reared according to was 31/2 pounds. The first egg promethods outlined here. Twelve of duced by this pen was laid October these pullets were hatched early in 23, and during the 30 days of No-May, 1906, and the remaining 14 dur- vember a total of three hundred and deal like that tripe. You take to ing the early part of the following ninety-one eggs were produced by month. On November 30, 1906, the the pen. range to slide one in from either side. | per is used to feed mash, supply a Both should usually be left open a light feed of grain in the litter in the little while during the day except in morning; stir it in well so they have extremely cold weather. Hens enjoy to work to find it. At noon open the sunshine and fresh air but it should hopper and let them help themselves come through the window and not until about four o'clock, when it through cracks and crevices. No one should be closed and the hens fed an should expect hens to lay well in a abundant feed of grain. If some grain house that is not constructed with is left in the litter they will search tight walls. The sides of many hen it out the next morning. If moist houses are made of unmatched lum- mash is fed it should be given at noon ber, which has shrunk, leaving cracks and then in moderation as the hens through which wind, rain and snow are very fond of warm, crumbly mash blow, perhaps directly on the fowls. in cold weather, and may engorge No one should expect hens to do well their crops if fed too much. Aim to in such a place. A few dollars spent have a constant supply of fresh water. on building paper and a few feet of Do not allow the fowls to get too battens will work a great change for hungry but endeavor to keep them the better. Simply spread the build- comfortable, busy and contented. By ing paper smoothly over the sides strict adherence to these rules one of the house and then place battens on every 18 inches. A good coat of vigorous pullets lay well all the fall paint will improve the appearance, and winter.

and make it more lasting. Next let us consider the feed that range they doubtless found an abunform of grass and insects. We must the markets at a reasonable price. Any scraps from the table, as long as they are fresh. No one should be guilty any form. We cannot expect people to pay good proces for eggs if our fowls eat unclean food. In some infrom any animal that dies; this practo buy commercial beef scrap or granulated milk. These will keep indefinitely when properly stored. The green food may be supplied in the form of cut alfalfa or clover hay cabbage should be hung up on a string any condition to do damage.

Our illustration represents 25 White | average weight of this pen of pullets should be able to make the strong in the queer old fellow, said: "I'll give

Choice Steers .- If a steer is not the breath so that it can be noticed the pullets should have when they quite right, either as to quality or come in off the range. While on the condition, but still possesses to a marked degree the characteristics dance of green food and meat in the most sought by packers, shippers and exporters, he is called a choice steer. One strong reason why girls have placed in the mouth, but not chewed, supply these two foods when the pul- To be a choice steer cannot be much short of prime either as to quality or condition; in other words, it takes outsonable price, or have it on the farm standing quality and condition in a bullock to grade as choice. As the term indicates, he is choice, vet falls designed, and these are edged with will give a breath a delicately sweet | bone and scraps or waste meat from | short of the finish and quality characteristics of a prime bullock. A few of these may be utilized as well as prime or choice heifers in loads with steers of the same grade often sell with the steers at a uniform price .of feeding partially decayed meat in H. W. Mumford, in "Market Grades of Cattle."

Limber Neck .- This is a disease stances the hens are fed the meat that is sometimes met with in the tice should not be allowed. Numerous very common. It is characterized by complaints are made annually because a limp condition of the neck. The even fresh eggs are off in flavor. fowl seems to lose all control of the When the source of the trouble is neck muscles, and the head rests on traced out we invariably find the the ground. It is supposed to be a hens have been fed unclean food, germ disease, and one writer says such as hotel swill, horse meat, or that the germ is found in decayed other carrion. If milk or meat scraps meat which the fowls have eaten. cannot be secured locally it is better | Prevention is better than a remedy. Decayed flesh should not be given to fowls more than to other creatures.

Lime in the Poultry House .- A good coat of fresh whitewash is probably The hens will eat it either dry or worth more to most poultry houses steamed. Mangolds or beets and cab- than anything else. The use of fubage also make excellent food and migation is attended with many uncershould be fed raw. Beets should be tainties, as we do not known how sliced lengthwise until the hens learn | much the poisonous fumes affect lice. to eat them, when they may be thrown mites and disease germs. But when in whole. The mangel-wurtzel is the these are covered up with a good coat best variety for chicken feed. The of lime it is doubtful if they are in

How many American women in lonely homes to-day long for this blessing to come into their lives, and to be able to utter these words, but because of some organic derangement this happiness is denied them.

Every woman interested in this subject should know that preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by the use of

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Mrs. Maggie Gilmer, of West Union, S. C., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was greatly run-down in health from a weakness peculiar to my sex, when Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me. It not only restored me to perfect health, but to my delight I am a mother."

Mrs. Josephine Hall, of Bardstown, Ky., writes:

"I was a very great sufferer from female troubles, and my physician failed to help me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound not only restored me to perfect health, but I am now a proud

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pink-ham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

LIVED ON TEN CENTS A WEEK.

Bill Doolittle's System a Good One. But Not Attractive.

"D'y'u find smoking hurts y'u?" asks Hi Biddle, a Yankee lawyer, in Willie Brook's story, "The Solar Machine," in Harper's.

"It probably doesn't do me any good," I said; "but I'd have trouble quitting it.'

He took from his vest pocket the fellow to the stogey in his mouth and tossed it across the table to me. "Ever hear how Bill Doolittle lived on ten cents a week?" I confessed that Bill's economies had never been brought to my atten-

"Wal," said Biddle, "he took dinner with a friend on Sunday, and ate enough to last 'im till Wednesday Then he bought ten cents' wuth o' tripe, an' he hated tripe so like thunder that it lasted 'im the rest o' the week. These seegars work a good smokin' 'em, an' y'u won't want more'n one or two a day."

Not an Up-to-Date Church. Two colored sisters living in a suburban town met on the street one day, and Sister Washington, who had recently joined the church, was de scribing her experiences. "'Deed Mrs. Johnsing, I'se j'ined the Baptist church, but I couldn't do all the j'ining here, 'cause they had to take me to the city church to baptize me. You know there ain't no poolroom in the church here."-Success.

A Difficult Task. An old Irish laborer walked into the luxurious studio of a New York artist and asked for money to obtain a meal, as he was too weak to work. The artist gave him a quarter and then, seeing possibilities for a sketch you a dollar if you'll let me paint you." "Sure," said the man, "it's an easy way to make a dollar, but, but-I'm wonderin' how I'd get it off."

Give Defiance Starch a fair trialtry it for botn hot and cold starching, and if you don't think you do better work, in less time and at smaller cost, return it and your grocer will give you back your money.

When a girl turns a fellow down he feels like a fool, but he may live to realize that she would have made a bigger fool of him by accepting him.

Lewis' Single Binder — the famous traight 5c cigar, always best quality. straight 5c cigar, always best quality. Your dealer or Lewis' Factory, Peoria, Ill.

Stealing time from sleep is a poor way to beat it.

