PRETTY IDEA FOR A WEDDING.

Child Attendants All Attired in Picturesque Costumes.

It is rare that an attempt is made to convert a small boy who takes part in a wedding procession into something picturesque. But it has just been done at a smart wedding in London, so brides-to-be take notice!

The costumes of all the children preceding the bride were copied from a picture by Hoppner.

DEWEY HAS YOUTHFUL CHUM

Ten-Year-Old Charlie Taft is Admiral's Great Friend.

Wouldn't it be nice, boys, to have a real, sure enough, big, live admiral for your best chum?

That is what Charlie Taft, ten-year-old son of the Republican candidate for president, has in Admiral George Dewey of Uncle Sam's big navy. The admiral is Charlie's next door neighbor.

Ten-Year-Old Charlie Taft is Admiral's Great Friend.

They're great chums, says the Toledo News-Bee. Charlie went to the Philippines with his father just when the admiral's fame was at its zenith. There he heard a whole lot about the admiral. The first thing he did when he returned was to go down to his home and ask for his autograph.

He got it. More than that, he won a staunch friend in the admiral. Since then he has visited him often, and they've taken many a carriage ride together. About a year ago the admiral moved down town next door to the Tafts. Since then Charlie and the admiral have become real chums.

Ten-Year-Old Charlie Taft is Admiral's Great Friend.

Charlie doesn't think half so much of the army as he used to, and he is disgusted with the idea of his father being elected president.

"I'd rather be in a big battle like you were," he told the admiral the other day, "than to be president a dozen times. I don't think much of being president, anyway. If we were to have a war do you think they'd let the president fight? Not much. All he could do would be to sit in the White House and read the dispatches."

Indication of Death. At the approach of death the thumb of the dying, as taken with some vague fear, takes refuge under the finger, which announces the near end. Man alone, because he has thumbs—that is to say, reason—knows death.
