Republican Candidates.

Only two weeks from next Tuesday and the campaign will be over. The Republican party of Sherman county this year is especially fortunate in having a most splendid ticket made up as it is of representative business men and substantial farmers, than whom there are none more worthy in the county.

For county clerk, the representative republicans of western Sherman have placed in the field Mr. Walt Weare a young business man of Litchfield, a thorough bookkeeper and accountant, fully competent to handle the office without a "show-me" deputy, and is the subject of the present demopop county clerk's frantic efforts to defeat. He is worthy and well qualified for the office.

For county treasurer, the republicans present Mr. Joseph Daddow of Clay township, one of our most substantial farmers, of some twenty-five or more years residence, and best thought of where best known. Joe Daddow is practically assured of election to the office of county treasurer.

George Holmes of Bristol township for county Judge is another substantial farmer and resident of Sherman county for over a quarter of a century. Mr. Holmes is a practical man of good educational qualifications, cool, clear headed, dispassionate, deep thinker, of unbiased nature and will take with him into the county judge's office good judgment most necessary for that trying judicial position.

And then there is that royal, tried and true executive of the law's demands, Uncle Lou Williams for sheriff. We couldn't add a word in favor of Sheriff Williams that all do not already know. He has made a model officer and will lead the ticket and be elected, with hundreds of votes to spare.

Mary A. K. Hendrickson for county superintendent of schools, Dr. A. S. Main for coroner, E. B. Corning for surveyor, and J. I. Depeu, Wm. Jacobs and J. H. Welty for supervisors, make up the balance of a Republican ticket the party may enthusiastically support and elected make an official family that will prove an honor to voters, party and people as well.

There seems to be quite a rivalry existing between Beushausen and Gibson as to which stands in the forefront as the most clever assassin of orthography and the king's English. Gibson has the count so far because of longer record, but Beush is recording laps rapidly and Gibson may soon be "skint" with Beush having many more rounds "fourth" coming. We make a little sprint occasionally, in the absence of our proof-reader, but easily distanced.

Beushausen seems to daub on all his war paint and give all his ghost dances in order to defeat Weare, the republican candidate for county clerk. Beush's Gibson ghost dance he seems to think most effective and works it over time. He chant's in mournful tones the story that Weare is Gibson's candidate, in the face of the white man's emphatic denial and knowing such plaintive Kickapo charge is untrue. Another of Beush's ghost dances and ki-yi, ki-yi whoops is that Weare is a socialist. Another exploded lie. A third and much exploited of these weird ghost dances is that Weare has been in the county but two or three years (awful horrible!) while Beush's man, through whom he hopes to be made deputy clerk, has been here "nigh onto forty years," ah! and that is given in Charley's frantic ghost dance as reason for turning down Mr. Weare and giving Beushausen two or possibly four more years at the public crib. That is good bread-and-butter reason for the Times turning its batteries wholly on Weare, isn't it? It is too unfortunately true that when a man gets to milking an official teat for a term or more, he hates to let go, and Charley is merely human; and besides he has a newspaper to support, too, and realizes what a help it is in the way of legal tips to be in the clerk's office. And thus Charley's ghost dances are indulged in as wished for winners.

Wear for County Clerk

Inasmuch as the candidacy of Walt Weare of Litchfield for the office of county clerk on the Republican ticket has given rise through the machinations of certain parties to the false and unfair statement that he is the personal candidate of George Gibson of Loup City, and placed in the field by him or through his influence, we, representative Republicans of the western part of the county, wish to brand such statements or insinuations to that effect as false, unfair, dishonest and made with the view of influencing such voters as are opposed to Mr. Gibson, against Mr. Weare. We brand the statements as false in every particular, and a species of dirty ward politics of the present county clerk, C. F. Beushausen, editor of the Times, at our county seat, assisted by his man, Friday, otherwise John Minshull, who are the principals in the circulation of such statements and insinuations. Signed:

It Means Money to Beush

Litchfield Monitor: Anent the discussion started by the Times-Independent of Loup City, to the effect that Walt Weare is a candidate of certain person or persons at Loup City for the office of county clerk, the Monitor wishes to enter an emphatic denial. Mr. Weare's candidacy arose from the demand of the Republicans of the western part of Sherman county for a candidate for one of the county offices, believing it was entitled to recognition on the official roster of the county. In the desire to have a representative from this section on the Republican ticket, several names were sprung by leading Republicans here, resulting in Mr. Weare being selected as their preferred candidate for the office to which he aspires. In this decision or selection, Mr. Gibson, Mr. Burleigh, nor any other man or set of men outside of this particular territory, had anything to do with it. Mr. Weare has the confidence and enthusiastic support of the west side of the county, and is entitled to the undivided support of the republican voters throughout the county. And the effort of the Times to drag the name of Mr. Weare into any factional differences or feeling which may exist is manifestly unfair, and smacks of contemptible dishonesty in politics.

The only fight made so far on the Republican candidates by County Clerk-Editor Beushausen of the Times is on Walt Weare, Republican candidate for county clerk. Why? The problem is easy. Beush wants the office to remain under his control. If Walt Weare gets in, the Times man will not be in position to get next on the tips of the office for the benefit of his democratic newspaper, which he works over-time now. He will not be able to get first on legal papers filed; he will not be so able to send forth abstract of title tips; he will not be able to use the office to feather his newspaper nest; he will simply be placed with his paper on one common business plane with his competitors. Is it any wonder Beush is centering a frantic fight on Weare?

Phone A. T. Conger, 3 on 62, when in need of a drayman.

We beg pardon of the Times editor in last week neglecting one of his demands "fourth" coming. But we notice that in this he does not deny he is to be deputy clerk, if his man Dietereichs is elected, so "what's the use" of our authority to be "fourth" coming, or even once coming?

The Northwestern has refrained from making any fight on the fusion candidates, using them as gentlemen and entitled to fair treatment. The Times, however, has seen fit to use the old, exploded, buncombe style of tactics, insinuations, falsehoods and prejudicial stuff, trying to array factional feelings among republicans, working long-resident voters against new coming voters, and directing his almost entire mud battery against Walt Weare, the republican candidate for county clerk. Will the voters allow Beushausen and his Times to prejudice them into defeating Mr. Weare, by the falsehoods of his being a Gibson-made candidate and a socialist, or prejudice them against him by citing the fact that he is a comparatively new comer, only having been here but a few short years?

Ready for the Carnage
Foot ball time is nearly here. A few more weeks will mark the open season for maniacs. The pup kids at the High school will speak of nothing else and the business colleges are planning to play teams of ten men in order to enter them as shorthand elevens (shoddy pun). But after all the classy preparations are being made at Creighton, where the real game is played; copper toes are being fitted to the foot ball shoes, all the players' teeth are being filed to a razor edge and all hands have been measured for brass knucks. Candidates are drilled in the harmless games of elbow gouge and foot-in-the-face. A rag dummy has been fitted up so that players can practice the difficult, but necessary, stunt of taking a long running jump and alighting with both knees in the stomach of this imaginary opponent. The happy suggestion from the fertile brain of a valuable alumnus that each player be equipped with a meat axe has been abandoned solely because the extra weight might retard the speed of the player. A list of competent umpires available for the season has been kindly furnished by the superintendent of the State Institute for the Blind. We look forward to a successful season of jolly little murders.--From the Omaha Weekly Bunion.

Selecting Seed Corn

Now is the time to go into the corn field and select the seed for next spring's planting. There are several reasons why seed should be selected at this time. A study of the growing ear on the stalk is very important. The contrast in height of stalk and height of ear will be found to reproduce in a marked degree from year to year. In eastern Nebraska four feet from the ground is a desirable height for the ear, while farther west in the state the distance will gradually diminish. The size and length of the shank should be taken into consideration. A large shank shows a lack of breeding and is usually accompanied by a large cob. A very slender shank will sometimes break and allow the ear to fall to the ground before it is picked. An upright ear is to be criticised, as rain enters the husks and favors rotting. The stalk should be studied. A weak and slender stalk is undesirable. A stalk large at the base, gradually tapering indicates strength and vigor. Too much foliage is not desirable. Such a corn plant will make good fodder but does not usually produce the best ear. The maturity of the ear should be considered. Those showing early signs of maturity should be selected, even if they are a little smaller than other ears which are slow in maturing. By going through the fields at this time and selecting three times more seed than will be needed, and hanging it up where it will dry thoroughly, before freezing weather, will also insure seed with strong germinating power. During the winter the seed can be gone over carefully, and those ears having undesirable features and low germinating power can be thrown out.
