Quite naturally that damaging cloudburst at Tabasco, Mex., was "hot stuff."

Game is reported scarce in Maine, but there are plenty of guides to blaze away at.

Halley's comet is beginning to look brighter, and so is general trade in this country.

Japan has possession of Korea, but it is still paying installments on the purchase price.

Something like 2,000 years ago Greece ruled the world; now it cannot rule itself.

Those who care for that sort of thing can look forward to a busy winter of pugilistic gossip.

The pennican that has to be cut with an ax and the igloos that have to be built by the ice man will never become popular in this country.

All the freight cars in the country are in use, but the loads they carry have not been marked down so far as the ultimate consumer is concerned.

Now it is Bulgaria which is facing a crisis. The day in which some of the governments of the world do not face a crisis is a very dull one in contemporary history.

An actor in a Toronto music hall was stricken with blindness in the middle of a song. It might have been better all around had his audience been stricken with deafness.

It is announced that Count Zeppelin is planning to fly from France to New York in his dirigible. It will be a perfectly safe proposition if he does not do any more than merely to plan.

Princess Victoria Louise of Prussia has been appointed colonel of the Death's Head Hussar Regiment. This has no bearing upon the military situation in Europe. Its point lies in the fact that the princess can now wear a hussar jacket with dolman, trimmed in black astrachan and silver; a fur bushy with silver decoration; gowns to correspond.

Another indication is furnished of the growth of liberalism in China. An imperial edict has been issued recognizing the forthcoming provincial assemblies. These assemblies will create the imperial assembly, charged with the duty of preparing a constitution for the nation. This is the first step taken by the government looking to actual effort in behalf of constitutionalism.

One of the big New York banks has issued a circular criticizing the designs of the latest $20, $10 and $5 gold pieces, saving the coins may be artistic in appearance but are subject to abrasion to an extent which is objectionable. However, the average person into whose possession they come is not likely to object to the design so long as he can get enough of the coins.

China has made another advance toward liberal rule. The government is preparing plans for electing an imperial assembly, which will consist of an upper and a lower house. A number of provincial assemblies are already in existence, and they are giving hearty support to the government's progressive policies, including the suppression of the opium traffic. The new regime in China seems to have made a fair start.

There does not seem to be any doubt that the rally season has begun in the Philippines. Following the destructive typhoon in Luzon 13 inches of rain fell in nine hours and 26 inches in 24 hours. There was a rise of 60 feet in the Bued River. This beats all storm records in that quarter, and so suggests what might be done in the way of conservation could that surging water be stored up and kept against the need of a dry period.

It is not necessary for the youngsters to read dime novels to find heroes worthy of imitation. The ten-year-old New York "kid" who refused to keep quiet when burglars threatened him and who in his night dress chased the robbers until he landed them in the hands of the police is far nearer the real thing than any character that can be found in cheap literature. His exploit beat that of the ordinary "Daredevil Dick" clear out of sight.

A Greek war is deplorable, not only for the blood spilled, but for the curses it provokes in the proofroom of a newspaper over the unpronounceable names.

The scientists have notified changes on Mars which convince them that there has been a terrific convulsion on the planet, one result of which must have been to destroy all life, if any had existed there. Where is the daring aviator who will make a trip in that direction and ascertain just what has happened?

Many a man considers himself a hero for getting up and lighting the kitchen fire on a chilly morning, but he need expect no Carnegie medal for it.

The dean of a woman's college says that college women not only make the best wives, but also that they get the best-paid husbands. But it shows, too, the recklessness of the age that desirable men, who can pick and choose, are not afraid to adventure their lives and careers on scientific cookery.

Lincoln Has Corn Show. One of the important features of the State Corn Growers' show, to be held in the Lincoln Auditorium January 17-21, will be an exhibition of wheat. Up to date corn has always had precedence in both local and national shows, but the Nebraska Millers' association, realizing the importance of wheat to the state, has decided to assist in a movement toward increasing its quantity and quality. With this end in view the millers have arranged to co-operate with the Corn association and have offered a valuable trophy for the best exhibit of wheat, to be given at the annual show each year. Much of the widespread interest in corn throughout the state is due to the efforts of the state association. It is hoped that the society will be as successful with wheat.

In addition to the Millers' trophy several cash prizes for wheat exhibits have been offered. The Millers' trophy for sweepstakes, will be a large silver piece of a special design mounted on an ebony base. The base will be hollow and a sample of the winning exhibit will be kept in it and shown whenever the cup is on display. The trophy will be formally presented to the association at its annual banquet to be held in connection with the show. After this it will be awarded annually.

In the Matter of Shoes

By Julia Bottomley. American-made shoes have out-distanced those made anywhere else in the world in the race for excellence. This has been true so long that the American shoe in American shoe shops is sold everywhere. In points of style, finish and variety the American shoe is first and so far in the lead that there is no second. Even the French shoes strike the educated taste of our countrywomen as unshapely and uninteresting, almost wholly lacking in style.

Women have grown more fastidious in the matter of shoes and the advance of the manufacturers in variety of models produced, meets with a demand so ready that our mind is in doubt as to whether this demand was in existence before it was met, or not. At any rate, each season brings forth numbers of new models, and the styles in shoes are getting about as much attention these days as the styles in millinery.

Women have outgrown the foolish practice of pinching the feet, or wearing shoes unsuited to their individual needs. Such is the variety of lasts made that there is one for almost every foot. There are several "types" which are understood, and shoes are so cleverly cut by the manufacturers, so well thought out, that shapeliness is the effect in all the different models.

"Mansish" shoes are chosen for walking, having good substantial soles, heels moderately high and very strong, and a general appearance of strength and durability in the entire make-up. For such shoes, tans and blacks are naturally most popular. One may get them in brown, gun metal, or blood and probably a similar shoe in other colors. Kid and calfskin furnish the materials of the greatest number of models in street shoes. In Fig. 1 an ideal shoe for general wear is shown. It is as trim and sensible looking as the plain and handsome tailored gown, with which it is intended to be worn, and shows the same beauty and simplicity in cut, the same care in its finish. Such a pair of shoes, it goes without saying, almost, is the first essential in any woman's shoe-outfitting. These she must have—be she poor or rich. Happily, the price is not above the reach of any one. Two pairs of walking shoes, in good condition should be always on hand and worn alternately. One should keep the pair not in use, on shoetrees and in good shape as to cleanliness. Occasional attention to the heels, where there is a tendency to wear them off at one side, will prolong the life and keep the shape of the shoe. It is a good idea to have one pair with high tops so that the ankles will be protected in wet weather. Nothing repairs cars better than shoes. A shabby appearance is the fault of the wearer and any shoe man will tell us that proper care in keeping up the good appearance of shoes lengthens their term of service by half the usual time of wearing.

Street shoes are distinctly not for the house. A pair of slippers or a softer, dressier boot, should replace them indoors. This change is good for the shoe, for the wearer and for the floor. If one lives in a house with a summer atmosphere all winter, there is no reason why slippers should not be worn. A lovely slipper is shown in Fig. 2. Every woman should provide herself with such a pair. Most of all, the business woman, who is apt to come home fatigued from a trying or a monotonous day. A simple toilet finished with a dainty and comfortable pair of slippers. The "feel" of the light, flexible and womanish slipper seems to pervade one. It shows in the carriage and amounts to a positive refreshment. A little gown for evening wear at home should be of the same characteristics as this slipper, simple, pretty and most easily taken off and put on.

A dress shoe, is another essential to the wardrobe. This is lighter in make than a street shoe and a great variety of styles is shown to select from. Where the nurse allows only one pair a fine, plain, well-made kid boot, like that shown in Fig. 3, is the happiest choice. This model is cut on beautiful "classy" lines. One may buy it with patent leather tip or vamp, or in dull-finished kid. The moderate French heel is graceful and redeems the model from too severe lines, with just a hint of the frivolous in shoes. The cloth top shoe shown in Fig. 4 is for those who require a little more elaboration in a dress shoe, or for those who wish to match a costume. It is very quiet by comparison with the footwear of those ultra fashionable ladies who can indulge themselves in luxuries in shoes as well as other things. The cloth top has a velvet collar and is finished with a silk cord and tassels. The Cuban heel brings the design down to earth, as it were, so that milady may wear this boot on a clear day with a visiting gown, when she goes to pay her calls or to attend some of those gatherings for which she must "dress up" a bit. This beautiful boot is dressy enough for any occasion, and appropriate for any, except, perhaps, for dancing.

When one wanders into the realm of dress shoes a fascinating array charms the eye—revealing the varied demands of women of fashion. Shoes and slippers and sandals in bronze and gold and silver, more or less embellished with embroidery, fairly beckon one to study the alluring possibilities in dainty footwear. But this is another story. This fair-land of footwear appears to the eternal feminine and shows that the modern woman in remembering to be sensible in street shoes, has not forgotten to be romantic where she may.

For Rough Hands. Seaside water is sometimes very hard, and roughened hands are the result. A good lotion for softening and whitening the skin may be made from five cents' worth of water, five cents' worth of glycerine, two cents' worth of liquid ammonia and the juice of one lemon. Mix these ingredients well together, and shake the bottle thoroughly before using. Apply to the hands after washing, while they are still wet, and rub well in. Dry carefully with a soft towel.

Long Chains in Fashion. The desire for the Cartier watch, on its short enameled chain, has not abolished the fashion for the long watch chain, or the long chain without a watch for evening. These hang well below the waist and are made of semi-precious stones, as well as precious ones. The extra heavy twisted cable of gold, such as worn by gentlemen before the war, has returned to favor for women.

It is much in evidence, but the new chain for watches is a slender cord of oxidized silver with carved links of silver set in. Cameos are also revived, and the cameo bracelet is the thing in arm jewelry.

Knits—in fact, anything you wish to introduce in the way of stitchery is permissible, but the edging should be delicate. But, if you have not the time to embroider the pieces, you can join the design with white or colored cotton sateen. This work is done on the sewing machine with the use of a braider. Yellow linen over white curtains, outlined with white and a color tint, is most beautiful.

Needlework Decorative Schemes Help Much in Giving Pleasing Appearance to Chamber.

In the modern development no applied art is more interesting to women than needlework which goes to further a decorative scheme in the home. Feminine handwork is intimately associated with the home and, while a too lavish display is bad form, yet a certain amount adds a pleasing touch to the other decorations. Out of the dead past comes the womanly craft of making linen bed clothes, those covers with appliqued borders. If you have a bedroom which perchance lacks the proper note of decoration, you may be able this winter to turn your clever hands to the making of something in the way of overdraperies, such as bed covers, dresser scarves and the like. Creamy linens are used for the purpose and the applied design is white, cut from the linen and stitched to the cream. Crevel and knot stitches, set and long embroidery, French

They Didn't Have to Change. During the years in which our pure food laws have been put into effect there has been a great hurrying and scurrying on the part of the food manufacturers to change their methods to make them conform to the law.

The Quaker Oats Company is a conspicuous exception. It was admitted that Quaker Oats was as pure and clean as possible and that it was an ideal food.

It is so cheap that any one can afford it and so nourishing that every one needs it. The result of last year's experiments at Yale and other points where food values were tested is that Quaker Oats has been adopted by many persons as their food on which they rely for adding vigor and endurance of muscle and brain.

The Quaker Oats Company meets all demands in the way it packs Quaker Oats, regular size packages and the large size family package; the latter, both with and without china.

SKIN ROUGH AS BARK. Baby Boy Had Intense Itching Humour—Scatched Till Blood Ran.—Found a Cure in Cuticura.

"Our son, two years old, was afflicted with a rash. After he suffered with the trouble several weeks I took him to the doctor but it got worse. The rash ran together and made large blisters. The little fellow didn't want to do anything but scratch and we had to wrap his hands up to keep him from tearing the flesh open till the blood would run. The itching was intense. The skin on his back became hard and rough like the bark of a tree. He suffered intensely for about three months. But I found a remedy in Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. That was more than two years ago and there has not been the slightest symptom of it since he was cured. J. W. Lauck, Yukon, Okla., Aug. 28 and Sept. 17, 1908."

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help.

That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half-a-million women, in a practice of over 43 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases.

Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them.
