How severe was the cold you got?
Why should a good barber want to pose as a writer?
Soon they'll be cracking jokes about the fellow that rocks the airship.

New York hotels are crowded. No wonder champagne has gone up.

King Manuel of Portugal is looking for a wife to help keep his throne from rocking.

Uncle Sam now possesses the fastest big battleship in the world, but feels as peaceful as ever.

Don't be lazy this winter, else you may be seized and put under a machine that detects hookworms.

What if butter does sour if one has the money to buy it and the bread to spread it on? Everything is looking up.

A super-super Dreadnought is to have a displacement of 30,000 tons. It may soon be necessary to widen the ocean.

It is claimed that life can be sustained in New York city on 13 cents a day, but few are willing to test the matter.

Late returns from New Jersey indicate that the mosquitoes carried the entire state in spite of the cool weather.

An astronomer says Mars is surrounded by a "gloomy veil." What a striking resemblance to the push headquarters!

The turbine type of engine seems to have scored a great triumph in the builders' trial test of the battleship North Dakota.

The taxicab is now up against the jinrickisha in Japan, and it is not winning so easily as it did in the contest with the horse.

The camera is conscienceless in the hands of a conscienceless man, whether he be on the top of a mountain or in the depths of the sea.

The three-year-old Boston boy who has mastered the primer in two weeks will be in Browning before his playmates are out of pinafores.

The railroads have the honor to report that there are no longer any empty freight cars standing on the sidings. Prosperity has "come."

Women who wear big hats find little satisfaction in the declaration of a teacher that men have a right to laugh at such pieces of headgear.

An English workhouse has transferred all its snoring contingent to the deaf dormitories. The humanitarian movement is widening on all sides.

The secret society man who gave the sign of distress to the jury which was trying his case, has rightly now an opportunity to test the same upon a jailer.

The queen of Holland has invented an improved baby carriage. Over in Holland the best people continue to regard it as worth while to raise babies.

This country never did dread any foe that it might have to face, so that its possession of the greatest Dreadnought ship is typical of its characteristic attitude.

A Chicagoan has won the title of a model husband. Doubtless he did the thrashing of the children himself, instead of throwing the burden on an overworked wife.

Something surely is doing in this country when one of the New York trunk lines of railroads finds its traffic for September and October greater than in any two months of its previous history, and is able to expend $85,000,000 for new equipment and betterments.

The new tennis court at the White House occupies a place near the large fountain on the south lawn and a perfect view of it may be obtained at all times from the portico and windows of the White House. Thus if the president plays, Mrs. Taft can sit in a rocking chair at the window with her sewing and watch him nimbly hopping around to meet the ball.

The announcement that the Culebra cut is half completed foreshadows the finish of the Panama canal. The cut is through "the backbone of the hemisphere," the ridge which passes down and connects the "three Americas."

The work there has been steadily pushed under the supervision of the American engineers, who took up the task the French excavators left undone. Assurance that the cut will be completed in four years strengthens belief in the assertion that the canal will be ready for operation by 1915.

Will South America never learn that the revolutions are a dangerous foe to its progress?

The curative properties of radium have been for sometime recognized, but the expense involved has placed the treatment far beyond the reach of the average man. Every encouragement, therefore, is to be given the movement undertaken by scientists to establish such treatment under charitable auspices. It will be another step forward in ameliorating the ills of humanity.

Again a court has sustained a woman's right to search her husband's pockets. Of course, if they find anything there, women do not ask advice of the courts. They take both the right and the contents.

Comparatively few guides have been shot by mistake so far this year down in the Maine woods. We don't know whether this is because the guides have learned the wisdom of wearing red shirts when they go into the woods or because they have learned to dodge.

The government surveyors have finished the work of surveying for the proposed drainage project along the Nemaha river in Johnson county. It is said the surveyors found that the river snakes through the country a distance of nearly seventy miles, from the northwest to the southeast line.

At a banquet given by the Kearney Commercial club to its members exclusively, a strong bid for home support was made in an effective way and the banqueters during the four hours spent at the heavily laden tables never for a moment lost sight of the central idea. Every article on the bill of fare, from salad to cigars, was grown or manufactured in Buffalo county.

The president of the Kearney Commercial club has appointed W. F. Smith, J. G. Lowe, Will J. Scott, C. W. Hoxie and W. L. Hand to represent the Commercial club on a committee of ten to look after the interests of Kearney in the matter of the proposed Dakota, Kansas and Gulf railroad which is now being surveyed.

Getting Delinquent List Ready. Walker Smith, corporation clerk in the office of the secretary of state, is busy checking up the corporations which paid their occupation tax on the last day allowed them by law.

Beefsteak Toast. Chop cold steak fine and put into a stewpan with a lump of butter and water to more than cover. Boil 20 minutes, then stir in a well-beaten egg. Season with salt and pepper and pour over toast. Serve hot.

Bread and Butter Pudding. Spread with butter two slices stale baker's bread, cut about one inch thick; make a custard of one egg and one pint of milk. Salt, sugar and flavor to taste. Pour over the bread and bake 20 minutes.

ON BUSINESS BASIS. The Adjutant General's Office Issues an Order.

In order to put the militia companies of the state on a more businesslike basis the adjutant general's office has issued the following order, No. 24:

"First—From and after January 1, 1910, commanding officers will make report to this office on blanks furnished a strict account of all expenditure of funds furnished by the state for the maintenance of headquarters or companies.

"Second—No money shall be paid from such funds except on receipt properly signed and forwarded with above report.

"Third—When commanding officers expend more money in the maintenance of their commands than is furnished by the state, they will note upon each report the purpose and amount of such expenditure and the source from which such money was obtained, but receipts need not be furnished for such expenditure."

Heretofore the custom has been not to require any accounting whatever as to the expenditure of state money. The late order will make for efficiency by giving the adjutant a chance to offer suggestions as to the proper disbursement of state funds. It also assures that in the future all money will be properly applied, besides showing how much it is costing the state to maintain the different companies. On an average each company of the guards receive about $100 annually from the state.

A Day of Grace.

Secretary of State Junkin has decided to grant a day of grace to the 4,000 or so corporations that omitted to pay their occupation tax on or before 4 p. m., November 20.

He will check over the entire list of delinquents, which will require a week or more and in the interim the bad boys may walk up and plunk down their little dimes and get a clear bill. But those who are unpaid by the time the secretary gets his lists checked up—well, the law is that they shall lose their franchises or charters for failure to come across by November 30.

Secretary Junkin thought inasmuch as it was a new law and probably galled a few fat necks, it would be wise to go slow in revoking charters, but he is going to start on that list soon.

Governor on the Board.

Governor Shallenberger's friends are pleased to learn that he was elected to the board of directors of the American Shorthorn association at the Chicago meeting. This is the first instance in which Nebraska has been recognized by a membership, and it is expected that the shorthorn industry of the state will be benefited by the representation.

Last year an effort was made to have the animal show rotated between the states of Minnesota, Iowa and Nebraska, thereby making it possible for Nebraska breeders to make a showing nearer home, at least once in three years. Nothing was done by the previous board in the direction of carrying out this request, but with representation on the new board, western interests will undoubtedly receive greater attention and it is hoped the plan can be carried out.

Phone Must Be Installed.

Some time ago a complaint was lodged with the state railway commission in regard to the joint office of the Pacific and American Express companies at Norfolk. It was alleged that the two companies refused to install an independent telephone, greatly to the inconvenience and discomfort of patrons. The commissioners heard the evidence and although they could not figure out all the inconvenience complained of, under the law they held that all they could do was to order the installation of an independent telephone.

Accordingly it was ordered that the two companies get busy and install the service requested within twenty days. Twenty days have since gone by without any steps being taken to comply with the order, so the commissioners have instructed the county attorney to bring proceedings to enforce the law.

Test of Telephone Act.

The county attorney of Madison county has been instructed to begin prosecution against the Adams and Pacific Express companies for refusing to comply with the orders of the railway commission instructing them to install an independent telephone in their office at Norfolk. The case is to test the law.

Objects to Cigarette Smoking.

Attorney General Thompson has received a letter from a public teacher at Schuyler asking him to use his office in preventing the public smoking of cigarettes. This teacher writes that such occupation ruins the health of the person working at it, and also that of those who have to sit next to him or be with him during the operation.

Cut Down Printing Bill.

The State Normal board next year probably will print one big catalogue containing the course of study for the normal schools in place of a publication for each school. Next year the board expects to have four normal schools under its control and for that reason the printing bill will amount to considerable. By publishing a course of study for all of them the board expects to cut down its printing bill considerably and will work out the proposition in a way satisfactory to themselves.

The Burlington railroad has secured permission from the state railway commission to put into effect a reduction in rates on overalls, shirts and waists made of duck, drill, denim or gingham, unlined, partly finished or finished, in any quantity, from Omaha to Plattsmouth.

Fur to Match Gown. Among the fads this season is that of dyeing the fur to match one's gown. It would make a biologist shudder to see the colors the skins of some animals are made to assume.

Mourning Millinery

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

TWO lovely examples of mourning hats are pictured here made of the materials most favored for mourning wear, crape and silk grenadine. The hat of English crape, shown in Fig. 1, is a perfect example of the milliner's art using this exquisite material as a means of expression. The entire hat is covered with crape, the brim made of narrow parallel folds. The crown has wide folds for its covering also a drape of crape with a large buckle of dull jet, serve as a mounting for the pompon of down feathers and aigrette mounted at the left side.

In shape, this hat is graceful and of a kind that will not soon be out of style. Such shapes should be selected for mourning, as good mourning fabrics are very durable and will outlast the accepted periods of mourning, if well selected. English crape should be chosen, as it is manufactured to withstand moisture which is ruinous to crapes not protected against it. In this particular fabric, the English excel all other manufacturers and the great modistes who specially design mourning use this crape. It is the most beautiful of the fabrics used for mourning.

Silk grenadine is equally popular, although not universally recognized as first mourning. There is much latitude in the selection of fabrics, however, and many persons prefer grenadine to any other. The hat and veil shown in Fig. 2 are of this beautiful fabric. It is also of English manufacture, although the English send to various parts of the world—including America—for the materials necessary to make and dye both crape and grenadine. This material is manufactured waterproof. This is very necessary in order that the rain or snow may not spot the grenadine. One can easily test the material by immersing it in water. If properly made the dye will not run and the fabric will remain unchanged. Crape should be subjected to the same test. The crimp is not affected by water and its color remains unchanged.

VISITING DRESS.

Yoke of tuck silk, which is also trimmed with braid and small buttons. The sleeve is long, tight-fitting, and trimmed to match.

Hat of black beaver, trimmed with a feather mount.

Materials required: 6 1/2 yards cloth 48 inches wide, 4 dozen yards braid, 1/2 yard tuck silk.

NOW THE ROBIN HOOD HAT

Style That Divides Favor with What is Known as the Prairie, of Felt and Suede.

Millinery is one of the most important features in the toilette of the woman who wishes to be well dressed, and to-day the cult of the plain hat is as carefully considered as the elaborate, the subject being as inexhaustible as the budget itself. The craze for beaver still continues, but it is safe to predict that as the winter approaches black will lead the van, adorned with cinnamon and royal blue ostrich plumes for visiting and velvet for morning wear. The Robin Hood hat is the latest shape to make its debut carried out in this charming material. As will be remembered, the hat worn by the famous outlaw of this name was turned up on one side, had rather a high crown, and was trimmed with two long quill-like feathers. The smart mondaine, although retaining the shape, has substituted a rosette of tinsel and a tuft of breast plumage for the feathers. For traveling it will divide honors with the prairie hat, which is fashioned of felt and relieved with a band of suede of a contrasting shade.—From the Tatler.

Gobelin Green Again. The hats of this winter will again show that entrancing shade of green known as gobelin. It will be used in thick, short plumes and thick long ones, but not in ribbons or moire.

Twenty-Inch Rope of Pearls. The fashion in length for a string of pearls has changed. It was once 14 inches, then 16; now the correct string must measure 20 inches.

TO BE A SEASON OF SERGE

Every Kind of This Material Is in Favor, But the Wide Wale Is Best Liked.

There will be a run upon serge this winter. It has always been a stock material. This year the weave is utterly unlike anything we have had. There were a few patterns of it last winter, to be accurate, but this year there are a great number, a bit rougher than before.

The woman who reads that serge is in fashion, and then buys the kind that she used to wear, the kind that men's suits are made of, has thrown away money. The weave this year is the wide wale kind, the wider the better. The cord in the new serge is heavy and rough, and the marking has a good deal of character about it.

Golden Feather. It can be made of an old quill from which the battered feathers have been stripped. Gold lace is sewn as a scant ruffle on each side, the end being slightly pointed.

You have no idea how effective this is on a fur turban. From this idea a departure into the realms of silver, bronze or jeweled lace can be made, and at little cost.

This quill, with a band of braid or lace to match, will furnish sufficient trimming for a velvet or fur toque.

Shadow Lace. This is new, and because of its unobtrusive pattern can be used in great quantities without fear of over-decoration.

The pattern is woven in such a way that an uncertain shadow effect is produced. It is especially lovely in black and cream. The black shadow lace is used over black net and a white satin underslip. The cream is effective over pale tints in evening gowns.

NOT HAVING ANY.

Bertie—But, my dear, there's no harm in a kiss.
Nellie—No. Well, but then, where's the fun?

SUFFERED TERRIBLY.

How Relief from Distressing Kidney Trouble Was Found.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wolf, 388 W. Morgan St., Tipton, Mo., says: "Inflammation of the bladder reached its climax last spring and I suffered terribly. My back ached and I could hardly get around and the secretions were scanty, frequent of passage and painful. I was tired all the time and very nervous. I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, and after taking a few boxes was cured and have been well ever since."

The Exception. In a home where the mother is somewhat aggressive and the father good-natured and peace-loving, a child's estimate of home conditions was tersely expressed the other day. While dressing, the mother paused in the act of putting on her shoes and said: "I certainly am easy on shoes, I have worn these for four months. I don't know what you would do, John, if I were not. I am easy on everything." The little girl looked up from her dolls and remarked: "Except father."—Success.
