John Peterson from Benson, this state, has leased a section of land near his brother, Frank Peterson, a few miles east of Loup City, and on Monday arrived with his family and household goods to take possession. He was quite an extensive farmer at his former home, and will prove a valuable addition to Sherman county.
We received a pleasant call on Wednesday from Mr. Nielson of Rockville, the gentleman who was appointed member of the county board, vice R. M. Hiddleston, who was elected county treasurer. Mr. Nielson is a business man of Rockville, and we believe will make a first-class supervisor. We congratulate the people on his selection.
Mr. James McBeth who purchased the Sam Daddow farm on Wiggle Creek, six miles south of town some time since, arrived from Polk county with his family the first of the week and took charge of his new farm. Our people will cordially welcome Mr. McBeth and family to a future home in the best county and among the best people in the state.

Gus Lorentz received a telegram last Saturday morning announcing the sad news of the death of his good mother that morning, in Denver, at 6:30 o'clock. As will be remembered, Mr. Lorentz was called to her bedside only a few days ago, and came home leaving her much improved in health, but it seems her constitution was so undermined by her illness caused by appendicitis, that though she would rally at times, it was only temporary, and her death came suddenly as announced. Owing to business engagements, it was impossible for Mr. Lorentz to attend the funeral, which was arranged for the day following her death. Mrs. Maja L. Lorentz was 62 years of age and was the mother of eight children—two daughters and two sons with her in Denver, two daughters and a son in Aurora, and Mr. Gus Lorentz, our fellow townsman. Mrs. Lorentz lost her husband some three years ago. We have no further data of information in regard to the deceased. Our people will deeply sympathize with Mr. Lorentz in his irreparable loss.

$5.00 reward for the man who shot and killed my bird dog.
T. H. ELSNER.
Henry Kuhl received the prize doll at Gasteyer's last week, given to the customer purchasing the largest bill of goods at any one time.
Engineer O'Bryan left for Omaha, Monday morning, to take treatment at the hospital for physical ailments and the injury received by falling from his engine, as noted in an item elsewhere on the local page this week.
Mrs. John O. Douglas and baby returned last Friday from a week's visit with relatives and friends at Vilisca, Iowa. They would have prolonged their visit, but John couldn't get along without seeing the imperialist of his household.
Prof. J. F. Nicolson is at Culbertson, Hitchcock county, this state, in charge of the real estate business of Gunnarson & Zimmerman, who have established a business there. Mrs. Nicolson is still here and will not join her husband for the present.
We want to congratulate the members of the Presbyterian choir on the excellent rendition of the beautiful anthem, "God shall charge His holy Angels," as given by them last Sunday morning. There is nothing more attractive in a church service than good music.
The old county board met last week Wednesday and closed the unfinished business of the year in a couple of days and passed out of existence. On Tuesday of this week, the new board of supervisors convened and are at present hustling along the business lines for the new year.
Rev. Shuman, Congregational clergyman at Arcadia, filled the pulpit of the Presbyterian church in this city last Sunday morning, by request of the church, and gave a very interesting discourse. Our Presbyterian friends have not as yet decided on whom to call to their recently organized church at this place, and are extending invitations to nearby clergy to preach to them each succeeding Sabbath, until they give a call to a regular pastor.
Those who had noticed the big show windows at Gasteyer's one day during the holiday rush, might have seen the picture of Buster Brown and his dog Tige in all their glory, while the next day, while Buster was in good condition only the remnants of poor Tige lay scattered all about, the sequel of the uneven fight between a pet shepherd pup belonging to the store and the famous canine of the Bee supplement. It was a sight to make the gods weep.
The basket social at the Baillie school house last Friday evening is reported to THE NORTHWESTERN as a very successful affair. Quite a goodly number were in attendance, the baskets sold well, the receipts being some $21, and as many more could have been disposed of, while the excellent music by the McKinnie brothers was the crowning act of the whole evening. All in all, those present could not have been better pleased with an evening's entertainment.
Messdames W. R. Mellor and J. W. Long leave for Chicago next Monday morning. Mrs. Long to make a protracted visit there, while Mrs. Mellor a few weeks later will go to Southport, North Carolina, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Rawson, to visit a brother there. W. R. Mellor accompanies them as far as Lincoln, where he goes to attend a meeting of the State Board of Agriculture, and where they will visit a few days before going on to Chicago.
While THE NORTHWESTERN's local man was doing the hot-foot act after news, last Saturday noon, he spied what to him looked like a young couple upon wild-eyed matrimony intent, but what was his agony to later find it was only the delightful tete-a-tete along lover's lane of a prominent young disciple of Blackstone and a beautiful and accomplished wielder of the birch over refractory youths. Never will the pusher of the quill again see so promising an item of Cupid's work meet so unsatisfactory a fulfillment.
Last week we received a characteristic letter from our good friend, W. H. Kennedy, who is now at Marengo, Ohio. It is too good to keep, and running the risk of his shooting us on sight, we append a portion of his letter as follows: "Dear Bro. Burleigh; I take this opportunity to remit the necessary guilders to insure the weekly visitations of the glorious old NORTHWESTERN for another year. I can't keep house without it, and of all the papers that reach this bachelor domicile, I prize it most highly. The extra 25c does not determine the size of my purse very much, for I sold a half bushel of 'paters' and a peck of 'inyns' yesterday, hence this speedy remittance. Tomorrow will be New Year's, and may it prove the most pleasant year of your life. I will remember when I first met you at the St. Elmo, and those early impressions remain unchanged. I am well and contented, but should dearly love to grasp the hands of those make old Loup City boys. I hope to see you a visit some time next fall. kindest regards to your family and all inquiring friends." The worst thing we know about W. H. is that he is still a bachelor—but while their life, there's hope.

Bring your harness to Draper Bros. and have them oiled before the rush.
Mrs. S. M. Wilson, living six miles north of Loup City, was reported quite ill last Saturday.
Draper Bros. are selling their stock of buggies at cost, to make room for new goods arriving. If you don't believe it, call and get their prices.
Miss Rose Mulick returned to her school at Columbus last Saturday. Mrs. M. C. Mulick accompanying her daughter as far as Grand Island, where they both visited friends over Sunday.
Bro. Brown, in his best bib and tucker, hid away to Arcadia, Monday evening to attend the musical entertainment in our sister town, and returning Tuesday morning reported it finer than silk.
The Presbyterian congregation organized a Sabbath school last Sunday morning, with a very flattering attendance. Ward VerValin was made superintendent, Miss Lizzie Leininger secretary, and Miss Edna Minshull treasurer.
S. A. Pratt on last Friday sold his billiard and pool room business to H. C. Rawding of Sargent. Mr. Pratt has not determined as to future business. Mr. Rawding will move his family here as soon as he finds a suitable residence.
Wednesday afternoon of last week, while Engineer Joe O'Bryan was going around the footboard on his engine, at St. Paul, he slipped on the pilot, falling on the rails in front in such a manner as to seriously injure his back. He will be off duty for a week at least.
Clark Reynolds, who came back from San Diego a few weeks since, will leave in a few days for some point west, not yet determined upon. Clark will not return to San Diego, that much he has determined, but just where he will pitch his tepee will be settled as he travels westward.
There is good prospect that Johnson & Lorentz will this coming spring build a fine $7,000 two-story brick building on the site of their present frame business house. They are now figuring with Ohlsen Bros and it is practically assured that the contract will be awarded at an early date.
Whoever receives the call from the Presbyterian church here to fill the pastorate will receive a very handsome salary, and will undoubtedly be a very talented man, as they have already raised the amount of proposed salary to $1,000, with excellent prospects of making it fully up to $13,000. They propose to get the very best man possible.
Gus Lorentz left Monday morning on a goods buying trip to St. Joe, St. Louis and Chicago, where he goes to lay in a big stock of clothing, dry goods, boots and shoes. Gus tells us that he will put in a full stock of all kinds of dry goods and has ordered a big stock of the noted "Julia Marlowe" shoes and when his new goods arrive he proposes to cut loose and go after a big trade. Watch his adv. from week to week.
We are indebted to the following good friends for renewed subscriptions the past week: W. T. Gibson, for himself and H. F. Gibson of Bedford, Pa., Henning Clausen, Adam Zahn, Peter Larson, Johnson & Lorentz, Chas. Kalka, O. F. Petersen, Clark Reynolds, A. S. Weidnecdt of Pasadena, Calif., John and Henry Ohlsen, W. T. Chase, C. Nielson of Rockville, W. Moon for himself and C. H. Callahan of Kansas City.
John W. Long is prepared to make all Real Estate Loans on short notice at lowest rates.
In a letter to Dr. Long from Mrs. Fickes, dated Los Angeles, Jan. 2, she reports Mr. Fickes as doing fairly well, having gained in weight and strength. The weather has been extremely cold in California during the winter so far, much damage being done by the frost, something that has never been known to occur in the history of the state. It is Mr. Fickes' intention to move to North Dakota in the early spring, as he prefers living in a state where the extremes of heat and cold are not so marked as in California.
A good 400-acre farm, well improved, for sale by John W. Long, $25 per acre.
A NORTHWESTERN representative overheard the following conversation on the streets last Saturday afternoon between two members of a certain township school board: "Ten dollars for a dickshenry, eh? Shout for one book! Py Got! That would py books for all of them. That skule teacher ought to have all the words in her head, py Got; that's what she's there for—to know that stuff. They ain't used to them kind of books, ennyhow, py Got." This is substantially the words used, and tells in too glowing phraseology the "stuff" too many school directors are made of. Speed the day when none but educated men may be placed in such position of trust.
