Recognizing this growing disposition on the part of the public, and satisfied that the fullest publicity can only add to the well-earned reputation of his medicines, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has "taken time by the forelock," as it were, and is publishing broadcast a list of all the ingredients entering into his leading medicines, the "Golden Medical Discovery" the popular liver invigorator, stomach tonic, blood purifier and heart regulator; also of his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, over-worked, brokendown, nervous and invalid women.

Queen Victoria's Cats.

Queen Victoria was a great lover of cats, and when the court moved it was accompanied by a regular caravan of cats. Persian, Manx. Angora, Maltese and tabby cats all traveled in state to Balmoral, Osborne, Windsor or Buckingham palace, as the case might be. One Persian cat, of which the Queen was particularly fond, wore around her neck a collar, on which appeared in silver letters the inscription, "I belong to the queen."

Ducks Like Men.

"Ducks, their characters, virtues and history," are the subject of an article in the London Spectator. The duck, says the writer, is very like the average man, hating what he does not understand. An anecdote is given to point the remark. "A drake was suspected of murdering a meritorious hen, solely because he objected to her color. It was unlike his family's, so he slew her."

Table Manners.

Many things are not taught at school at the present day because they are declared to be obsolete, and some of us suspect that table manners are among them. If not how are we to account for the ungraceful manipu lation of knife and fork that we wit ness so frequently, and the misuse of tableware generally, which is at times almost barbaric?-Ladies' Pictorial.

CALLED CONDUCTOR A TYRANT. Son of Italy Saw Freedom Rapidly

Disappearing.

There is a little horse car that runs through a lower East Side street. Up to a few days ago it carried, besides passengers, baskets, boxes and numerous other things that took up so much room as to be in the way of people getting on and off the car. An inspector noticed this and reported it to the office of the car company. The following day the conductors were notified that no person was to be permitted to ride upon the car with a package too large to be held upon the lap. As a result a great deal of trouble to the conductors ensued. The climax was reached when two Italians attempted to board a car with a huge oblong box about six feet high. They had almost succeeded in getting it on the back platform when the conductor, who, at the time was collecting and they could not ride on the car with it. The Italians remonstrated and said they would pay an extra fare for the box. The conductor refused. The Itallans insisted and quite an argument started. Finally, amid the loud curses of the Italians and the cheers of a crowd that had gathered, the conductor succeeded in getting the darkskinned fellows and the box off the platform and rang his bell twice.

As the car drew rapidly away one of the Italians exclaimed in disgust: "You calla dis a free country-a free country and dey won't even let a dead man ride on da car."-New York

ORIGIN OF SOME SALUTATIONS.

Are Not by Any Means Result of Mere Formality.

"The bow," said an antiquary, "orriginated in a cower. The weak savage, to save himself from being knocked down by the stronger one when they met, groveled upon the earth, and thus the bow arose.

"The lifting of the hat is of much later date than the bow. It is derived from the time when men wore armor. When two armor-clad knights met in those days and fell into talk they took off their helmets as a sign of mutual confidence. They exposed their heads to show that they respected and trusted each other, to show that neither were afraid of being brained. Hence the modern lifting of the hat, a salutation whose meaning is:

"I hold you in such reverence that without fear I place my life in your hands.

"On the same principle is the fashion of wishing health when drinking. In the olden days it was a favorite trick to hand a man a drink and plunge a knife into him when his features were hidden by the uplifted cup. So our ancestors hit upon the scheme of pledging each other that there would be 'nothing doing' while enjoying a mutual drink. From that comes our familiar 'Here's to you,' 'Happy days,' etc."

In Darkest Hours.

Jesus Himself drew near.-Luke 24:15 In darkest hours I hear a voice, Which comes my saddened heart Saying in tone of love.—"Rejoice!

Jesus is near!"

In times of trial and dismay, Through the dark gloom of doubt and fear, There breaks a light, like dawning day,— "Jesus is near!"

When years autumnal tokens bring, And fading hopes seem dry and sear Then bursts a bloom, like second spring-"Jesus is near!"

Thus, when at length the veil shall rise
Will my enfranchised spirit hear.
From angel-voices through the skies,—
"Jesus is near!"

Ardent Politicians. At a recent Liberal gathering in England a number of women, many of them quite young, displayed banners bearing the motto: "What are you going to do for the women?" As one of the fair young hecklers proceeded to unfurl her banner a handsome steward rushed forward. "Leave the masses and come to the particular," he said. 'What do you mean?" she demanded. A Critical Case of Rheumatism Cured

By Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. While Mr. W. S. Geisel, of No. 125 East Coates street, Moberly, Mo., was steadily working at his trade in a foundry at that place, he became the victim of an attack of rhenmatism, and his experience is that of thousands who are compelled to work in similar surroundings. He describes his situation as fol-

"I had been at work for a long time in a foundry where I was exposed to dampness. First my feet began to hurt and to swell, then my knees and my shoulder joints began to be affected in the same way. Finally I could not walk without great difficulty and suffering and had to stop work altogether. My appetite was feeble and I grew very pale and weak. I began to have pains about my heart and it fluttered a great deal. I became greatly alarmed about my condition. My mother knew about the virtues of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as they had given her back her health when she was nearly wasting to death, and when she found that they were good for rheumatism too, she began to give them to me about a mouth after I was attacked. That was in the early part of March, 1903, and by June they had driven away the pains and swelling and had restored my appetite and color. Then I felt strong enough to take up a line of outdoor work and now, in October, I regard myself as entirely well and I am about to go into a foundry again at St. Lonis.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills also cure other diseases springing from impure blood or disordered nerves, such as sciatica, locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis and all forms of weakness in male or female. They may be had at all druggists or directly from the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N.Y.

Theory of Heat and Motion.

The modern theory of heat and motion seems to have been quite clear to the mind of a Dutch professor named Van der Linden as early as 1642. In a medical treatise, written in Latin, the professor asserts his belief that the heat of the human body consists in the vibration of the most minute particles in its makeup.

"Manufactured Wool."

Manufacturers pleasantly name shoddy "manufactured wool." The term is speciously descriptive, for the material is made from the wools which have passed through the process of manufacture. Soft worsted rags of any kind-old stockings, or soft cloths made from long-stapled wools-are cleaned and torn into soft fluff in a macnine resembling somewhat the ordinary willow machine.

Steam in Its Infancy.

The first steamer to make a voyage across the western ocean was the Savannah of 350 tons and a length of 100 feet. She sailed from Savannah May 24, 1819, and arrived at Liverpool June 20. Her steam was purely auxiliary for when the wind was fair or the sea high the paddlewheels were unshipped and stowed on deck.

SIGNIFICANCE OF MONEY SIGNS.

English Terms Derived from Latin Broken Down, Like Many Another

Words-Dollar Mark. They were discussing the other afernoon the question of currency symools. The discussion had started by some one making a casual remark about "L. S. D.," referring, of course to "pounds, shillings and pence," says the Washington Star. The question arose why some of the coins were deno. ' by letters that had nothing at all to u "th their selling, and there was not on in the crowd, though there were some nominally well-informed people present, who could tell the significance of the letters till the question was looked up. It appeared that the pound sterling mark was simply a capital L. with a line drawn across the stem. It came from the Latin word "librae," meaning a pound. The "d" used for the penny came also from the Latin, meaning "denarius, originally a small Roman silver coin. but later having developed into a generic term for money and specifically for a small copper coin of insignificant value.

The "lb" mark, also used for the voirdupois pound, came from the same word "librae" as in Saxon times the pound avoirdupois was the same weight as a pound sterling of silver and the shilling was one-twentieth of this, making the old shilling too low for a tall man to stand in. about three times the size of the present one.

When it came to the dollar mark. $." there was more discussion, there being half a dozen explanations for this sign. But the most likely seemed to be that it was simply a modified figure "8," there having been eight silver reals in the old Spanish dollar, or "piece of eight," in use in this country long before the introduction of American currency.

Educating Children.

Forcing the youthful mind is a practice no longer obtaining in schools of the best standing but not yet obsolete in many of the common schools. In schools which represent the dominant ideas of education today, stimulation, interest, suggestion prevail, and driving is avoided. If there has been some leaning toward the prosaic, there is now a fresh interest in stimulating the emotions, and a full realization of the need of many things conventionally not classed among the useful, says Collier's Weekly. The greatest problem of education unsolved to-day relates to girls. Heretofore their education has been a mere copy of that long ago established for boys. Some day a genius will come along and conceive thoughts that shall form the basis of an education which shall help girls to all their best possibilities, without dissipating their strength on lines of effort established for natures in some respects entirely different.

The Maiden Love.

The meadows hide their summer green
Under a veil of gray;
A mist rolls o'er the sunny sheen;
It is a drear, dull day!
The dewdrops tip the blades with beads,
That shine like costly gems;
The roses hang their blushing heads
'Neath glittering diadems.

But, hark! a sound of silver bells, Echoing o'er the woody dells. A little laugh, a sweet clear voice Which makes my beating heart rejoice! She comes, a fairy from above, A little maid, whose name is Love!

The morning mist now rolls away.

The sky is bathed in light,
A golden sunshine crowns the day,
My loved one is in sight!
The birds sing out their songs again,
The flowers all bloom anew.
And music swells in joyous strain
From out the heavenly blue.

She comes, and everything is bright.
She comes amid the golden light,
All nature once again is gay,
It is the brightest summer day!
She comes—a fairy from above,
A little maiden whose name is Love!

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"About two years ago I was a great sufferer from a severe female trouble, pains and headaches. The doctor prescribed for me and finally told me that I had a tumor and must undergo an operation if I wanted to get well. I felt that this was my death warrant, but I spent hundreds of dollars for medical help, but the tumor kept growing. Fortunately I corresponded with an aunt inthe New England States, and she advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it was said to cure tumors.
